the Board of Trustees to at once take measures to contract for the erection of the proposed building to be erected at Nineteenth and Cherry Streets, and for which plans were prepared some two years ago by James H. ## OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

'Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost.'

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JULY 20, 1892.

One of the best evidences of the merits of the "Beekman Salutory System" of double flushing closets and noiseless cistern is the fact that they have been adopted for two of the principal buildings of the Columbian Exposition of 1893, to be held at Chicago, Ill. It is not generally known, but it is true nevertheless, that these two structures, Art and Horticultural Buildings of the Exhibition, are the only ones to remain permanently, and are to become the property of the city of Chicago. Therefore they will become permanent exponents of the many beneficial results that flow from a well regulated sanitary system of water closets. The main office of this company is located at 56 Beekman Street, New York, and a branch office has recently been opened in the Builders' Exchange of this city under supervision of Mr. Geo. H. Morgan.

The custom of insuring one's life has become so almost universal, that the man who neglects this wise provision, either for himself or for those depending on him, is happily the exception and not the rule. The main point is to select a company that approaches nearest to perfection in safety, reliability and a wise management of its affairs. The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, 921-23 and 25 Chestnut Street, does not pretend to be a "Jack of all trades," but to have devoted all of its energies and vast resources to the matter of insuring lives and has thus been enabled to reduce the cost to a minimum, while offering a maximum of advantages. Its business is wholly that of life insurance, to which it has devoted the thought, energy and labor of nearly half a century and this accumulated experience and wisdom of nearly fifty years is held as only the nucleus for further development, as the added years bring increased knowledge and experience. A marked feature of the plan pursued by the company, is that the business has been, and always will be conducted for policy holders by policy holders; and without doubt this has been a potent factor in the success which has followed the management from its inception to the present day; a success attained by careful and judicious business methods, which appeal to the good sense and prudence of the people, together with the happy faculty of keeping fully abreast with every real improvement and need of the times.

Among the many important and interesting buildings recently started in this city there is one of unusual interest from the particular purpose to which it is devoted. Some time since the trustees of the University of Pennsylvania authorized the building of a Hospital for Dogs, the architects appointed being Frank Miles Day & Brother.

Considerable time was taken for giving the plans, and the entire project the fullest consideration, in order to make the building the most complete and efficient of its kind in the world, which it will be, though the first in this country. There are several in Europe, a notable one being at Berlin which, in some particulars, this will resemble, though it will be larger and more complete.

Under the supervision of the architects it is now being erected in the grounds of the Veterinary Department of the University of Pennsylvania, in West Philadelphia and will be completed in September.

The exterior will be very attractive of Roman hydraulic pressed face-brick and pebble-dashing with Lake Superior red-stone trimmings, the roof being of unfading green slate. It will cover an area of about 65 x 50 feet.

There will be two stories and a basement, the latter to contain, besides the rooms for ordinary cellar purposes, a kitchen with every facility for cooking the food for the dogs, heating the water for the baths, etc.

On the first floor the commodious clinic room will open into the largest apartment, that for non-contagious cases. At either side of the latter will be the mange ward and the distemper ward, both being separated from it by heavy brick partitions, the communications with all other parts of the building from these wards being effected only by going outside and around.

In the three principal wards as also in the bath rooms connected with them, there will be polished granolithic pavements and the walls to a height of 5 feet, will be covered with 6-inch square, white enameled tiles. Above the tiling the walls and ceiling will be of adamant plaster. The dogs will be in separate cages upon wheels and may be thus removed for disinfection to the baths or clinic. From 50 to 60 of these cages will probably be in use.

There will be special bath rooms connected with all the wards, which with all the plumbing, have been matters of great consideration and are the best of the kind for the purposes. The bath room for the non-contagious and surgical ward will be entirely apart from that of the mange ward. In the latter there will be two baths, one for the ordinary bathing and a smaller one for the medicated baths. There will be nine sinks and the drainage will of necessity be most carefully attended to.

Perfect systems of heating and electric lighting will be introduced, the special system of ventilation being devised in consultation with the department of Hygiene of the University. There will be special ventilating flues for each room, and each flue will be provided with a small electric fan, thus insuring perfect control of each separately and perfect ventilation for all.

The second story will be of the same dimensions as the ground floor and divided into four rooms, of sizes corresponding with the wards below, to be used as biological, pathological, physiological and histological laboratories.

Beside the specialists connected with the new branch of the University, there will be the necessary and proper staff to act as superintendent, nurses and caretakers.

It has been decided that arrangements will probably be made whereby, dogs, not requiring special treatment but belonging to persons who leave town in summer or any time, will be properly cared for at such times in this institution.

Architect Notes.

Moses & King, architects, 431 Walnut Street, have made plans for fifty houses to be erected at Wilkes-Barre, Pa. These will be fitted with all modern conveniences.

Albert W. Dilks, architect, 1001 Chestnut Street, has made plans for residence 3714 Hamilton Street for the Steen estate, these will include internal work mainly, new kitchen, repainting, new baths, plumbing, etc.

By the will of the late Henry Eberle the whole of the estate, with a few exception, is left for a handsome monument, to be erected from a design furnished by an architect. The executor is William M. Sharp.

John Fraser & Son, architects, 413 Walnut Street, have completed plans for alteration of 110 North Eleventh Street into an apartment house. It will be adapted to this use by introducing all modern conveniences. Work will be started at an early day.

Furness Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, have on boards for estimate complete plans for a hospital at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The structure will be three and a half stories high, of stone and brick, slate roof and fitted with all modern conveniences, electric bells and lights, best sanitary work in plumbing, elevator for sick, steam heat, etc.

James H. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has prepared plans for an addition of two stories to the factory of Clark, Thomas & Co., at Twenty-third and Ritner Streets and awarded the contract for the work to Thomas Little and Son, 217 Pear Street, who will begin the work at once. These will run the entire length of the present structure and will be fitted with all the modern improvements for factory service.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 South Broad Street, has made complete plans for alterations to the Standard Theatre, on South Street above Twelfth. These will include an entire new parquet and circle, a balcony gallery, new proscenium boxes of elegant design, also a new stage entrance and considerable interior decorations. New electric work and many minor points will be revised and beautified. The entire work will be done under personal supervision of Mr. Wade.

Thomas. P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building Fourth and Walnut Streets, has been engaged to prepare plans for a large manufactory to be built by Hensel, Colladay and Co., upon the late site of the Caroussel of J. R. Applegate, and will also include the ground occupied by the First Moravian Church in the rear, Franklin and Wood Streets. The details of the structure are not yet completed but sufficient is developed to indicate quite an extensive building.

Baker & Dallett, architects, Fifth and Walnut Streets, have made complete plans for an office building, to be erected at 602 Market Street, Wilmington, Del., for the Newcastle County Mutual Life Insurance Company. The structure will be 40x72 feet, four stories high, built of pressed brick, stone foundations and stone trimmings, slate roof, electric light and bells, steam heat, best of sanitary plumbing, and all modern conveniences, etc. Bids may be called for at an early day.

The plans for the office building of the Order of the Iron Hall, by F. R., Newman, architect, 1317 Arch Street, have now been placed in the hands of a few selected contractors for estimate upon their superstructural work; it is proposed to give the various contracts out separately. The foundations were completed in 1891 and allowed to settle before beginning the upper portion. A full description of this work has been given in previous numbers of this journal. The location is Broad above Arch Streets.

Walter Geissinger, architect, 102 South Twelfth Street, has made plans for setting two boilers for factory of H. O. Wilbur & Sons, 235 North Third Street. Also, prepared plans for an additional machine shop building for Geo. V. Cresson, at Allegheny Avenue and G. & N. branch of P. & R. R. R., in the Twenty-eighth Ward. The structure will be two stories high, of brick with stone trimmings, and considerable iron truss work, fitted with steam power and general machinery. Estimates are being made for the work of construction.

John T. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has prepared additional plans for an addition to the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, which is now in course of erection on Tenth Street above Cherry. This additional structure is intended as a boiler room and the upper floors will be utilized as private laboratories for the professors and students. Estimates are now being made. The structure will be three stories high, of stone and brick, with considerable iron work, the whole to be in keeping with the main building now in course of erection.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has been engaged to prepare the plans for the erection of the new Third Street Methodist Episcopal Church, of Camden, N. J., which will be erected at Sixth and Stevens Streets, upon a site just purchased. The general details as to material and decoration as well as minor matters have not been fully agreed upon by the committee in charge, but enough to warrant the assertion that the new edifice will be one of the finest in that city. It will be pushed at once with vigor.

The architects and engineers of the Pennsylvania R. R., are busy completing the revised plans for the new Broad Street Station, which, under a recent decision of the management will include an entire new station, beginning at the Northwest corner of Broad and Market Streets, and will extend to Filbert Street South side, and thence West to about Sixteenth Street, and covering all the area named by immense span arches of iron and masonry, while at Broad and Market Streets will be the main offices of the Company, the height of which is as yet undecided, but will be made large enough to accommodate all the clerical force now in the main office at Fourth and Willings Alley. A large tower will rise at the main corner, in which will be placed one or more elevators, and others will be placed at various points to accommodate the traffic and officials of the road. It has been decided to make this one of the largest depots in the world. The material decided upon for the structure, will be stone, brick, terra cotta and iron, as well as a large amount of cement work and artificial stone, tiling, hard wood finish, best sanitary plumbing and considerable electric work will be introduced, as well as all modern comforts and conveniences.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

James A. Stevenson's Sons, builders, Thirtieth and Diamond Streets, will erect in that vicinity, sixty additional houses two and three-story, all to be of the same class as their other operations in that neighborhood.

John. J. Cassidy, builder, Moyamensing Avenue and McKean Street is about to start an operation of two-story house at Seventh Street and Snyder Avenue, all to be of press brick, stone facing and steps, with best modern conveniences.

John Loughran, builder, 2238 North Broad Street, will at once begin work upon the erection of twenty-three two and three story houses on west side of Sixteenth Street north of Cumberland. All to be of press brick, stone trimmings and best modern conveniences.

Jacob Myres, contractor, Juniper and Sansom Streets, will at once begin the erection of the Industrial Institute for the Deaf and Dumb on South Side of Allens Lane, east of Creshiem Road. The structure will be of stone, three stories high, 114 x 126 feet and cost about $51,000 when complete.

V. E. Archambault & Son, carpet dealers, northeast corner of Market and Eleventh Streets, will make considerable interior alterations to their store by introducing an electric plant and excavation for side vault upon Eleventh Street side of the building. This will be done at an early day.

The contract for the construction of the Y. W. C. A. building, at Eighteenth and Arch Streets, has been given to Geo. Watson & Son, builders and general contractors, 907 Marshall Street. The structure will be erected after plans by B. F. Price, architect, Lansdowne, Pa., and have been fully described in a previous number of this journal.

The Philadelphia Engineering Co., Front and Mifflin Streets, is about to erect an addition to the plant, 50 x 100 feet, plans for which have been prepared, and can be seen at the office. A general invitation for bids upon the work has been posted in the Builders' Exchange, and July 21st fixed as the limit in which to present them. No other request for estimates will be made.

Geo. L. Sipps, builder, 619 Walnut Street, will erect an entire new building upon the site of 722 Chestnut Street, which will be five or six stories high, and the interior fitted throughout with all modern conveniences, including electric light, best of sanitary work and freight lift. The work of demolition of the old building is now under way.

In the matter of the alterations, repairs and improvements of the Custom House, at Philadelphia, Pa., only one bid was received, being Brocklehurst & Ewing, and it was rejected. The work will be readvertised for, as the magnitude of the work involved warrants more competition in the opinion of the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department. The above will be done at an early day.

On the 14th inst. the corner stone of the chapel of the R. E. Church of the Intercession was laid by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. Howard Smith, at Twenty-ninth and Fletcher Streets. The structure will be of brick with stone trimmings, and besides the auditorium will contain a study and vestry rooms. It is proposed to erect a main church building upon Twenty-ninth Street at an early day. The cost of the chapel will be about $12,000 complete.

The Trades League, has just organized a Hotel Committee, of which Mr. Thomas Martindale is Chairman, Messrs. Mahlon H. Kline, John Field, John T. Bailey, John S. Stevens, Finley Acker, Wm. H. Folwell, John G. Croxton, W. W. Supplee, are on the Committee. The object is to secure subscriptions for the erection of a magnificent hotel, to cost about $3,000,000. Charles Balderson, 316 Walnut Street, has prepared a plan for the proposed structure, which is to be known as the Grand Rotunda Hotel. An auditorium, with a seating capacity of 5000, is one of the features.

Messrs. Cassatt, Barnes and Huston, Directors of the Penna. R. R., who were appointed a Committee of reference on plans, for the new building at Broad and Market Streets, have made their report to President Roberts, in favor of an eight-story structure similar to the present one in style of architecture. There will be between 200 and 250 offices in the new structure, all fitted in the most comfortable and substantial manner, including elevators, electric work, steam power and heat, tiling, etc. It is expected that estimates will be invited next month, and work began by Sept. 1st, 1892.

W. T. B. Roberts, builder, 1433 North Twenty-ninth Street, has taken title to enough ground in the Twenty-sixth ward for the erection of nearly 4000 dwelling houses, the ground being bounded by Sixteenth, Wolf and Ritner Streets and Penrose Ferry Road, and formerly owned by the McGrath estate.—It is understood that the city will accept the loan of $250,000 from the Girard estate, which will be used in the improvement of streets, laying water and gas pipes and such work as is done by them in preparation of new ground for building purposes. Mr. Roberts will improve this site as soon as facilities for so doing are afforded him by the city.

Professor W. A. H. Allen, superintendent of the Builders' Trade School has completed a very exhaustive report of that institution, relative to its financial condition and the cost of instructing the pupils. The cost of maintenance last term was $7350 for sixty-five pupils, while the receipts were $7204, including the gift of $3000 from Colonel Auchmuty and the donations made by the Exchange. Each pupil costs about $50 a term, and this does not take into consideration the cost of the plant or the use of tools or material, which is a considerable item, the cost of the tools alone amounting to over $4000. Beginners and even advanced pupils will use material whose value is as much as they pay for their tuition. A class of twenty pupils just about pays the cost of their instruction, while in classes like the plastering trade, which had but few in it, the cost of instruction was nearly $300 each. Both this and the bricklaying classes were greatly reduced in numbers on account of the boys not being able to secure places after graduating. In the latter trade the apprenticeship question has been settled, and the graduates will be given preference and one year taken from their apprenticeship. The effect of this action by the Journeymen and the Bricklayers' Co. has already been felt, as the applications made for admission to the coming term are on a par with both the carpentering and plumbing classes, which led in point of numbers during the past term.

The last meeting of the Board of Education for the summer was held on the 12th inst., when Councils were asked to give about four and a half millions of dollars for the expenses of the public schools next year. The report of the Committee on Estimates, which was presented and adopted, showed that $2,911,545 will be needed during 1893, against 2,992,202 appropriated for the present year. This, however, does not include the item of $1,546,500 asked for permanent improvements, including $500,000 for a new Boys' High School. This year Councils allowed $275,000 for permanent improvements, although the Board asked for $1,114,500. For the salaries of teachers $1,864,929.65 is asked, an increase of about $58,000 over this year. For increasing the salaries of professors of the Girls' Normal School $5550 is asked, and, and for increasing the salaries of professors in the Manual Training School $4300. For rent of school buildings $3478 is said to be required, a decrease of over $3000 from this year. For furnaces and stoves for old school houses, $17,775; this year $14,000 was appropriated. For furnaces, etc., for new buildings $39,000 is asked, an increase of $9000 over amount granted for 1892. For cleaning school houses $172,409 is asked, an increase of $12,629 over amount appropriated for this year. For general repairs and alterations $225 555 is asked. For this purpose this year $180,000 was the amount received. This year $30,000 was appropriated for additional fire escapes on 50 buildings, while for next year $50,000 is asked to make that improvement on 37 buildings.

Architect Notes.

E. F. Durang, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for several alterations and additions to the R. C. Church, at Forty-eighth and Lancaster Avenue.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, has made plans for interior alteration to the M. E. Church of the Messiah, Moyamensing Avenue and Morris Street. These will consist of placing the choir back of the pulpit, alteration of seats and stairs leading to gallery, as well as division of the Sabbath school rooms on the first floor.

W. L. Plack, architect, 1403 Filbert Street, has made plans for a brick house, to be erected at Altoona, Pa., for John Schenk, of that city. It will be three stories high and slate roof. Interior to be of the best workmanship, steam heat, electric bells and light, sanitary plumbing, etc. Estimates will likely be confined to bidders of the above city.

Herbert P. Onyx, architect, 14 South Broad Street, has made plans for seven dwellings and a store, to be erected in Germantown. All to be of press brick and pebble-dashed, with front porches, three stories high, slate and tin roofs, galvanized iron cornices and spouting, best of sanitary plumbing and hot air heat and all modern conveniences. Estimates are being made.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 514 Walnut Street, has completed all plans for the large factory for Hensel, Colladay & Co., to be erected on the site of the First Moravian Church and the late carousel of J. R. Applegate. The structure will be 80 x 175 feet, six stories high, to be of brick and stone, tin roof. Interior will have electric work, steam heat and power, elevator and all other modern improvements.

Samuel Milligan, architect, 708 Chestnut Street, has made plans for two cottages, to be erected at Stone Harbor, N. J., to be of frame, two and one-half stories high and fitted with modern accommodations. Mr. Milligan, made the plans for the first and only hotel thus far erected at the same place, and which has proved a decided success in every way since its opening; it has been christened the "Abbottsford Inn." This new location by the seaside is advertised with full description in this journal.

William Shaw, of Wayne, Pa., has prepared plans for a new brick building for the Sons of America, at Wayne. The building will be three stories high, and will contain two stores in basement, two stores on first floor, and a hall on the second and third floors. An iron stairway on the back with iron doorway connection will give ample fire protection. The main stairway is located inside of brick walls entirely cut off from the main rooms.. The building will be fitted up with all modern appliances.

Will H. Decker, architect, Hale Building, Juniper and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for an office building for Messrs. Geisel & Richardson, southeast corner Master and Twentieth Streets. The structure will be two stories high. Material will be Guilford granite, Port Deposit granite and brick work, with some Portage red stone, tile roofing; also tile interior work, hard wood finish, steam heat, electric work, best of sanitary plumbing, lavatories, closets and toilet rooms. The offices will be fitted with most modern conveniences. Estimates are being made by contractors.

Walter Smedley, architect, 435 Chestnut Street, has made plans for an addition to the Friends' Twelfth Street meeting house. The building will be used for institute purposes, and will be two stories high, tin roof, stretcher brick and red sand stone trimmings. Interior will be divided into board room, committee room, hall, ante room and reading room. A heater will be placed in basement, wainscoting upon first floor, large open fire place in reading room, best of plumbing, and some electric wiring will be introduced, as well as other minor improvements. Estimates are being made for the work.

Frank Miles Day & Bro., architects, 925 Chestnut Street, have made plans for a handsome residence, to be erected at Cheltenham Hills, for George V. Cresson. Structure will be three stories high, of stone and frame construction, slate roof, stained and plate glass windows, steam heat, electric work throughout, tile work and best of sanitary plumbing. Also best of culinary arrangements in the kitchen. The most approved drainage system will be introduced. No expense or pains will be spared in making it one of the finest mansions in that vicinity. The contract has been given to George Hearst, Bexley and Pulaski Avenues, Germantown, and work will be started at an early day.

E. F. Bertolette, architect, 1220 Filbert Street, has made plans for a residence for H. K. Reger, at Norristown, Pa. To be of stone and brick, two and a half stories high, slate roof, gas fixtures and best of sanitary plumbing and hard wood finish. All modern conveniences. Also plans for a handsome entrance porch and stairway for Dr. A. P. Baumbaugh, Huntingdon, Pa. To be of brownstone and press brick, with tile floors, etc. Also plans for alteration and addition to Old Union Hotel, on Bridge Street, in Phoenixville, Pa. The capacity will be enlarged by making it four stories high, new stairways and reception, toilet and bath rooms, with an entire new front. All modern accommodations will be introduced.

Furness Evans & Co, architects, 209 South Third Street, have prepared the plans for the new station and office building of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Broad and Market Streets, and it is thought that all details for the foundations will be completed so as to begin work in about six weeks. It will have an imposing front and all the rooms will be opened so that at all times the best light attainable can be had. It will be eight stories high, without counting the ground floor and second story, or in all a ten-story building which will cost anywhere from $1,250,000 to $1,500,000. The building will partake of the same architecture as the present one, the style being called modern Gothic. A very attractive feature, which will depend on Councils whether it can be had or not, is the construction of a colonnade along Broad and Market Streets. This colonnade or porch will extend from a point of the building line just below the second story to the curbstone. It will be supported by ornamental iron pillars. The roof will be of heavy glass. At Fifteenth Street a bridge will be constructed across Market Street to the south side, so that passengers can pass from the depot to the other side of Market Street without being subject to the delays and danger from cars and wagons. At the corner of Broad and Filbert Streets there will practically be one large tower. There will be a wing on Market Street extending 50 feet west of Fifteenth, which will be six stories high above the train shed and will be utilized for office use. The base of the building will be of granite. The other construction will be of brick, with terra cotta trimmings. The building will have a frontage on Broad Street of 306 feet and on Market Street of 212 feet. The front of the building will be one big entrance hall. In the centre of Broad Street will be the ticket room, 65 by 20 feet. The entrance hall will be 70 feet deep. The baggage room 55 by 58 feet and will be on Filbert Street, west of Broad. The main entrance will be at the corner of Broad and Market Streets. Back of the ticket room there will be a double flight of stairs leading to the second floor, there will also be two elevators at this point. The rear of this stairway will be the stand for carriages. In front of the building near Filbert Street there will be a covered entrance for arriving carriages. On the Market Street side near Fifteenth there will be the main entrance to the office rooms, reached by a wide stair-case; there will be three elevators for the use of those who have offices in this building. There will also be an entrance at Fifteenth and Filbert Streets. On the second floor will be located the main waiting room, 136 by 82 feet. On the Market Street side will be the women's waiting, retiring and toilet rooms. Facing Broad Street will be the dining room and restaurant, and on the Filbert Street side will be the gentlemen's toilet room. The station will be so extended as to take in all the present lobby; the new one will be over Fifteenth Street and will extend the full length of the building.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, JULY 27, 1892.

Philadelphia has long been regarded as possessing unusual facilities for housing people of moderate means, and her homes for this class are so much better than those offered by other cities at the same price or rent that it seems almost censorious to find fault. The careful observer, however, cannot fail to deprecate the short sighted policy pursued by some builders in erecting row upon row of cheap two and three-story houses with contracted yard space and interior furnishings, where a small amount of stained glass, showy gas fixtures, gaudy wall paper and a few other meretricious features are expected to conceal or to compensate for cheap hardware and cheaper plumbing, together with a most plentiful lack of good honest workmanship and material. As is well known, the great majority of these dwellings are erected for speculation and as long as they present an attractive appearance calculated to catch the unwary and to hold together long enough to be sold—the chief aim of their builders is realized. It is a matter of sincere regret that in a city like Philadelphia, where ground in the resident sections is comparatively cheap, that a larger number of wise and far seeing builders do not inaugurate building operations in which beauty, durability and moderate cost are combined, and evolve a house of tasteful architectural design with more space around it and constructed in such a manner that the yearly repairs will not eat up the interest on the investment. The proposed extensive operation of the Girard Estate in the First and Twenty-sixth Wards offers an opportunity in this direction that should not be neglected by the Board of Directors of that great trust, whose influence is capable of accomplishing anything within reason, and whose sagacity and shrewdness are beyond question. The prime motive of the Board is presumably not so much to make the largest sum of money possible in the shortest length of time, but rather to find a safe investment, which will yield a fair present interest, together with a legitimate increase in the value of the property. The views of Stephen Girard on this subject are well known as is also the habit which he had of buying neglected and dilapidated property, improving the same, and thus enhancing its value as well as that of the neighborhood and eventually the city.

In a large operation like the one quoted and a number of others which are contemplated, provision should be made for one or more air spaces, independent of the space allowed each dwelling. In fact, it should be a well-established and enforced rule that every certain number of dwellings, or certain amount of territory devoted to dwelling purposes, should have a small park or open square in which trees should be planted and cared for by the city, as is done in Paris, France, at an annual expenditure of $50,000, and also in Washington, D. C., Cleveland, Ohio, and many other American cities. In Philadelphia, however, the great desideratum or ideal of dwellings seems to be row upon row of small houses, all built upon the same plan, or, at least, with very little deviation, save in a few notable cases, where broad-minded and far-seeing builders have devoted time, energy and money in producing dwellings deserving the sacred name of home, and not that of tenement only. The supply of the cheaper class of dwellings is far in excess of the demand, as is evidenced by the many vacant houses scattered here and there over the city, but the demand for those of the better class is clearly on the increase.

This demand is perfectly legitimate, and one that will increase in proportion as intelligence and culture increase among the people, and preclude the idea of herding or packing. The builder who takes advantage of this demand is the one who will eventually make not only the most money on his investment, but will have the satisfaction of giving the most in return for the money received. The "New Philadelphia," of which so much has been said and written, is only the natural result of this wide-spreading desire for more beautiful surroundings, and it is scarcely probable that the desire will be satisfied with municipal improvements alone, unless they, in turn, in the march of progress, sweep such eyesores and claptraps from the face of the earth and have them replaced with habitations combining cheapness, beauty and utility.

We are pleased to note the courtesy of Mr. William R. Dougherty in extending us an invitation to be present on the 21st inst., on the occasion of delivering to the Board of Education, of Philadelphia, the Alexander Adaire Grammar School, of the Eighteenth Ward. This building is pronounced by competent judges to be par excellence in every detail as an educational structure, being three stories high and built of the best material and workmanship. Attention was particularly attracted to the masonry and woodwork, also the skill of the architect in the matter of design.

The main rooms on each floor can be readily subdivided into five sections each by the introduction of sliding doors, each of which contains immense blackboards ready for instruction. In a word, the builder, the architect and the Sectional Board are all to be congratulated upon the success of what is pronounced one of the finest school buildings of its kind in the city.

We are under obligations to the Real Estate Title Insurance and Trust Company, Tenth and Chestnut Streets, this city, for a very handsome and useful map of Philadelphia, showing the plan of the Streets and the sub-division of the city into Wards. A unique feature is a system of red crosses, designating the localities in which the company has insured titles. Judging from the number of these marks, the Real Estate Title Company has no reason to complain of dull times or lack of business.

Architect Notes.

Angus S. Wade, 20 South Broad Street, has prepared plans for a residence for Mr. Isaac E. Bliem, at 1705 North Eighteenth Street. It will be three stories high, of buff brick and Indiana limestone, hard wood interior finish, 20 x 65 feet in dimensions, all modern improvements. The cost will be $7500.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

J. B. Seeley, of the Seeley truss, has purchased three properties on Walnut Street which he will remodel and otherwise improve.

W. F. Cox, builder, 826 Federal Street, is about to break ground for ten two-story dwellings on Fremont below Almond Street, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings and best interior work.

Henry Shoch, the well-known builder, has made the purchase of a large tract of land near Tioga for building purposes. There are ninety-five acres, and the price paid was about $325,000.

It is said that the building at 535 North Thirteenth Street will be remodeled and fitted up for an apartment house. The proposed improvements will include making the present building six stories high.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper Street, will at once begin work upon the addition and alterations to the Hotel Stratford, at Broad and Walnut Streets, heretofore described in this journal.

Andrew Biebl, 103 North Seventh Street, has purchased the Mansion House, 621-23 Arch Street, and intends to improve the property for the same purposes as it now fills, and will run it upon the European plan.

Benj. Ketcham & Sons will at once begin the contemplated alterations and additions to the Union League building at Broad and Sansom Streets. These have been fully noted in this journal in a previous number.

R. & A. Wilson, Builders, Twentieth and Moore Streets, will at once start an operation of twenty-six two-story houses, at Twenty-fourth and Kimball Streets, all to be of press-brick, with stone facings and best interior work.

The Wilbraham Bros., machinists, 2518 Frankford Avenue, have purchased twenty-three acres of ground at Trenton Junction, N. J. on the Bound Brook Railroad, and propose, when improvements are made, to remove their plant to that place.

Henry Whitaker's Sons, carpet yarn manufacturers, will add another structure to their present plant on Emerald Street, above Allegheny Avenue. It will be 180 x 55 feet and three stories high, with a basement, built of brick with stone trimmings.

Murrell & Prettyman, builders, 25 North Juniper Street, will at once start an operation of thirty two-story houses on East and West side of Eighteenth, South of McKean Street. These are to be of the usual kind and material erected in the same vicinity.

Doyle & Doak, contractors, 1511 Moravian Street, will erect six two-story houses on Franklin Street and six on east side of Eighth Street, above Susquehanna Avenue. All to be of press brick, with stone facings and best interior work and improvements.

The plans for the Women's Christian Association building, at Eighteenth and Arch Streets, have been approved by the Board of Building Inspectors, and work will be started by the contractor, Geo. Watson & Son, at once. The structure has been fully described in this journal.

The Pennsylvania R. R. Co. has awarded the contract for all the span and iron work upon the new shed to the Phoenix Iron Co. A new interlocking tower will also be erected at Seventeenth and Filbert Streets, and an office building to take the place of the Adams Express headquarters.

Among the improvements contemplated in Germantown is a large dye house by Alfred Gommeral and Thomas Spencer at Penn and Brldfield Streets. Also a memorial building at the Lutheran Orphanage and Asylum for the Aged and Infirm at Mt. Airy, for which purchase $10,000 has been given by Miss Elizabeth Schaeffer.

Benj. D. Gardiner, builder, will, under his own supervision, at once start an operation of eleven three-story houses, 16 x 58 feet, on the north side of Baring Street, west of Preston, and three on west side of Preston, north of Baring. All to be of fine red press brick, with stone trimmings and best modern conveniences on interior.

The survey and formation of the two new wards, the Thirty-sixth and Thirty-seventh, is now in progress, and the proposed boundary lines to be submitted to Councils will be announced at an early day. It is a matter that involves considerable labor and not a few intricate questions arise, so that the authorities are bound to move slowly.

The R. C. Church (Polish) located on German Street, west of Second, was badly damaged by fire on the afternoon of the 19th inst. The title to the church is in the name of the archbishop of the diocese, and there is no doubt but what it will be repaired under direction of the same authority. The extent of the damage is estimated at about $15,000, and is mainly located in the front.

The contract to erect the new store building at 1013 Market Street, for James A. Stone, has been awarded to John R. Wiggins, builder and contractor, 1536 Seybert Street. A full description of this structure was given in architectural notes of this journal, June 29th. Plans were made by Frank R. Watson, architect, 618 Walnut Street, and who will supervise the construction.

W. A. Smith, private secretary to John Field, Postmaster of this city, has just taken title to the old Peabody Hotel, on Ninth Street, below Locust, and will at an early day reconstruct it in every department and place it under new management. It will also be re-named the Sherman House. $110,000 is understood to be the amount paid, of which $50,000 will remain on mortgage.

The Presbyterian Home for Aged Couples has purchased of Richard Vance and others part of the estate of Henry L. Wain, containing two acres, on the south side of Ford Road, near County Line Road, and two more acres on west side of D'Inville's Street, southeast of Ford Road. This gives ground for certain proposed improvements and additions. The cost was $20,000.

Milnor & Co., contractors, Frankford, have been awarded the contract to erect the church building at the southeast corner of Sixteenth and Oxford Streets, for which plans were prepared by Hazelhurst & Huckle, architects, Drexel Building, and who will supervise the construction. Structure to be of stone, two stories high, 71 x 92 feet in area, and furnished upon interior in a very handsome manner.

William Steele & Son, contractors, 506 Walnut Street, have been awarded the contract to erect an additional factory for Thomas Henry & Son, on the west side of Trenton Avenue, below Tioga Street, to be 48 x 100 feet, two stories high, of brick and stone trimming. The same contractors will make some interior alteration to the National Theatre, which will consist of a proscenium wall 75 x 60 feet. This will necessitate more or less minor work.

The revised plans for the new Normal School were before the Bureau of Building Inspectors, on the 25th inst., for their approval. The plans will probably be returned to the architect again, as the iron balcony on the rear was drawn only to extend from the first story instead of from all the floors. Several weeks since the bureau of the Board of Fire Escapes refused to pass the plans unless they were altered so as to give ample egress in case of fire or panic.

General Henry H. Bingham and Postmaster-General Wanamaker are making special efforts to have Congress pass an appropriation of $137,000 for the purchase of additional ground to the west of the Post Office Building in this city. It is urged that the room is essential for a wagon way and yard for the transportation branch of the service, and would include ground on Chant Street to St. Stephen's Church and the Klein property on Market Street.

Jacob Reed's Sons, merchants, Chestnut Street below Tenth, have just leased the property 916 Chestnut Street, and will make necessary alterations in order to connect it with their other stores. This building will be fitted for a shoe store, and the upper floors will be connected with the main stores by cutting through the fire walls. Electric work will be introduced as well as all modern improvements and accommodations. Possession has been taken, and work will be started at an early day.

Whilst Mr. Robert Steel, the great stock raiser, has sold his stock farm for building purposes to a syndicate and purchased forty acres near Doylestown, Pa., he has not fully determined as yet to remain in business. Should he do so, however, he says he would be compelled to purchase additional ground and erect stables and shelter sheds as well as store houses for grain and feed of all kinds. These would, if built, be upon the most approved system and contain every accommodation known in the business.

The International Navigation Co., of Philadelphia, Clement Griscom, Esq., president, has succeeded in having a bill passed by Congress giving Secretary of War authority to sell a certain portion of the land now occupied by Fort Mifflin, at the junction of the Schuylkill River and the Delaware, it being the intention of the above company to improve the location by the erection of wharves, sheds and probably elevators for shipment of grain. It is altogether likely that this work will be done as soon as the proper transfers can be made.

factory, 32 x 100 feet, three stories high, for the manufacture of pearl buttons.

Charles A. Gifford, the architect of the plans for the New Jersey building at the World's Fair, has made a few changes in the original plans by which a wing has been added. The plan, however, called for a building which will be practically a reproduction of the old Washington headquarters, at Morristown, N. J. The building will be 85 feet long by 35 feet wide. The interior will have an assembly hall running through the building, and taking up a considerable portion of the two main stories. A gallery will run around the hall on the second story. The right wing will be used as the headquarters of the lady managers. An historical exhibit may be provided in the spacious hall and some of the larger rooms, although nothing definite has yet been decided about this. In the other wing there will be the commission and secretary's office, board room, room for visitors and smoking room. In the rear there will be a large piazza. There will be a fireplace in the main hall, which will probably be a reproduction of the one in the old building. It is proposed to use the productions of the State as far as possible in the construction of the building, and New Jersey brick, tile and terra cotta and other material will be taken. It is probable that in the exterior work staff will be used. It is a sort of plaster, which is used in a large amount of the work being erected for the fair.

The new ward will contain an operating room, diet kitchen, bath room, linen closet, etc. The ward itself will be of brick, with large ventilator on the roof and surmounted by a cupola. JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG 3, 1892.

The present torn up condition of the streets of Philadelphia, brings home to most thinking people, the subject of street paving, and the colossal failure of the city to provide decently paved thoroughfares for her citizens. If the same blind stupidity characterized the business methods of her merchants and manufacturers, trade would be annihilated and her importance as a centre of commerce be less than that of a tenth rate country town. Streets that serve as arteries of trade present an appearance that no village with an atom of self-respect would tolerate longer than the time required to apply the remedy, but which the average Philadelphian views with happy indifference. His grandfather endured cobble stones, why should not he? It is only necessary to note the policy now being pursued to be convinced of the wholly idiotic manner in which such work is usually done, and the pity of it is that after the herculean efforts necessary to secure asphalt for Broad Street so fine an opportunity was let slip for furthering the good work by placing the Belgian blocks from Broad Street on such thoroughfares as would be most benefited by that kind of paving, and not as is the case generally on resident streets, that should have some kind of improved paving material. We would be glad to have it explained to our satisfaction, why certain streets, almost wholly devoted to resident purposes, and where the traffic is limited to the butcher, the baker and such like, should have Belgian blocks while streets like Ridge Avenue, Vine and South Streets and others that could be mentioned, are left with miles of cobble stones, and large cobble stones at that, and wretchedly put down. Does it never strike those having authority in these matters, that Philadelphia will long continue to enjoy her present reputation of having the worst paved streets in the Union, if not in the world, unless a determined stand is taken in the matter, and those in authority insist that when a resident street is to be paved, it must be with some kind of an improved material, such as vitrified brick, for instance, which has been used successfully for years in localities where the traffic is ten times greater than that on any ordinary street of Philadelphia? There are towns in the West, and growing manufacturing towns, where miles upon miles of fine paving are laid every year with the most happy results, and where a square of cobble stones is fast becoming a curiosity, but Philadelphia Councilmen visit these towns, come home, use their influence to have a few miles of improved pavement laid in the suburbs and the closely built up sections, the sections that need it most, are given over to cobble stones and Belgian blocks. As long as this is the case, it will be an impossibility to have clean streets, as everyone knows the weekly sweeping of the cobble stones is a delusion and a snare as far as real cleanliness is concerned. But let us have decent paving material on these semi-retired streets, and on all the narrow alleys, many of which are scarcely wide enough for the passage of vehicles, and half the battle is won. It will naturally follow that the great thoroughfares of business will of necessity receive attention, and the result will be satisfactory to all concerned.

If the efforts of the Trades' League, of Philadelphia, meet with the success they deserve, this city will have one of the finest hotels in the country, and none too soon, as it has long been known, that for a city of its size, the present hotel accommodations are wholly insufficient. The cost of the proposed structure is $3,000,000, and the plan of Charles Balderston calls for a building 369 x 230 feet, ten stories high and containing nearly eleven hundred rooms, furnished with every known modern convenience and improvements. The auditorium with a seating capacity of five thousand, is one of the main features, as well as the summer garden upon the roof. The subject of lighting and ventilating has been given unusual attention, and if the design of the projectors is realized, Philadelphia will be able to offer to the traveler, hotel accommodations second to none in the country. The plans in general detail and beauty, reflect the highest credit upon the ability of Mr. Balderston, the architect.

Architect Notes.

Charles J. Post, Paterson, N. J., has prepared plans for a public school house to cost $25,000.

At Paterson, N. J., John H. Post has prepared plans for a Jewish Synagogue, to cost about $40,000, and to be erected at Paterson by the Bnai Jeshurun Congregation.

The Bureau of Building Inspectors, Fire Marshal Thompson and Architect Austin met on the 28th inst. and the reconstructed plans for the Normal School were gone over. As the fire escapes and the balconies were properly placed, the bureau decided that the permit should be granted on application.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, has made plans for a hotel to be erected on the Northwest corner of Forty-fourth and Lancaster Avenue. It will be three stories high, red sandstone and Pomeiian brick with copper bays and cornices of handsome design. The interior will be in hard wood, electric work and all modern conveniences.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has made quite extensive plans for a hotel to be erected at Wenonah, N. J. The structure will be of stone, brick and frame-work, three stories high, and fitted with all modern conveniences, including electric work, light and bells, best sanitary plumbing and every minor feature for comfort.

John T. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has made plans for an additional building at the Presbyterian Home for Aged Women, Wissinoming Station, P. R. R. The structure will be three stories and basement, tin roof; cellar to be laid in concrete work and covered with Portland cement, steam heat; the walls will be of red brick with stone trimmings. Drawings are on boards for estimates.

Henry D. Daget, architect, 132 South Second Street, has completed plans for a large exhibition casino for the Western Pennsylvania Exhibition Society near Pittsburgh, Pa. Structure will be of frame 80 x 100 feet, one story high; also a carousel and other buildings of a minor character. Also plans for alteration of the house of John M. Doyle, 1330 South Broad Street, including dining-room, sitting-room and kitchen, electric work and interior decorations.

Baker and Dallett, architects, Fifth and Walnut Streets, are engaged to prepare plans for a large four-story hotel for Mr. N. T. Hayes of West Chester, Pa. The structure will be built of brick with stone trimmings, and the interior will be fitted and furnished in the most approved style; electric light and bells, best sanitary work, elevator for patrons and freight lift, and all minor matters of detail will be of the latest.

Plans not yet fully developed and no contracts let.

Mr. Houman, 274 Market Street, Paterson, N. J., sends the following plans: for a factory to be erected at Butler, N. J., for the Bloomingdale soft rubber work. Also, plans for Roman Catholic Church at same place to cost $18,000. Also, plans for cottage, for Charles R. Brock, to be erected at Paterson, N. J., at a cost of $4000. Also, plans for a box factory to be erected at Paterson at a cost of $8000. Also, plans for a dwelling for Mrs. A. Terhune, to be erected at Paterson at a cost of $4000. Also, plans for a dwelling for Mrs. A. F. Ritchie to cost $4800.

THE FOLLOWING TABLE shows the building operations in the respective Wards for the weeks in July, 1892, for which permits were issued. WEEKS ENDING SATURDAYS 2d, 9th, 16th, 23d and 30th.

J. F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, has made complete plans for five two-story brick and marble buildings to be erected at Eighth and Columbia Avenue, Southeast corner, for George Schmalzreid, who has leased the structure to the U. S. Government for a Sub-Post Office. The first floor will contain the post office and two stores, and the second, which will be 47 x 100 feet, will be fitted up as a hall. It will be furnished with electric light and all modern conveniences. Chas. M. Lam, 619 Commerce Street, has been given the contract and will begin work at once.

The plans and specifications for the new U. S. Government building, to be erected in the city of Wilmington, Del., are now on boards of a number of city contractors for estimates. The structure will be three stories high, of stone, slate roof, considerable copper work, cement and asphalt flooring and paving, iron stairways, elevators, electric work, steam heat, and all the latest improvements for comfort and utility in this class of building. A handsome tower will rise at the angle of the centre of the structure with a clock of large size. This will be one of the finest public buildings in the country.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have prepared plans for the Cathcart Memorial Hospital, to be erected at Devon, Pa. This structure will be built through the munificence of the late Wm. Stroud of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, who also left $200,000 for the Kortwright Home for Convalescents, which is located at Hammer Hollow, near the location of the building proposed above. The house will be of stone, three stories high, and fitted on the interior with every convenience known to science and for the general comfort of patients. It is expected to begin work about the middle of August.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has made plans for the new building for the Mannerchor Society, which will be erected upon the site of the present building. It will be four stories high, of buff brick and stone trimmings, and the front will be ornamented on first-story corners with old gold colored brick. French plate-glass windows entirely in front. Interior will be fitted with electric work, hard wood and all modern conveniences. Estimates are being made for the work.—Also, plans have been made by the same architect for a hotel at Spring City, Pa., to be four stories high, 42 x 105 ft with wing 22 x 60 ft., slate roof and structure to be of stone; interior will be fitted in tile-work floors for one or two rooms, electric light and bells, best of sanitary plumbing and every modern convenience. Contract has been awarded to John W. Spencer of Norristown, Pa.—Bids are being made on the Wenonah Inn, for which Mr. Lonsdale prepared the plans.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, has made plans for a new and handsome church edifice to be erected at Spring Garden and Forris Streets, Ambler, by the Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church of that place, to cost about $10,000. The plans call for the building to be of local stone, with Indiana limestone trimmings. The front of the building will be on Spring Garden Street, and will be built against the old church building, which is to be remodeled and fitted up for Sunday school purposes. The building throughout will be finished in hard and oiled woods, and will contain a large pulpit platform with a spacious baptismal font. An arch will be erected over the pulpit platform, supported by two large pillars. The interior of the church building will have a seating capacity for about 300 to 400 persons, and will be arranged in amphitheatre style. At the corner of the building at the junction of the streets will be a large tower 16 feet square and 68 feet high, from the ground line to the tops of the buttresses, which will be of Gothic style. There will be two entrances by way of the tower and other entrances by the Sunday school building and the Forris Street side of the church. The windows of the church will be stained glass. At the southeast corner of the building will be a ladies' parlor neatly fitted up. The baptismal font will be lined with copper and have a capacity of 750 gallons of water. A water heater will be built directly under the font in the cellar. The structure is expected to be finished this year.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., 401 South Juniper Street, will place a proscenium wall in the old Arch Street Theatre. This with some minor work will be done at once.

Robert Beatty & Bro., contractors, 2321 Townsend Street, will at once begin the erection of a one-story dye house, 50x75 feet, Amber Street, east side, south of Westmoreland.

Bids are being invited on what is known as the "head house" of the Reading Terminal at Twelfth and Market Streets, and all must be in by August 9, when they will be opened and the contract awarded.

Charles McCaul, contractor, 20 North Eleventh Street, has received the contract for all the work at Archambault's stores, northeast corner of Market and Eleventh Streets, and fully noted in a previous number.

At Manayunk, Philadelphia, James O. Holgate has been awarded the contract for the erection of the new chapel for the congregation of the Epiphany Lutheran Church, at Green Lane and Wood Street. The contract price was $5225.

John R. Wiggins, builder and contractor, 1536 Seybert Street, has started operations on 1013 Market Street, where he will erect the six-story store building for James A. Stone. This structure has been fully noted in previous numbers of this journal.

The North Ice Manufacturing Company, Charles B. Gawn, President, 1428 Allegheny Avenue, will at once begin the erection of a plant, 92x146½ feet, on 11th Street, west side, north of Dauphin. It will be of brick, two stories high, fitted with steam power.

John Hennon, builder, 1213 South Fifteenth Street, will at once begin the erection of nineteen two-story dwellings at the northeast corner of Eighteenth Street and Passyunk Avenue. All to be of press brick, stone facings and best of modern conveniences.

W. G. Serrill, builder, Fifteenth Street and Lehigh Avenue, is excavating cellars for twenty-seven dwellings, two stories high, on west side of Bancroft, north of Huntingdon Street. These will be of press brick, stone trimmings and good modern conveniences.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1936 South College Avenue, is about to erect eighteen two-story dwellings, 14 x 39 feet, on the east side of Bucknell Street, north of Parrish. These will be in keeping with the other operations in that vicinity. All material of the best character.

The Evans Furnace Works, manufacturers of the "Evans" Pure Air Furnace, Thirteenth Street, above Buttonwood, have secured the contract for heating the residence for Mr. J. M. Geckeler, at Clifton Heights, Delaware Co. William M. Free, supervising architect.

John Graham, builder, 57 Brighthurst Street, Germantown, is about to start the erection of fifteen two-story houses on Uber Place, near Ontario Street; also five more at Westmoreland Avenue and Uber Place. All to be of best material, press brick, stone trimmings and modern conveniences.

I. B. Seeley has purchased of the Jefferson College the properties, 1023, 1025 and 1027 Walnut Street, adjoining Lippincott & Johnson's new building. Mr. Seeley will make extensive alterations, including a three-story addition in the rear, on Medical Street, to join the buildings on Walnut Street, making a depth of 107 feet. Estimates are being made on the work, but no contracts have been let.

Allen B. Rorke, contractor and builder, Drexel Building, has purchased the property lately owned by the Van Guntens, on the north side of Spring Garden Street, above Twelfth, and will for the present utilize it as a place for storage. In the future Mr. Rorke may possibly erect a number of handsome residences upon the site, which will be in keeping with the status of that neighborhood. At present it will be used as indicated.

A question of right of Councils to give permission to construct frame buildings within specified limits of the city proper has arisen in the case of the Reading Railroad, at Willow Street Wharf, and the Kensington and New Jersey Ferry Co., at Shackamaxon Street Ferry. These two corporations having been granted the privilege by the above body, are now confronted by a refusal of permit by the Board of Building Inspectors, backed by the opinion of City Solicitor Warwick, that Councils have positively no right to pass ordinances granting such privileges to any person or corporation.

The present midsummer season by far excels many previous ones in the vast amount of private and public work in progress. Among the notable operations now in hand of an important character we find the base work for the new station of the Pennsylvania Railroad and preparations for the new office building, the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad terminal, with its extended ramifications; alterations and additions to a majority of the places of amusement in the city, as well as a large number of churches and school houses, the Women's Branch of Christian Association, at Eighteenth and Arch Streets; also the Y. M. C. A., Pennsylvania Railroad branch building, Forty-first Street and Westminster Avenue. Among the factories may be noted, John Bromley & Sons, Whitaker & Sons, Hoyle Harrison & Kaye, Thomas Henry & Son, sugar refinery of William J. McCahn & Co. and others, all of which are in different stages of construction.

Director Beitler, of the Department of Public Safety, on the 26th inst., granted a permit to the Catharine and Bainbridge Streets Passenger Railway Company, in accordance with the ordinance passed by Councils, notwithstanding the veto of the Mayor, on March 31st last, to erect poles and string wires, commencing at Front and Catharine Streets, on Catharine to Gray's Ferry Road, to Christian Street, to Schuylkill Avenue, to Bainbridge Street, to the place of beginning. The permit cites that the poles are to be erected and the wires to be strung under the supervision of the Department of Public Safety, it being understood the company shall repave each of the streets named with Belgian blocks, or other improved pavement satisfactory to the Director of the Department of Public Works, and under specifications to be prepared by him; it being also understood that the feed wires shall be laid under the surface of the street, in such localities as shall be approved by the Board of Highway Supervisors and in such manner as shall be satisfactory to the Department of Public Safety.

Architect Notes.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1122 Arch Street, is receiving estimates on the store at Forty-fourth Street and Lancaster Avenue, from plans drawn by him and fully described in these columns in previous number.

W. Bleyden Powell, architect, 423 Walnut Street, has made plans for alterations and additions to the Allison Car Works in West Philadelphia. These will be quite extensive in the way of new shops, machinery, etc.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 316 - 322 Walnut Street, have made plans for extensive additions and alterations to the Hotel Lafayette, Broad and Sansom Streets, much of the work being on the interior, including electric work, painting and decorations, gas work and plumbing and a general overhauling.

Angus S. Wade, 20 South Broad Street, has awarded the contract for steel girders for the Metropole Hotel, on South Broad Street, to the Pencoyd Iron Works, and for cut stone to James Mann & Co., Thirtieth and Locust streets. The mill work has been awarded to Jackson & Sharp Co. of Wilmington, Delaware.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 South Broad Street, has made plans for four-story building at Wyncote, Pa. The first-story will be occupied as a store and remainder as a dwelling; all above second-story being of frame the lower portion being of stone, interior will have electric work, steam heat and all modern improvements.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut Street, is engaged on plans for a handsome one-story church, to be erected at Seventeenth and York Streets, for the West York Methodist Church, of which Rev. Henry Frankland is the pastor. It will be fitted throughout in the most substantial manner. The plans have not developed sufficiently to note fully.

W. B. Tuthill, architect, 52 Broadway, New York City, has placed complete plans for a church for Baptist congregation of Red Bank, N. J., on boards of city contractors for estimate. These contemplate a handsome stone structure one-story high with tower at one corner, slate roof, stained and plate glass windows as well as best of interior work; fine seating and upholstery will be a feature. The whole will be very ornamental.

Harold Godwin, architect, 905 Walnut Street, has in course of preparations plans for quite an operation of Queen Anne houses to be erected on Upsal Street, Germantown by W. T. B. Roberts the builder. These are to be twin houses of very handsome design built of press brick with stone trimmings, slate roofs, and the interiors will be in hard wood, electric work and finest of sanitary plumbing. All work and material will be of the best. The whole operation will be about sixty in number when completed.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad, have in course of preparation plans for a handsome large depot to be built at Ninth and Spring Garden Streets, which will supplement the one at Ninth and Green Streets when the road is completed and ready for action. The structure will be two stories high, with a ticket and business office on the first floor. It will be of fancy brick, stone trimmings, and quite ornamental in architectural design. It will also be fitted throughout with the most approved accommodations for the traveling public. Elevator, electric work and best of sanitary plumbing will be introduced, in fact, no expense will be spared to have it in keeping with all the other improvements of the great railway.

J. F. Stetler, Middleburg, Pa., sends the following: Plans for a residence for H. A. Felix, of Lewistown, Mifflin Co., Pa., to cost $3500. The structure will be of frame, with stone foundation and trimmings, and handsome interior finish of oak and cherry paneling and wainscoting, wood mantels, parquet flooring, fine plumbing, tin and slate roof, skylights, water closet fixtures, electric lights, plain and stained-glass windows, furnace or hot-water heating. The location will be on Chestnut Street, at Lewistown, Pa. — The same architect has prepared plans for a very handsome residence to be erected at Selinsgrove, Snyder Co., Pa., for Mr. L. E. Pauling of that place. It will be of common press and ornamental brick, with stone foundation and Hummelstown brown-stone trimmings, two stories high, tin and slate roof, best of plumbing, galvanized iron skylights, wood mantels, refrigerator, interior finish of oak and pine, wainscoting and paneling, plate and stained-glass windows, bath-room fixtures, hot-water heating, one boiler, inside and outside blinds, etc. The estimated cost is $4000. The size will be 30 x 60 feet, two stories high.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG 10, 1892.

AMONG the many uses to which graphite may be put are the following from a correspondent: "I have used handhole and manhole gaskets eight to ten times by carefully smearing the surface next boiler shell, taken out at periods of three to four weeks, using steam pressure as high as 100 lbs. In packing water glasses, by putting a little graphite and oil on the gasket they would vulcanize as soft as lamp wick and retain their elasticity until the glass was changed when the old rubber could be removed without trouble, while by the old way, I have spent much time in digging out the rubber, baked hard as vulcanite. Another thing I used it for was after putting back my handhole plate or plug in back connection, I carefully brush away all the soot and ashes, then with a small brush paint a good coat of graphite over flange, stud and nuts. After running boiler from three to six months, and using coke for fuel, with forced draft, the nuts can be removed without trouble as the heat has not been great enough to burn the lead."

AMERICAN tin is not only taking very good care of itself, but has become a troublesome competitor against the foreign article, as is seen by Merchant & Co.'s circular. "Gilbertson's Old Method" brand of roofing plates is no longer guaranteed by this firm, as experience has proven that the American plate of its own production is much better and a heavier and more evenly coated plate than even the "Gilbertson's Old Method," which, it is claimed, has been allowed to greatly deteriorate to meet the prices of the American product and to offset the increased duty. It is said that politics makes strange bed-fellows, but nothing can seem more strange than the old importing house of Merchant & Co. repudiating its old stand-by through sheer necessity, and because it has something better made daily at its own works right here in Philadelphia.

This means, if it means anything, that the American manufacturers of roofing plates have made more headway in the few months they have been at it, than the Europeans have accomplished in years.

THE RAILWAY WARS AGAIN.

The New York World has an article on its editorial page under the suggestive title "Conquer Reading by Exhausting It." "By pushing the present suits against the Reading system," says the writer, "and beginning and pushing as many more as possible, that system will be eaten up by its own lawyers." By "insisting on this course" and "constantly urging it," the readers of the World are assured that it "will incalculably serve the interests of the people."

There have been various plans suggested for the overthrow of the Reading, but this of "conquest by exhaustion" is the simplest. Mr. Cassatt, whose terror of railway combinations thrilled the newspapers in February and March, insisted that the Government should interfere. Mr. Cassatt's sudden horror of monopoly did not go so far as to propose a dissolution of the alliances under which the Pennsylvania system has been made a powerful monopoly. Nor did he propose a return to the dear old Camden and Amboy days, nor a revival of the blessed tonnage tax, nor a restoration to the Northern Central, the Philadelphia and Erie, the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore and other ravished corporations of their bereft honor and dignities. His game was the Reading, and his associate "against monopoly" was Mr. Terence V. Powderly. Several New York newspapers with unconscious humor were pathetic over the Governor's "refusal to act," when implored by such eminent labor movement leaders as Mr. Powderly and Mr. Cassatt. Another cogent member of this anti-Reading alliance is Mr. Henry Clews, a Wall Street magnate, whose financial position is like that of those enterprising gentlemen on the Jersey coast to whom every storm is a harvest when it gives them the blessing of a wreck. Mr. Clews advised the State of Pennsylvania to take possession of the anthracite lands, and ignoring the millions that had been paid for ownership by thousands of investors, treat coal as an inherent natural right, as air, water and sun. Of course, the principle involved was confiscation. Money invested in the transportation of wheat, the regulation of water supply and the manufacture of light was on this principle as amenable to confiscation as that invested in coal. Mr. Clews would, however, confiscate coal as a war upon the Reading, and in the interest of Wall Street adventurers who had not given a dollar for coal development.

Of these various warlike processes, the Cassatt-Powderly plan of having the Governor "interfere against monopoly," the Clews plan of confiscation, and the World plan to "conquer Reading by exhausting it," harrying the Reading by law suits, until, like that forlorn, vermin-devoured bishop on the Rhine in the German fable, it was "eaten up by its own lawyers," the latter seems to have been adopted. There are, we believe, a half-dozen suits brought, as the World advises in its "Conquest by Exhaustion." The World, as our readers note, commends these suits, not for their merits, but as a part of "the conquest" of the Reading. One of them was dismissed out of court the other day in Easton. That makes no difference. The suit cost money. There is no reason why there should not be a dozen more.

If Reading "is to be eaten up by its own lawyers," the question is not what the courts may decide—but keep the courts busy over "decisions."

Yet this question seriously considered is of the gravest nature. If the money to defend these suits is to be taken from Reading investors, and if by forms of legal machinery it is to be taken to such an extent as to "conquer Reading by exhausting it," where are the supplies found for their prosecution? Lawyers are paid on both sides of a cause. If the defendant is to be exhausted, who nourishes and recuperates the plaintiff? Only the editor of the World supposes that Plaintiff Gummere in the Easton case paid a penny of the cost. The New York Evening Post distinctly refers to it as "one of the Pennsylvania suits against the Reading." If the Evening Post were not a careful paper we might overlook this statement. Yet when a leading and conservative newspaper sums up this "Conquest by Exhaustion" campaign as in reality a series of "Pennsylvania suits against the Reading," it opens an important field of inquiry.

Philadelphia studies the history and cause of her own development, and what does she find? No corporation within her jurisdiction has had the royal endowments of the Pennsylvania. We revive none of the criticisms so many of these endowments invoked from the repeal of the Tonnage tax under Governor Curtin to the present day. We have no sympathy with them. The Pennsylvania is one of the forces of the nation, an institution of which the Commonwealth may be proud—the work of a dynasty of gifted and intrepid men, and from that work we would not take a stone. Nor do we grudge the Pennsylvania Railroad whatever it has asked, nor whatever it may ask in reason. But when the question is, whether the Commonwealth shall govern the Pennsylvania, or be governed by it, conditions change. While the Pennsylvania has taken with the open hand whatever the people have given, she has resisted with clenched hand whatever has been given to anyone else, no matter how just and equitable the claim. Take the entrance of the Baltimore and Ohio into Philadelphia. Think of the millions spent to prevent it, yet the Baltimore and Ohio is here as she should have been when she asked admission. Take the Belt Line controversy. The money wasted in opposing the Belt Line was thrown away. Take the war upon the Reading terminals—the long, weary, costly war. In spite of the lavish disbursements to prevent it, the Terminal grows into majestic forms of iron and stone on Market street, and the Pennsylvania is wisely following with a noble building, in a spirit of commendable business emulation. The money that was spent to prevent these improvements was, to use the World's felicitous phrase, "Conquest by Exhaustion." There has been no conquest as yet, and no exhaustion, except, we fear, of resources that would, in the form of betterments or dividends, have warmed the heart of many a stockholder.

Philadelphia has as deep an interest in the failure of this wretched, despicable business of "Conquest by Exhaustion" as she ever had in the building of the Pennsylvania. The interest is the same. The Pennsylvania has done good work. Let her keep on doing it and all good go with her. Philadelphia sees that the Reading has likewise done good work. Philadelphia has in the Royal Blue, between Washington and New York, one of the best trains in the country. She has a second line direct to Buffalo and the lakes. She has another system to the seashore, as hundreds of thousands will gratefully acknowledge in these harsh, baking days. She has swift and special access to the Lehigh and Schuylkill valleys, with their assurance of beautiful homes. The Philadelphian may go to Hartford, Boston, the Berkshire Hills, to the rocky coasts of Maine and the Canadas, without that tribute to discomfort involved in shambling and dragging about New York. The pilgrim to Chicago, because of the Reading system, may go by way of Niagara and return by way of West Virginia, and see the wonders of the wonderland. These are the results of business foresight, the outcome of a spirit of enterprise, the development of a policy that would keep pace with the gigantic strides of a great city. Philadelphia is richer because of the Reading. Nor is the Pennsylvanian poorer. President Roberts, in his address at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania stockholders, dwelt upon a prosperity which enabled him to expend in the State alone a million dollars a week. No citizen grudged President Roberts a penny of this. It was assuredly a prosperity that the growth of the Reading has not disturbed. It is in the nature of these enterprises that one should help the other; that they should develop new wants, new industries, new sources of pleasure and recreation, new channels of trade. There is room on the sea for the Cunard, the Inman, the French German, Italian steamships. There is room in New York for the Central, Erie, Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania. Why grudge Philadelphia another trunk line? And more especially why in the interest of those to whom investments are property in its most sacred form, indulge in these legal wars of "Conquest by Exhaustion." Nothing is conquered, and exhaustion is in the end quite apt to fall upon innocent stockholders whose money's wasted in prosecution of Gummere and other suits like the barren proceeding which failed at Easton on Monday.

This war of "Conquest by Exhaustion" is not merely between two companies, the one striving to follow the World's advice, and have the other "eaten up by its own lawyers," but a war upon values. It involves an eminent peril. It is easy to fire a prairie, but how hard to govern the flames? Capital, and especially capital of the poor investor, ever sensitive, grows more so from day to day. The capitalist sees Wall Street on one side and the Anarchist on the other. He knows they mean to wreck him—the Anarchist because possessed by the spirit of ignorance and sin—Wall Street because in the ruin of others is swift gain. He sees his property assailed by duress, menace, misrepresentation, and competition meant to destroy. Against these he may defend himself. But where is his defense, where is the security of his investments, when he reads that property is to be deliberately "conquered" by innumerable and exhausting processes of law? To him the asylums of justice are to become the arsenals of anarchy and destruction. Is it surprising that distrust should spread; that foreign investors should be wary of securities of inherent value? The railroad war is a war upon property. The means proposed by the enemies of the Reading would, if unchecked by public opinion, destroy any interest in the land. Conquest by exhaustion is simply anarchy under the pretext of equity and law. Judge Schuyler, of Northampton, has summarily put an end to the Gummere experiment. Others remain, and in the best interests of the city, of property and justice, they should have as swift and condign a fate.—Philadelphia Star.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Secretary of the Treasury, on the 3d inst., postponed the opening of bids received for the construction of the Public Building at Wilmington, Del., in order that the bidders might have an opportunity to modify their proposals in accordance with the new labor law which limits time of employment on such works to eight hours a day. This is the first case that has arisen under the new law.

Joseph L. Hagan, builder, will at once begin excavations for cellars of ten two-story houses 14 x 38 feet on Philip Street north of Indiana avenue, and eight more at the Northwest corner of Second Street and Indiana Avenue, and at an early day erect others in the same localities, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings and best work on interior.

The Women's Medical College, on North College Avenue, has taken title to ground in rear of the present buildings, for the purpose of enlarging their field. New buildings will be erected upon the site, and will be in keeping with the structures erected about three years since. Plans in detail are not as yet complete, but will be advanced at once.

Congress has now adjourned, and after a contest covering almost a period of ten days, passed an appropriation of $2,500,000 in favor of the Columbian Exposition to be held at Chicago, Ill., in May, 1893. This action will require extended and liberal action upon the part of those most interested, as estimates now made will reach double the above figure in order to complete the undertaking.

Tenants of houses on the line of the Reading Railroad's Frankford branch are vacating them, and they will be torn down soon. Work is being pushed at several points along the road, and where it crosses the Bustleton extension of the Pennsylvania Railroad the contractor has erected a huge derrick for handling the heavy stone to be used in the foundation for the bridge on which the Reading will cross the other road.

The contractors are pushing the Bustleton extension of the Pennsylvania Railroad with great vigor. The grading on the Vankirk farm, one mile north of Frankford, is about completed, and across the Fisher farm thousands of loads of dirt have been deposited. A bridge is in course of construction on the same farm, and everything indicates the early completion of the work. The surveyors who are locating the road are now at Hulmeville, Bucks County, near the upper end of the line, which it is supposed will join the New York division near Tullytown.

The legal battle over the property of Clement McCune, at Seventeenth and Market Streets, north side, having been decided in favor of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., all impediments are removed to the prosecution of the work, and the new building for the Adams Express Co. will be started, which will give the company handsome offices and shed room. It is now expected that the foundation plans by Furness Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, will be ready within a few days, and active work commence on the preparation for the new main office and sheds of the company beginning at Broad and Market Streets.

The corner-stone of the East Allegheny Methodist Episcopal Church, between Frankford Avenue and Emerald Street, was laid on Saturday afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. W. Gehrett, Presiding Elder of the district assisted by the Pastor, Rev. James S. Hughes. The new church building will be two stories in height, 87 by 80 feet in size, with Avondalestone front, surmounted by two square towers. The sides of the building will be of Avondale blue-gray stone, laid broken range. The trimmings will be of Indiana and Wyoming Valley blue stone, artistically executed. The appointment will be in white oak, with natural hardwood finish. The choir gallery will occupy the space to the right of the pulpit, and on a level with the platform. The new church will be ready for occupancy in December, and will cost about $30,000. It is the intention of the pastor, as soon as the new building is complete, to have the front walls of the old brick chapel, which adjoins it in the rear, torn down and thus connect them, giving an additional seating space for 800 people. Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, drew the plans and will supervise the work of construction.

Chief Bullock and Director Windrim devoted some three hours on the 1st inst., to a careful examination of the bids for paving, grading and bridge repairs, opened about a week ago in the Bureau of Highways. Among the fortunate bidders are the Mack Paving Company, with contracts on McKean street, at prices varying from $2.39 to $2.41 per square yard; Thomas Cunningham, whose contracts embrace work on Fernon, Forty-ninth, Thirty-ninth, Twenty-ninth and Wolf Streets, at $2.33 per square yard; Patrick Monaghan, D. & P. McNichol and J. B. Atkinson. Donnelly & Scattergood and the Mack Paving Company take a number of contracts for Belgian block and vitrified brick paving, the prices varying from $1.80 to $2.20. The Vulcanite Paving Co. got the contracts for sheet asphalt on Allegheny and Lehigh Avenues, both at $2.50. They have also the contracts for stoning Pine Road at $1.30 and macadamizing Monument Road at $1.40. O. H. Hathaway carried off most of the contracts for bridge repair. Augustus Ruff, R. P. Bennis and Thomas Cooper divided the honors with him. Contractor Ruff is to put $448 worth of repairs on Market street bridge. Numerous grading contracts were also awarded.

The George V. Cresson Co. is to commence at once the erection of a machine shop in connection with its present plant at the northeast corner of Allegheny Avenue and the Germantown and Norristown branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. The building will have a frontage on Westmoreland Street of 108 feet 8 inches, and will extend southward a distance of 244 feet, at which point a temporary wall will be erected. The building is designed to extend to Allegheny Avenue, a distance of 500 feet, and will be devoted to the manufacture of large pulleys and heavy shafting. The centre of the building is designed to receive a traveling crane of 40 tons capacity, the crane to be 45 feet long, and will traverse the entire length of the building. The wings on either side of the centre will contain the large tubes. The roof of the entire building is of structural iron and steel; the side walls to be of brick. The power will be transmitted from the engine located in the present plant by ropes, in underground conduits, to the new building, a distance of 150 feet. The building will be erected under the supervision of Walter H. Geissinger, architect and mill engineer, and it is expected will be ready for occupancy on or before December 1st. A connecting building, 24x50 feet, is also to be erected. A full description of all the above structures has been given in previous numbers of this journal.

City Solicitor Warwick has helped the Belt Line another step towards completion. On the 4th inst. he submitted an opinion to the Board of Port Wardens upon the legal rights of the railroad, and the powers of the Port Wardens regarding the application of the road to extend the line of its tracks outside the arbitrary low-water line of the Delaware River at Bridesburg, and to cross property owned by the United States at Frankford. The City Solicitor, in the course of his opinion, says that the Board of Port Wardens can receive an application from a railroad company for permission to construct its road in the waters of the Commonwealth, provided said road is not located beyond the Port Warden's line, even though the riparian owner should not join in the application. He further declares that the board has the right to grant permission to a railroad company for the construction of its road in front of the land of a riparian owner, notwithstanding the owner's objection thereto, provided the said railroad is, by its charter, authorized to acquire the right of way by due process of law. He also declares that the board has no right to require the railroad company, acting under its charter in conformity with the law, to give security for protection of a riparian owner by reason of its construction. The special committee of the Board of Port Wardens having in charge the Belt Line's application, held a meeting yesterday, at which this opinion of the City Solicitor was read. A letter was also read from President Reeves to Charles Lenning & Sons, chemical manufacturers, whose property will be affected by the railroad, stating that the Belt Line Company will undertake to place the firm's property in the same condition in which it finds it. A letter was also read from Mr. Lenning, asking the committee to postpone action in the matter until he returns to the city. Mr. Dobbins, nevertheless, moved to grant the Belt Line's application, and the motion was seconded by Mr. Elliott, but after considering the matter over an hour in executive session the committee adjourned until next Thursday, and will give Mr. Lenning another chance to be heard.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. 'Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city.'"

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG 17, 1892.

S. Edwin Megargee has been appointed by the Board of Directors of the Equitable Trust Co. as President pro tempore to act in the absence of the President, William F. Harrity. Under the by-laws of the company Mr. Megargee is authorized to exercise all the powers of the President during Mr. Harrity's absence, although the latter expects to make weekly visits to Philadelphia to help look after the affairs of the Equitable Trust Co. Mr. Megargee is a director of the company.

It has been noted for some years past that competition in the matter of bidding upon city work has been most unsatisfactory in many cases, causing delay and double expense in this particular line. This is traceable to the manner in which advertising is let, confining its sphere to a few daily papers, which do not reach many of the interested parties, and consequently never see the advertisement. We believe, since the present administration has been in power, an endeavor has been made to avoid as much as possible favoritism, and a bill was prepared some time ago, with the sanction of the Mayor, giving the advertisements of the city annually by contract to newspapers, which would have obviated many of the scandals which were divulged by the Bardsley investigation as to rebates to public officials in this line of work. The ordinance referred to was reported favorably and passed by Common Council, but when it reached the Select Branch it was almost unanimously defeated, there being only one vote in favor. This ended the chapter, and in the meantime interested contractors and others must do the best they can to obtain information in regard to public work and estimates.

Architect Notes.

W. C. Pritchett, architect, 1430 South Penn Square, has made plans for a fine residence to be erected at Logan Station facing upon York Road, for Louis Deitrich, this structure will be three stories high of stone, slate roof, interior will be in hard wood, with electric work and best of sanitary plumbing, etc. The excavation is being made for the cellar.

All impediments to the progress of the erection of the I. O. O. F. Temple, at Broad and Cherry Streets, have now been removed, the contract awarded, and work will be started as soon as possession of the ground can be had. The contractors are J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut Street, and supervising architects will be Hazelhurst & Huckel, Drexel Building, these gentlemen having prepared the plans.

Hall & Day, architects, Drexel Building, Philadelphia, have prepared plans for a fine apartment house to be erected for W. F. DeKayne at 919 Spruce Street, to be four stories high, front of brick and stone, slate roof, steam heat, electric work and modern conveniences. A fine loggia will be placed in the top story, finely ornamented. No expense will be spared to make this one of the finest houses in that vicinity.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, having prepared plans more than a year ago for the enlargement of the Fidelity and Safe Deposit Company's Buildings, on Fourth Street, above Chestnut, have now been directed to proceed with the work. This will be an enlargement in L-shape, to face upon Fourth Street, two stories high, and has been fully described in this journal at time of completion of the drawings.

The twenty-fourth annual convention of the American Institute of Architects will be convened at Chicago, Ill., on October 21st. Among the important matters to be discussed will be the bill recently before Congress, making changes in the method of procuring drawings for public buildings. Great preparations are being made for the entertainment of these gentlemen, and it is expected that about five hundred will be in attendance.

S. Hall Day, architect, 910 Drexel Building, has prepared plans for a hotel at Woodbine, N. J. To be frame, three stories high and fitted with modern conveniences, for the Baron De Hirsch fund. The same architect has prepared plans for two school houses, one with a capacity of 250 scholars, the other of 150. Each to be two stories high, built of frame and modern improvements. Contract for the hotel has been given Burd P. Evans, contractor, of Philadelphia, Pa.

Plans are finished for the First M. E. Church, of Camden, N. J., by Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Fourth and Walnut Streets, and placed on boards for estimates. The structure will be two stories high from foundation, stone walls and slate roof. Interior to be in hard-wood finish, stained and plate glass. The foundation walls will be finished by Committee on Building, ready for superstructure. All latest comforts and conveniences will be introduced pertaining to a house of worship.

Otto C. Wolf, architect, 1345 Arch Street, Philadelphia, has made plans for a six-story refrigerating storehouse on Edward Street near Twenty-second. Structure will be 56x128 feet and be of stone, brick and iron construction with considerable cement flooring. Also the brewhouses will be materially altered and renovated. A 500-barrel kettle will be added, new stables for sixty head of horses will also be built upon the most approved method for health and care of stock. The owners are Christian Schmidt & Sons.

The Committee on Real Estate of the Bourse and the General Building Committee met on the 10th inst. for the purpose of considering plans offered for the construction of the building. As only fourteen sets of prints had been deposited for inspection, action was postponed upon the matter for the present. The dissatisfaction existing among a large majority of the leading architects of this city as to the conditions surrounding the competition has doubtless retarded to some extent the progress of the enterprise.

Willis G. Hale, architect, 1524-26 Chestnut Street has prepared a set of plans for an apartment house, which will be erected at Southeast Corner of Spruce and Sixteenth Streets. The site is 23x100 feet, and the structure will be ten stories high, built of mottled brick and red sandstone trimmings. The interior will be upon an entirely new plan and quite original with Mr. Hale. The most approved plan of cooking and heating will be introduced, elevator and electric work and best system of sanitary plumbing will be placed as well as all modern conveniences and improvements. It is understood Mr. Hale is at the head of the syndicate to build the house.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 316-20 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, some time since prepared plans for alterations of the Hotel Lafayette, Broad below Chestnut Street, but nothing has been done in the matter because the owners are now considering the prospect of erecting an entirely new house extending, it is said, the site to Chestnut Street, and making it one of the finest in the country. This question is now being considered by the executors of the late Moro Phillips estate, to whom the grounds belongs. The same architects are inviting estimates upon a structure for the Friends Asylum at Frankford, and invitations have been restricted to sub-contractors only. Structure will be of brick and stone, slate roof, and modern accommodations.

M. Feilding, architect, 110 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, has made plans for a fine stone dwelling house on Rex Avenue, Chestnut Hill, for H. S. Jeans, Esq. Structure to be finished on interior in hard wood, electric work and best of sanitary plumbing, etc. Also plans for a dwelling for Mrs. Davis at Germantown, to be stone, two stories high, shingle roof, stucco work on exterior, and good accommodations on interior.

Also plans for alterations and additions to house on School Lane near Green Street, for use of the Germantown Academy. Also plans for stone dwelling house for Mr. Jno. E. Parmer, Roxborough, to be finished in quartered oak first story and chestnut and cherry on the remainder of floors. Also plans for a block of office and store buildings at Roanoke, Va.

Horace Trumbauer, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, is engaged in preparing plans for a stable building for Mr. W. W. Harrison, at Glenside, Pa. Size, 170 x 106 feet. The structure will be built of Chestnut Hill blue stone and Pompeian brick, with trimmings of Indiana limestone. Roof to be covered with bright red Spanish tile. The building will contain stabling for about forty horses, and will have two carriage-houses, 50 x 100 feet each, all opening on an open court-yard in centre of building. The building will be furnished and fitted in the most approved style, electric light, bells and best sanitary work. Also plans for a farm barn, to contain stabling for forty cows, ten horses, and accommodation for sheep, colts, etc. Size, 88 x 192 feet, for the same party. Preparing plans for a country house for Mr. J. E. Huston, to be built at Moorestown, N. J. Size, 36 x 45 feet. Also plans for an extensive alteration to the residence of Mr. W. W. Wayne, Jr., at Paoli, Pa. Also plans for a country house for Wendell and Smith, to be built at Wayne, Delaware Co., Pa. Size, 40 x 104. To be built of blue stone, and to have red slate roof.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The contract for constructing nine miles of electric road on Catharine and Bainbridge Streets has been awarded by William Wharton & Son to Jeremiah Mahoney, of Camden, N. J.

At Germantown, the Women's Auxiliary Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is raising a fund of $5000 with which to furnish the new building of the association now in course of erection.

Jacob Marsch, builder, has started the erection of seven two-story houses on Kipp Street below Indiana Avenue, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings and good interior accommodation.

Jacob R. Garber, contractor, 52 north Thirteenth Street will build the new offices of the Adams Express Company at Seventeenth and Market Streets which has been noted heretofore in this journal.

Henry Shetzline, builder, will at once make excavation for eighteen three-story houses on East side of Eighth Street, below Norris, to be of press brick fronts, with stone trimmings, and good interior improvements.

The Glenmore Iron Works located at Paschalville will at an early day begin the erection of three new buildings upon the present grounds, one of which will be 40 x 60 feet and two others 30 x 75 feet one story high.

The Third National Bank, at Broad and Market Streets, is having plans prepared for an alteration of their present building into an office building, fitted with all modern conveniences, including steam heat, elevators, electric work, etc.

Edgar B. Meyer, builder, has bought from W. G. Serrill 196 feet of ground on Bancroft Street north of Huntingdon on which he will erect fourteen two-story houses, with brownstone trimmings and best interior accommodations.

The owners of 704, 706 Chestnut Street, have been notified to recede from the present line four feet at once or the work will be done by the Director of Public Works James H. Windrim in accordance with the ordinance of Councils.

J Benton Hoover of Glenside, Pa., has a contract to build a handsome house for Clinton Rhoades Esq., at Oak Lane to cost $7000, it will be fitted with all modern conveniences.—Also, one at Willow Grove for H Berger, of New Orleans.

The Belt Line have scored a victory in being granted the privilege to erect trestle work for its tracks in fronts of the Leamig estate at Bridesburg, outside the low water line. It is claimed that the land belongs to the Commonwealth hence the right given.

Geo. F. Payne & Co, contractors, 401 South Juniper Street, will make some interior alteration as well as addition, on fifth story of the Ledger Building, Sixth and Chestnut Streets.—The contractors will make interior alterations to 2112 and 2114 Fitzwater Street.

The contract to erect the Laboratory of Physics at the Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa., has been given to John Alum of that place, and work will be started at once, a full description of the plans by Addison Hutton, architect, has been given in this journal in previous numbers.

Joseph D. Austin, architect to Board of Education, 713 Filbert Street, has asked permission to sink wells in the yards of the schools at Twenty-first and Moore Streets, also Forty-second and Jefferson Streets. This is done in view of the fact that no sewers have been laid in the vicinity.

Nathan Snellenberg, merchant clothier, Twelfth and Market Street, has brought the premises on south side of Market 20 feet east of Seventh Street; the lot is 20 x 82 feet 6 inches. It is likely Mr. Snellenberg will erect a handsome stone building upon the site as the present one is sadly out of order.

Samuel Hart & Son 1109 Fairmount Avenue, have received a contract to erect the power house for the Traction Company at Sunderland and Grays Ferry Road, it will furnish the power for the Bainbridge and Catharine Street railway, furnished with steam power, dynamos, and all appurtenances for trolley wires.

The Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Company, at Greenwich Point, is about to begin the work of building the two additional buildings to their plant, and indicated some time ago in this journal; one will be 85 x 230 feet, two stories high, and the other 68 x 120 feet; both will be of brick, stone and iron, with slate roofs.

Terrence Fitzpatrick, builder, 3013 Kensington Avenue, will at once begin the erection of thirteen dwellings, three stories high on south side of Indiana Avenue west of Kensington and Seventeenth, and more on the latter avenue South of Indiana, all to be fine press brick fronts, stone trimmings and best interior work and improvements.

Mr. Joseph Nobre, Real Estate Assessor for the city of Philadelphia, has purchased, on behalf of himself and others, the ground lately the site occupied by the Central Theatre. It is understood that the purchase is in the interest of Harry C. Miner, theatrical manager of New York, who will at once begin the erection of an amusement house the particular kind not being as yet stated.

The Pennsylvania Hospital will, at an early day, have an addition of three new buildings started, which will be adapted to surgical uses alone and will be connected by a covered way. They are to be colonial in style of architecture, forty-five feet apart and fitted with all modern improvements and conveniences. Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut street, will prepare all drawings for the structures.

The Reading Railroad Company, is making extensive improvements at Rydal Station, on the Bound Brook Railroad. By means of a passageway built under the bed of the railroad two grade crossings are abolished. Several high banks have been graded and much terracing is being done in the vicinity of the station. It is a marked improvement. The abolishing of grade crossings is to follow at other points along the line.

It has been decided by the Philadelphia & Reading R. R. to erect an immense abattoir covering about six acres of ground in Port Richmond, adjoining their large elevators at that place. The location will be north of the grain elevators immediately upon the river front, thus gaining marine and land facilities for transportation; all the improvements known to the business of preparation of meat and transportation will be introduced, plans have not been fully prepared for the buildings.

John H. Fow, a prominent member of the bar of Philadelphia, is at the head of a company granted a charter on the 9th instant at Harrisburg, for the purpose of constructing an electric trolley road from Jenkintown to the city, running along old York road to its intersection with Erie Avenue. It will then cut across to Fifteenth Street by an elevated structure running down Fifteenth to Indiana Avenue, where it will connect with the Traction Company. It is expected work will be commenced at once.

McIlvaine, Strong & Co., 1345 Arch Street, are at present engaged in the improvement of a portion of the Twenty-fifth Ward, lying between Harrowgate Lane, Frankford Avenue, Kettlewell and Emerald Streets, building, when completed, about 250 two and three-story houses of the best character in dimensions and workmanship, all facing upon the main thoroughfares being three-stories high, and those on the cut streets one story less; these operations are personally superintended by the members of the firm, this being a guarantee of the best results. They are constructed of press brick, stone trimmings and all the latest modern improvements on the interior.

When additional improvements have been made the F. A. Poth Brewing Company will have one of the largest and most complete plants in this country at Thirty-first and Jefferson Streets. It is proposed to build a new brew-house and refrigerating building on the South side of Jefferson Street and a mammoth storage-house on the North side of the Thirty-first Street corner. The brew-house and grain storage building will be five stories high, with a domed roof, occupying a space 60 by 175 feet. The refrigerating machine house will be 88 by 44 feet, and will contain four refrigerating machines. The structures are to be built of brick laid in red mortar, with granite trimmings, the interior construction being entirely fire-proof. The improvements will cost over $350,000. The plans for the structures were prepared by Otto C. Wolf, architect and engineer, Northeast corner of Broad and Arch Streets.

All the preliminaries to the commencement of the construction of the I. O. O. F. Temple, Broad and Cherry Streets have now been completed, the contract awarded as noted in this journal and practical work will be started late in the present year, as the lease of the incumbent does not expire until November. Messrs. Hazelhurst and Huckel, the architects who drew the plans and who will supervise the construction, have spared no pains or labor to execute drawings satisfactory to the committee in charge and reflect credit upon them, as this will be, when completed, the finest Odd Fellows' temple in the world. The structure will be furnished with elevators, steam heat, and power, electric plant of the most approved kind, best sanitary work in the way of plumbing, tile work, glazed brick work, fancy and plain, polished marble and considerable slate work, iron stairways, column joists and sleepers, ornamental terra cotta and buff bricks in the exterior, as well as all modern conveniences.

Architect Notes.

John Ord, architect, for the Public Buildings, has prepared plans for a number of additional iron cage cells for reception of Court prisoners; these are to be constructed in and near the new court rooms.

Jno. F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, has made plans for alteration and addition to 1712 Columbia Avenue, for Alonzo Heller. This will include a four-story business building of brick, with stone trimmings and best interior work.

W. Bleyden Powell, architect, 423 Walnut Street, has made plans for alteration and addition to the Traction Company's buildings at Forty-first Street and Haverford Avenue. These contemplate considerable interior work as well as new parts to the present plant.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut Street, having completed plans for the factory of Hensel, Collady & Co., on the site lately occupied by the First Moravian Church and Applegate's Carousel, at Franklin and Vine Streets, has placed them on boards for estimate. The structure will be six stories high and fitted as described in this journal in a previous number; steam heat, electric work, elevators, and all modern improvements.

L. C. Hickman, architect, Brown Bros.' Building, Fourth and Chestnut Streets, has in course of preparation drawings for a magnificent seaside house for Rufus E. Shapley, Esq., to be erected at Spring Lake, N. J. The structure will be brick and frame, shingle roof, three stories high, interior will be in polished hard-woods, with elegant work upon mantels, vestibule and rooms finished in different colors, electric work throughout, best sanitary system of drainage and plumbing as well as all minor modern conveniences.

E. F. Durang, architect, Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for a pastoral residence for the R. C. Church at Bryn Mawr, Pa. Structure will be erected on Penn Street, of stone, three stories high, slate roof, interior will be in hard-wood, hot water, heat, electric bells and light, and best sanitary plumbing, etc. Also, plans for a pastoral residence to be erected for the new parish at Bridgeport, opposite Norristown, Pa., for Rev. Father Gately, to be two and a half stories high, 38 x 60 feet in size, slate roof and all modern conveniences on interior.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, have placed drawings upon the boards of contractors for estimates upon construction of the new building of the Academy of Natural Science, at Nineteenth and Cherry Streets, extending towards Race. The foundations for the superstructure were completed about two years ago after plans by another architect. These have been capped over and allowed to settle until this time. The Board of Trustees recently passed a resolution to proceed with the building. The construction will be of stone, brick and iron and fire-proof in every way, and will at the same time be very ornamental in design.

Furness Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, will, during the coming week, place the drawings of the new depot to be erected by the Pennsylvania Railroad at Broad and Market Streets, upon the boards of contractors for estimate. The structure will be 212 x 306 feet and ten stories high, with a wing extending 50 feet west of Fifteenth Street, which will be six stories high above the train shed; this will be used for offices. The main waiting room will be 82 x 137 feet, ticket room 20 x 65 feet, baggage room 55 x 58 feet, and a large lobby will be upon the second floor and reached by two elevators, as well as other parts of the building. The whole will be fitted on interior with electric light and bells and the most approved sanitary work, heating and ventilation. It is likely work upon the structure will be started during the month of September.

The Committee on Real Estate and Building of the Bourse, at Philadelphia, Pa., have made a final selection of architectural plans and drawings awarded. David Evans, 204 South Fifth Street has the contract to make all drawings in detail and to supervise its construction. The structure will be ten stories high, 130 x 364 feet in area and 165 feet high, and will be Ionic in style, the first three stories of gray granite and six above of buff brick, whilst the tenth will be in ornamental terra-cotta. The main hall will be 126 x 252 feet and 51 feet high, with eight fine large elevators. The building will be lighted with electric light, and bells will be placed throughout in all offices and rooms. Steam heat and the best of ventilating systems will be introduced. Seven hundred rooms, offices and rooms, will be fitted up with every convenience, each opening into a corridor leading to the elevators. The tenth story will be entirely occupied as an exhibition department and all power will be derived from the machinery placed in the basement. Entrances and exits will be upon all sides of the building leading to main hall. It is designed to make the whole a strictly fire-proof building, the frame-work inside the walls being of steel construction. When completed this will be the largest and most commodious office building in the United States and will be a monument to the enterprise and genius of the citizens of this city.

The structures will be of stone and brick, hard-wood interiors and all modern conveniences. Mr. Tourison will also build a new station for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Bridgeton, N. J., to cost about $12,000.

The Acorn Club, now located at 1504 Walnut Street, are considering the matter of purchasing the house and ground now held on lease. Nothing definite has yet taken place, but the matter is likely to be considered at the first assembly in the Fall. Considerable improvement was done to the property when the club was organized and took possession, and the ladies feel that it should be entirely under their control, hence the negotiation for purchase, when other minor improvements may be made.

THE ROYAL BLUE LINE.

What an Eminent Railroader Thinks of it.

Those who have used the Royal Blue Line between Philadelphia and New York well know that the line is deservedly accredited with being the finest piece of railroad in the country; that its coaches are the most magnificent, and that its trains run more smoothly and are the fastest in the world. To those, however, who have never used the Royal Blue Line, the following abstract from a letter written by an eminent railroad authority to a gentleman connected with the Reading Railroad System, will doubtless prove interesting. After the usual formal greetings, the letter reads: "I have just taken my first ride on the Reading, having come over from New York this morning on your 11.30 A. M. Royal Blue Line train, and I cannot refrain from congratulating you on being connected with so superb a railroad. We made mile after mile in just 50 seconds, and the train ran as smoothly as though not exceeding ten miles an hour. The appointments were first-class, and I never had a better dinner or one better served on any dining car." Commendation from the source whence this came must have been particularly gratifying to the Reading Railroad officials. It has always been the aim of the present Reading management to provide the very best for its patrons, and the service on the Royal Blue Line, as well as on other portions of the system, is conclusive evidence of success in that direction. That the discriminating public appreciate these efforts, and recognize the fact that the Royal Blue Line trains are as advertised, the finest, fastest and safest in the world, is evidenced by the constantly increasing business on that line.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Thomas Johnson, contractor, 2036 Lingo Street, will at once start the erection of thirteen two-story houses on Dickinson Street, north side, east of Twenty-first Street, all to be of press brick, stone trimmings, and best interior work and accommodations.

Samuel Morrison, carpenter, 3551 North Fifth Street, has received the contract to erect the hall for the Harmonie Society, at Eleventh and Wistar Streets, fully described in our architectural notes of a previous issue. It will be a four-story structure of brick, stone and iron, 80 x 43 feet, and a two-story rear building, 63 x 70.3½ ft. Work to be started at once.

The Ladies' Auxiliary Committee of the Columbian Exposition have decided to erect a Philadelphia model home at Chicago, Ill. W. T. B. Roberts, the builder, has offered the plans for the structure gratuitously, and Contractor Hand will superintend the construction, whilst the Dempsey Bros., Twenty-first and Columbia Avenue, will furnish it throughout.

Pepper & Register, electrical and mechanical engineers, Provident Building, corner Fourth and Chestnut Streets, have secured the contract to build the Easton, South Easton and Phillipsburg Electric Railway, now consolidated and called the Easton Transit Co., work on which will commence not later than September 10th, and to be completed by Thanksgiving Day.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1936 South College Avenue, is about to begin an operation of five dwellings on the site lately occupied by the House of Refuge. The work has started on Bucknell Street and will be continued until the entire block has been erected. It is Mr. Sharp's intention to build quite a number of fine three-story houses on the front streets of the location.

The George M. Newhall Engineering Company, who drew the plans and specifications for a molasses boiling house, to be built at Havana, Cuba, has awarded the contract to John W. Fritzinger, P. O. address, Master Builders' Exchange, Philadelphia. The main building will be 60 x 150 feet, three stories high, with annex, 45 x 60 feet, four stories high. All heavy yellow pine timbers, bridge construction.

Joseph L. Nobre has sold to Wm. J. Gilmore, theatrical manager, the site purchased by him of the Central, lately burned, on Walnut Street above Eighth, for $85,000. It is Mr. Gilmore's intention to rebuild the amusement place at an early day, but as yet his plans are not complete. No plans have been prepared, nor has he contracted definitely for either architect or builder. One thing may be said, however; it is the owner's intention to erect a greatly improved structure and different in construction from any now erected in this city.

Director Beitler, on the 19th inst., opened bids for the construction of a fire boat for the use of the city on the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers. Councils appropriated $40,000 for the purpose, but, as all the proposals received were considerably beyond that figure, the contract could not be awarded, and Councils will be asked to increase the amount of the appropriation. The specifications call for a thoroughly fire-proof boat, 110 feet long and 23 feet 7 inches width over all, the upper portion to be steel, and the boat to be equipped with first-class pumps, etc.

On the 18th inst, Director Windrim sent a final order to the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit Company, as well as a copy to the tenants of 704 Chestnut Street, in regard to the work of setting back that building from the present line to the one proposed in the ordinance by City Councils; if no action is taken by either of the above-named parties, Mr. Windrim will direct the work to be done at once under supervision of his department and the cost will be entered up against the property. The owner of the property is the estate of the late Jules Haul.

The country took the lead over the city on realty sales of interest on the 17th inst. The biggest sale was made out in Darby, where T. & W. Bradley, acting for the Moore estate, sold 36 acres to Adolph Segal for $55,000. The land is between Darby station, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, and the same station on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and Fifth Street and Cobb's creek. It is said to be the intention of Mr. Segal to put up four factories for as many concerns and a number of dwelling houses. A fireproof safe works and a silk works are among the prospective plants mentioned.

Daniel McGarry, contractor, Forty-eighth and Spring Garden Streets, has been awarded the contract for building of the "Sheridan Hotel," at Forty-fourth and Lancaster Avenue, and will be compelled to have it completed by Dec. 1st, 1892. The plans were made by T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, and who will supervise the work of building.—Mr. Miller has also awarded the contract for the Ambler Baptist Church to A. M. Walkup, 825 Filbert Street.—Work on the Mantua Avenue Presbyterian Church is nearing completion and the architect will soon ask for estimates on the pew sittings and stained-glass work.

The extensive operation of the Fairmount Improvement Company opposite Lansdowne drive and Memorial Hall, is to have an additional four houses erected under supervision of J. C. Worthington, architect, 1305 Arch Street, who drew the plans and which have been fully noted in this journal in previous numbers. These structures are chiefly of stone and brick construction, four stories high and erected upon the most scientific principles for, health, comfort and general utility.

A number have been set apart for what is known as apartment houses and arranged in suites of rooms with every comfort and convenience for patrons and tenants.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will within a few days submit an estimate to the Director of Public Works for the construction of a bridge over the tracks of the North Pennsylvania Railroad near Fourth and Tioga Street. The same company will also furnish bids for the construction of bridges over Ontario Street, Glenwood, Sedgeley and Erie Avenues. For the last ten years the crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the North Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at grade at a point on the New York division of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company known as North Penn Junction, has been a menace to life as well as of great expense to both railroad companies. A large number of people have been injured at this point and the destruction to rolling stock and other equipment has been very great. Several years ago negotiations were begun between the Pennsylvania and Reading companies and the city for doing away with the grade crossing of the North Pennsylvania and the New York division of the Pennsylvania Railroad companies at Fourth and Tioga Streets. A dispute arose as to which road should elevate its tracks. The officials of the Reading Company claimed that as their road was the first laid and that the Pennsylvania was constructed years afterward, the Pennsylvania Company should go under the tracks of the Reading and the former company should meet the expense. This was practically agreed upon when the city stepped in and refused to sanction such an agreement, as it would necessitate a change in grade in a number of streets. It was finally decided that the Pennsylvania tracks should go over the tracks of the North Pennsylvania. The Director of Public Works, through its Bureau of Surveys, has sent specifications to the Pennsylvania and Reading Companies for the work in general for the abolishing of this grade crossing. The city has appropriated $200,000 for the work and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has appropriated $100,000. The work to which these specifications relate consists in general of the lowering of the tracks of the North Pennsylvania Railroad so as to pass under the connecting railway, thereby necessitating the re-arrangement and depression of the North Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, including the excavation for the depression, the erection of retaining walls and abutments and the relaying of the tracks of the North Pennsylvania to conform with the revised alignment and grades; the erection of all necessary temporary tracks and trestling for the maintenance of travel and the erection of bridges on Ontario Street, Glenwood, Sedgeley and Erie Avenues, and on the Connecting Railway, over the tracks of the North Pennsylvania Railroad together with their necessary approaches and appurtenances and sewers and other municipal work connected therewith. It is said that the $200,000 appropriated by the city is not enough, but as the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is so desirous of abolishing grade crossings along the line of its road, that it will take the contract for the construction of these bridges, even if it should lose by the operation. The ordinance of Councils for the change of the grade of the streets mentioned above and the erection of bridges, permits only the Philadelphia & Reading Company, North Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which is a leased line of the former, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Connecting Railroad, which is a branch line of the Pennsylvania, from Mantua to Frankford Junction, to become bidders.

Charles McCall, contractor, 20 North Eleventh Street, Philadelphia, has been awarded the contract for the "Head House" or superstructure of the Philadelphia and Reading Terminal Depot at Twelfth and Market Streets. This will include all the work above the first story now in course of construction. The station proper will have a frontage of 101 feet on Twelfth Street. It will be 160 feet from foundations to parapet wall. There will be eight stories and one-half story between the second and third. The lobby will extend from the train shed to the station, a distance of 47 feet, and 267 feet along Market, and is to be on the second floor or track floor. The baggage room is to be on the first floor, reaching from the head house to Hunter Street, a distance of 70 feet. The facade will be lined with pink granite from curb to second floor, set in alternate bands of cut work, and rock face finishing at the second floor with a heavy moulded course of the same granite. The facing above the second floor will be of pink brick and white terra cotta. The parapet wall and balustrade above level of roof will be covered with copper. The entrance to the first floor waiting room will be covered with an arcade extending along Market Street. This arcade will be two stories high, the roof forming a balcony. At the third floor level there will be an elaborate oriel window at the corner of Twelfth and Market Streets, opening into President McLeod's private room. The entrance to the station proper will be in the centre of the Market Street front, opening into a waiting room. This room is to be 96 by 80 feet, and will contain the ticket offices and a post office. From this room there will be a double passenger elevator and the main entrance stairs leading to the main waiting-room on the second floor. The first floor waiting-room and the entrance stairs will be finished with a tile dado about eight feet high and pink and white pressed brick in bands from dado to ceiling. The ceiling will be ornamented in plaster. The second floor will be divided into a main waiting-room, ladies' waiting-room, ladies' toilet, smoking, dining-room, and restaurant. The main waiting-room will be 96x80 feet, extending 34 feet from floor to ceiling. The floor will be marble and the walls covered with Majolica tile and trimmed with marble to the height of 19 feet. At this height there will be an ornamental cast-iron balcony extending around the room; above this balcony the walls will be plaster finish, with a vaulted ceiling, that, for elaborate finish and fineness of detail, will be far in advance of anything of the kind in the country. The fireplace in the main waiting-room will be a conspicuous feature of that most elaborate apartment. The ladies' waiting-room, which will face on Market Street at the east end of the building, will be finished handsomely. A parquetry floor with borders of colored marble, a marble dado and an elaborately ornamented plaster frieze and ceiling with a marble fireplace will add beauty to the room. The dining room, which will also face on Market Street west of the waiting-room, will be finished much the same as the ladies' waiting-room. The doors of this room will be covered with finely embossed leather. The restaurant finish will correspond with that of the dining-room. The exit from trains will be through a stairway 15 feet wide leading to Twelfth Street, and one 16 feet wide leading to Market Street. These stairs are to be finished in enameled brick of two colors, trimmed with marble, the one leading to Market Street vaulted with tile ceiling. The station above the second story will be used as offices, with the exception of the eighth story, where there will be a completely equipped kitchen. A perfect system of elevators and electric work will be introduced for the benefit and comfort of the patrons of the road.

We are advertising at present a $16.50 Suit, Cutaway one of the shapes, the other, an easy Sack.

The Material.—Clay Diagonal Worsted. It will prove its goodness in its staying power—in its long wear.

We have made 1000 Suits to begin with. You know what a difference in price between building 400 houses and 4. It's the same in making 1000 suits, else we wouldn't sell it for $16.50.

Architect Notes.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect and engineer, 102 South Twelfth Street, has been engaged to prepare plans for a large factory, for John Wiseman, in this city. Details of the structure will be given at a later date.

Owing to increase of business and the great necessity for more room, Angus S. Wade, architect, will on September 1st remove his office to rooms 46 and 47 Hale Building, corner of Juniper and Chestnut Streets. Mr. Wade will fit these rooms up so as to give the necessary advantages, and where he will be glad to receive his clients and friends after the date mentioned above.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, is engaged on plans for a fine Queen Anne residence, to be built for J. T. Bougher, at Ridley Park, Pa., to be of frame, with shingle treatment, three-stories high, slate roof, interior to be in hard wood, electric work and all modern improvements with best of sanitary plumbing, etc., Mr. Miller has also been retained to prepare plans for a fine country place to be fitted up at an early day, near Ambler, Pa.

E. F. Durang, architect, southwest corner of Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia, has prepared plans for the new Roman Catholic church of St. Augustine, at Ford and Rainbow Streets, Bridgeport, opposite Norristown, Pa. The structure will be of brick and stone, two stories high and 50 x 80 feet in area. Also plans for a parochial house for the Rev. M. J. Gately, priest in charge. This building was fully described in our last issue of this journal. The corner stone of the church was laid by Archbishop Ryan on the 28th inst. with impressive ceremonies.

Architects Hazelhurst & Huckel, Drexel building, have prepared plans for alteration to a residence for G. M. Taylor, corner Orthodox and Leiper Streets. To be three stories, built of pompeian brick, stone trimmings, have slate roof, bathroom outfit, electric bells, wall paper, gas fixtures, plate and stained glass, grates, steam heat, oak finish, laundry fixtures, wood mantels, range, tiling, plumbing. The same architects have prepared plans for an apartment and flat house, to be erected on Langley Avenue, Chicago. To be eight stories, built of brick and stone, have slate roof, bath room outfit, electric bells, incandescent electric light, passenger elevator, plate and stained glass, steam heat, laundry fixtures, lavatories, range, tiling, wood mantels, plumbing, washstands, water closet fixtures. Same architects have prepared plans for a hotel to be erected at Rochester, N. Y. To be 58 x 74 feet, five stories, built of common and pressed brick, stone foundation and trimmings, terra cotta, have slate roof, annunciators, asbestos, automatic sprinkler, bathroom outfits, electric bells and lighting, two elevators, gas fixtures, plate and stained glass, grates, steam heat, oak finish, corrugated and galvanized iron work, laundry fixtures, lavatories, wood mantels, tiling ventilators, plumbing, washstands, water closet fixtures.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Philadelphia Granite and Blue Stone Co. has removed to Southwest corner of Twenty-fourth and Locust Streets.

At Steubenville, Jefferson Co., Ohio, Boshe Dohrman, Jr., will erect three handsome dwellings on Fourth Street. Steam heat, electric lights, etc. Cost about $12,000.

Croft and Allen, confectioners, Thirty-third and Market Streets, will make an addition of three stories to their present immense plant. Work upon it will be at once started.

The Philopatrian Institute, 221 South Twelfth Street, are agitating the question of a new building. Considerable division of sentiment appears to pervade the society, hence the delay in the matter.

Estimates are being made upon an additional structure to the new McCahn Sugar Refinery now being built south of Tasker street, facing on Otsego, near Morris. It will be used as a warehouse for storage of sugar refined.

Daniel O'Connell, real estate broker, of Germantown, has awarded a contract for the erection of seven stores and dwellings and one dwelling house at Cheltenham Avenue and Chew Street to Wm. Phillips. The buildings will cost about $28,000.

W. J. Gruhler, contractor, Germantown, has been given the contract to erect a fine residence for H. S. Jeanes, at Rex Avenue and Thirtieth Street, Chestnut Hill. A full description of this house was given in this journal from plans by M. Fielding, architect, August 17th. The work will be done under his immediate supervision.

The Evans Furnace Works, Thirteenth, above Buttonwood Street, have been awarded the contract for heating Miss Baldwin's School, at Bryn Mawr, Pa. The plans were made for the structure by F. L. and W. L. Price, 731 Walnut Street. Also, a contract by F. R. Watson, architect, to heat the house of W. C. Wilt, at Devon, Pa.

A contract for iron columns and ornamental work for the Reading Terminal Station, at Twelfth and Market Streets, amounting to about $55,000, was awarded on the 26th inst., to the Tacony Iron and Metal Works. The same company has also been given the contract for cast iron work for the Reading engine house, at Ninth and Green streets.

William Steele & Son, contractors, 506 Walnut Street, have been awarded the contract to erect the new factory of Hensel, Colladay & Co., at Franklin and Vine Streets. This structure has been fully described in a previous number of this journal from plans made by Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut Street, and who will supervise the work of construction.

Louis Deitrich, contractor, Chestnut Hill, will erect, under contract, a new school house in the Thirty-fifth Ward, at Somerton. The new structure will stand upon a lot 37 x 67 feet, and two stories high. The walls will be so constructed as to permit other stories being built should they be needed. Material to be used will be brick and stone, with considerable iron work.

George W. Roydhouse & Co., builders and contractors, offices Builders' Exchange, have been awarded the contract for the excavation and foundation work for the new office building and depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad and Market Streets, and will at once begin operations. The plans for the superstructure are now being prepared, and work upon this immense structure will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible to completion.

The Master Builders' Mechanical Trade School will re-open for the third term September 1st. Evening instruction is to be given as usual in carpentry, bricklaying, plastering, stone-cutting, blacksmith's work, painting and plumbing. About seventy applications have been put in thus far, especially for instruction in the department of bricklaying, the graduates from which are to be given a preference of employment by the Bricklayers' Association.

Secretary Foster is awaiting the return of Director of the Mint Leech, who is expected back next week, before taking up the new Philadelphia Mint matter. As soon as Leech returns preparations will begin for acquiring a site for the Mint. Although there has been no formal announcement, there is little doubt that the Secretary will expend the $80,000 now at his disposal, or the greater portion of it, in purchasing the site recommended by the volunteer commission appointed by him last year to select one. Little more can be done after that except to perfect the plans for the new building, until Congress shall have made additional appropriations and provision for selling the old Mint.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, AUG. 31, 1892.

In real estate circles the opinion is that a large buying interest will surely follow the usual apathy of business, in fact, a good Fall business is already assured. What is really needed in real estate circles is more earnest support and sympathy with the Trades' League of this city, for, while the organization itself was the conception of our busy merchants, who have worked incessantly and unselfishly for the interest of all, there is no earthly reason why our builders and contractors and real estate men should not lend a helping hand now that it is most needed. It was through the Trades' League that stop-over privileges were granted by the railroads, and it was through the League that the good news was heralded throughout every State and Territory, and if the gentlemen of this city identified with its building and real estate interest cannot appreciate the good that is to be derived even in their own line from such effective work as that of the League, it is time for it to quit. Thousands of buyers have already been brought to the city, who were strangers to it in everything but its name, and it is only reasonable to suppose that among them who have come, and those who are coming, there must be buyers of real estate for investment, as well as a scattering few who will ultimately take up their business and homes among us. The annual dues of the Trades' League are only ten dollars per year, but it is not alone money that is needed, it is the might and influence of active and enterprising business men and certainly no business interest possesses more of these than those we seek to serve.

From the absorption of the immense amount of American securities that have been sold by foreigners since the first of January, it is only fair to conclude that a high degree of prosperity exists among the people of America. To be sure, buyers are extremely plenty when times are good and quotations low, but in the present case no great sacrifices have been made, if any, for it is doubtful if the stocks sold for foreign account were worth a fraction more than they brought. The necessities of the foreign holders were arbitrary, their unloading was neither the result of shaken confidence nor a risky future, the pending nor the impending had nothing to do with it, as was clearly demonstrated by the American purchasers who rapidly absorbed all that was offered.

Nothing can more clearly demonstrate the confidence Americans have in their own business future than this self-same disposition to invest in their own securities, while, at the same time, nothing so pointedly and positively fixes the true status of business abroad, as the wholesale unloading of these self-same investments.

Of course the balance of the present year, is to be fraught with political excitement, delays of large enterprises may be occasioned, as the chances swerve from one presidential campaign to the other, but it is settled in the minds of business men generally that Mr. Cleveland is too level-headed to endorse any radically disturbing measure, no matter how the two houses may be constituted, or what they may do, while with Mr. Harrison, his sentiments and policy are so thoroughly defined now that nothing is to be feared from that quarter, hence it is only fair to conclude that outside of the usual political distraction attending all presidential elections, business is not likely to be disturbed in the least. A large fall business is sure, on the basis that the wants of prosperous people are many, and at present we believe Americans to be the most prosperous people in the world.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Chas. Auchter, contractor, 1523 North Twenty-seventh Street, has been awarded the contract to make alteration and addition to the club house of the Maennerchor Society at 551-53 North Fifth Street. The plans were drawn by Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, and the work will be done under his supervision. The drawings were fully noted in previous issue of this journal.

Active work is now in progress upon the new Caledonian Club House, at Thirteenth and Spring Garden Streets, as well as the Normal School in the same locality. The school will be a model of its kind, and far excel many that have been erected in this country. The architect supervising the work, Mr. J. D. Austin, also prepared the plans. The club house plans were made by John Ord, architect, of the Public Buildings in this city, and also possesses many new and important features. A full description of both structures has been given in this journal.

Councils appropriated $1500 for a bridge over Morris Street in the Twenty-second Ward with a sort of understanding that the Pennsylvania Railroad would furnish the balance. Some difficulty arose as to just how this was to be done. Last week Councilman Meehan, Acting City Engineer Webster, and the representative of the railroad company had a conference, which ended in the company instructing one of their contractors to bid for the road at the $1500 appropriated, under a guarantee from the company to pay the balance of the cost. Under this arrangement a bid was made on Friday, and it is believed the long desired bridge will soon be started.

There seems to be no longer any doubt about the building of the Quaker City Elevated Road on Market Street, and all the preliminaries are being arranged by Robert Alexander, Esq., attorney for the syndicate, and others. It is understood that August Belmont & Co., Vermilye & Co. and Edward Sweet & Co., all of New York, who became special surety in the sum of $100,000 to insure the building of the road and the strengthening of the Market Street bridge, will be extensively interested in the enterprise. It is said that their representatives have thoroughly studied the situation here, and it is upon their report that the bankers are willing to take hold of the enterprise.

Director Windrim when questioned upon the subject of the notices served upon the property owners of Catharine and Bainbridge Streets to reset curbs, to repave footways, and to make underground sewer connection under the provisions of the city ordinance along the route of the Traction Company's proposed trolley road, said the city proposes to make Bainbridge and Catharine Streets among the finest streets in the city. The streets are to be covered with the best quality of asphalt, and an oval gutter of Portland cement is to be laid all along the side to carry off the surface drainage. This will change the character of these streets wonderfully in regard to cleanliness, appearance and general condition; and under existing ordinances it is the duty of all property-owners to repave, reset curbs and make sewer connections to correspond. The iron poles for the trolley system have been nearly all set along these streets, and the flange tracks are being laid as rapidly as possible. Foundations are being built for the power house at Sutherland Avenue. Owing to a break at the Danville Rolling Mill, where the tracks are being made, some delay has been occasioned.

The Buffalo Builders' Exchange Association will celebrate the completion of their building by giving the prominent master builders of the country a reception and banquet, September 6. An elaborate program has been arranged for the entertainment of the guests, and the gentlemen who will go from this city are confident that a good time is in store for them. Those who have accepted invitations so far are John S. Stevens, ex-president of the National Association of Master Builders; Stacy Reed, a director of the National Association; Murriel Dobbins, president; William Harkness, secretary; and William B. Irvin, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Philadelphia Builders' Exchange. The dedicatory services will take place in the new Exchange building, after which a reception and banquet will be given the guests at the Iroquois Hotel. Excursions to points of interest in and about Buffalo will take up a day or two more. The Buffalo Exchange, as well as the Washington and Kansas City Exchanges, are direct results of the successful operation of the Philadelphia Exchange, although Boston has had a Builders' Exchange for the past thirty years. Ever since the Local Exchange was thrown open for business, the National Association has urged the Exchanges of each city to have a building of its own, and the Buffalo building is the latest result. The Philadelphia builders have taken a great deal of pride in the progressive spirit displayed in the line that leads to fine Building Exchanges, and will go to Buffalo feeling that they have a sort of right there.

The improvements now in progress on the south side of Chestnut Street, west of Seventh, are nearing completion, the fronts needing only the minor details of ornamentation. The interior of nearly all are prepared for painting, glazing and the electric work. The Hotel Metropole, on Broad Street, south of Locust, has been started, and the John F. Betz Office Building is doing well in the way of progress, while the Reading Terminal has now completed all of the large contracts, and work is being pushed with much vigor. The Hotel Vendig, at Twelfth and Market Streets, is about being completed and furnished. Also the hotel at Eleventh and Filbert Streets, for Gallagher & Burton, is now under roof and ready for the interior work. It is likely the new hotel to be erected by John M. Sharp, at Twelfth and Arch Streets, will be started at an early date. Work upon all the theatres and places of amusement are nearing completion as the Fall season approaches, and only lack the finishing touches. Excavation has been made for the six-story store 1013 Market Street, by John R. Wiggins, builder, who will erect the structure, the same gentleman having just finished a magnificent building for the same uses for N. Snellenburg & Co., at 932-34 Market Street. A start has been made upon the work of erecting the new station for the P. R. R. as noted in these columns. As a whole the season has been propitious for building operations, and in consequence all are well advanced at this time.

The overcrowded condition of Moyamensing Prison, where as many as ten men are sometimes crowded into a single cell, calls for an early completion of the new County Prison on the House of Correction grounds at Holmesburg, which was commenced several years ago. The first appropriation for the new institution was made in 1881, for the enclosing walls, but the work was not actually commenced until 1886, when an appropriation of $146,000 was made, and has been added to yearly since then. It is designed to have six corridors, one story high each, branching out from a rotunda, in front of which are the entrance and administration buildings. The plot contains 17½ acres, enclosed by a wall of masonry 35 feet in height, 10 feet in thickness at the base, and 3 feet at the top. Thus far $820,000 has been appropriated and expended, and contracts have been awarded for $120,000 additional work for placing the buildings under roof. For next year an appropriation of $350,000 is asked to complete the work, which, if granted, will enable the Inspectors to finish the institution early in 1894. The insane wards at Blockley, including the new building recently opened, are also terribly overcrowded with unfortunates of both sexes, and the question of providing for the future as well as the present increase has been under discussion for some time past among members of the Board of Charities and Correction. A number of plans have been discussed, the one meeting with most favor being that of erecting a number of new buildings at Holmesburg, in the vicinity of the new County Prison, suitable for an Almshouse, to which all the present inmates could be removed, and allowing the present Almshouse buildings to be used entirely by the insane and hospital departments. The subject will be brought to the attention of City Councils after the Summer recess, and an effort made to secure the relief that is necessary.

Foundations have been laid on Bryn Mawr Avenue, Bryn Mawr, for the pretty hospital of that name, which is to be erected at a cost of $37,000, and completed for occupancy before the close of January. Architecturally, the building will be all that can be desired, and otherwise it will be up to date, having electric lighting, steam heating, and the best sanitary arrangements. It will extend 80 feet along the avenue on which it fronts, and include a wing on the south side 40 feet deep. The main building will be three stories high. Local stone will be used in its construction. The interior will have a natural finish of oil and white pine. No laths will be used, and, instead, there will be an interlining of brick, upon which the plaster will be laid. On the first floor of the main building are to be two private wards, 12 by 18 and 15 by 20 feet; nurse's room, 11 by 12; office, 15 by 20; dining room, 12 by 18; bath rooms, closets, etc. The second floor will contain a prominent feature of the structure, namely four private wards for pay patients, two of these are to be 15 by 20 feet each, one 12 by 18, and another 8 by 16. They will be fully furnished and will have open fire-places. In addition there are nurse's room, 11 by 12 feet; dry room, 12 by 14; toilet room, 11 by 6; bath room, 11 by 8. The third floor will be devoted principally to sleeping apartments. There are to be two bedrooms, 13 by 21; another, 8 by 15; and two others, 10 by 17 each; nurses' rooms, 7 by 14. There is also to be a balcony on this floor. In the basement are to be a kitchen, 12 by 17; servants' room, 15 by 19; pantry, 7 by 8; ironing room, 11 by 17; receiving ward room, 14 by 19; boiler room, 10 by 11; laundry, 11 by 18; bath room, 6 by 7; store room, 7 by 12; cold storage room, 10 by 11. A "lift," or elevator, will extend from the receiving ward to the second floor. On the first floor of the wing will be the women's ward, 24 by 30. The men's ward, of the same dimensions, will be on the second floor. Both of these wards will have large open fireplaces, and will be thoroughly ventilated. Space has been reserved on the north side of the main building for another wing, to be added when occasion demands. The Board of Trustees of the hospital is composed of T. Wistar Brown, President; Rudolph Ellis, Treasurer; J. Randall Williams, Secretary; George S. Gerhard, M. D., and Frank W. Paul. The Lady Managers are Mrs. A. J. Cassatt, Mrs. Rudolph Ellis, Mrs. Ellis Yarnall, Mrs. James D. Winsor, Mrs. James Rawle, Mrs. J. Randall Williams and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall. The builder is Henry Frorer.

We have dropped the "Gilbertson's Old Method" brand of roofing plates, therefore we now WITHDRAW our GUARANTEE from same.

Our Reasons are as Plain as A, B, C.

A We could not act in good faith with our customers had we accepted the propositions made to us by the maker with a view to equalize the increased cost brought about by the advanced duty.
B Numerous complaints and letters received by us from our customers positively assert that the quality of this Brand is not now what it used to be.
C After careful investigations we find we can make a much better, and a heavier and more evenly-coated plate in our own works in Philadelphia, than we have ever imported. Hence, our heaviest coated, guaranteed Roofing Plate will now be the Haller is the architect.—Twenty-six modern residences will be erected in Cooke Park, Georgetown Heights, which is situated between Thirtieth and Thirty-first and Q and U Streets, Georgetown, one of the best located subdivisions in the District. These lots are situated on one of the highest points in the city, furnishing a beautiful view, and making most desirable building sites. Cambridge and Irving Places, the new streets created, are 65 feet wide, which is more than is required by the regulations governing subdivisions and the creation of new streets. Plans have been made for twenty-six handsome residences, ranging from $3000 to $7000, to be erected there. Mr. Fickling has had plans made for four modern dwellings, to be erected on Thirtieth Street.—Lieutenant B. M. Pursell, of the Signal Office, is going to erect one of the handsomest houses in this section at the corner of Avon Place and U Street.—Mrs. Geo. W. West, ten on U Street just west of Thirtieth Street and four on Irving Place.—The old Cooke mansion, at the corner of Thirtieth and Q Streets, was purchased a few days ago by Mr. Gresham, of the Northwestern Insurance Co. It will be modernized to some extent and then occupied as a residence by the owner.—This neighborhood will be further improved by a block of six nice houses to be begun within a week at Thirtieth and Q Streets by a syndicate headed by H. P. Gilbert.

We are advertising at present a $16.50 Suit, Cutaway one of the shapes, the other, an easy Sack.

The Material.—Clay Diagonal Worsted. It will prove its goodness in its staying power—in its long wear.

We have made 1000 Suits to begin with. You know what a difference in price between building 400 houses and 4. It's the same in making 1000 suits, else we wouldn't sell it for $16.50.

Architect Notes.

M. B. Bean, Lansdale, Pa., has prepared plans for improvements to the dwelling of Philip H. Fretz, of Doylestown, Pa.

Hazelhurst and Huckel, architects, Drexel Building, have made plans for a back building for E. D. Smith, 1517 North Sixteenth Street. To be brick, stone trimmings, with handsome bay windows. The building will be three stories high and finished on interior in hard wood, best sanitary plumbing and every modern conveniences. The drawings are now up for estimate.

Will. H. Decker, architect, Hale Building, has prepared plans for the Holy Trinity Baptist Congregation's new church, which will be erected on Bainbridge west of Eighteenth Street. The structure will be Gothic in style of architecture. The front will be of buff brick, ornamented with stone, and have a tower 65 feet high at one corner. The building will be 64 x 36 feet, two stories high with a basement. The lot upon which it will stand is 64 x 80 feet.

Samuel Hall Day and Crawford Coates, architects, 910 Drexel Building, who have all the work in hand for the Baron Hirsch Fund at Woodbine, N. J., report the twenty cottages well under way and the hotel and school houses in the same condition. At an early day plans will be completed for a factory to be erected in the same place by Philadelphia capital for the manufacture of clothing. It will be 26 x 50 feet, two stories high and fitted with steam power and modern conveniences.

Theophilus P. Chandler, architect, Brown Bros. Building, Fourth and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for a complete remodelling of the house 1229 Locust Street for the Seybert estate. The drawings present a fine five-story front of Pompeian brick, with Lake Superior stone trimmings; roof will be of red slate. The interior will be in hard woods, tile work, stained and plate glass, hot air heat, best of sanitary plumbing, electric work throughout, lavatories and all modern conveniences. Estimates are being made.

New York is to have a Columbus Memorial Arch, at the Fifty-ninth Street entrance to Central Park. Richard M. Hunt, John LaFarge, Augustus St. Gaudens, L. P. Dibesnola and Robert J. Hojuet, of the Sub-committee on Art of the New York Columbian Celebration, have awarded the first prize in competitive designs to Henry D. Herts, of this city. Herts, who is only 20 years old, will receive a gold medal, and the arch he has so successfully designed will be erected in temporary form for next month's celebration. The design of the proposed new arch is not radically original in form. Its general outlines conform to that conventional style which has so long held the fancy of the world. It has fountains and relief in each column, and is surmounted by a bronze allegorical group representing discovery.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut street, has been retained to prepare plans for the superstructure of the R. C. Church of St. Anthony, of Padua, and will at an early day receive estimates after completion of details. The building will be located at Fitzwater street and Gray's Ferry road, and be 62 x 146 feet, with a large basement and an audience room above. Avondale stone, with Indiana limestone trimmings, for material. Slate roof, with a tower at one corner. The main entrance on Fitzwater street will be in Romanesque style, above which will be a relief statue of St. Anthony, pastoral staff in hand, with elegantly stained glass in ornamental windows to the rear of statue. The sides of the structure will contain handsomely stained windows, and the interior work will be very handsome and durable in open polished wood-work. All modern accommodations will be introduced, making it one of the finest temples in the diocese.

George W. Plowman, architect, 1406 Chestnut Street, has been directed by Wm. J. Gilmore to prepare plans for a new fire-proof theatre, to be erected upon the site of the late Central, on Walnut Street above Eighth. It is to be constructed chiefly of brick, stone, iron and fire-proof cement and plaster work, with special features in the way of exits. No dressing rooms will be placed under the stage, or in places to jeopardize in any manner the occupants' safety. The structure will be fitted with special improvements in the matter of electricity, steam heat, ventilation and general comforts. Nothing will be omitted which will contribute to the general comfort and convenience of the patrons. Building and Real Estate Notes.

In an interview with Shoneman Bros., it is positively denied that they propose to erect a store building on Eighth Street above Arch, east side, as reported in daily papers.

The Holy Trinity Baptist church (colored) having seceded from the Shiloh Baptist congregation, at 11th and Lombard Streets, proposes at an early day to erect a church building for themselves. Rev. R. W. Christian is pastor in charge.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has bought a block of property on Pine Street, near Delaware Avenue, from Misses Annie and Elizabeth McCless, of Wilmington, Del. It is understood to be the intention to alter and use the site for a freight station.

John J. Cassidy, builder, 1948 Moyamensing Avenue, will at once commence the erection of sixteen two-story dwellings on the north side of Snyder Avenue, west of Second Street. All to be of the best material, and in keeping with others in that vicinity erected by the same builder.

The Journeyman Bricklayers Association, whose hall is on Broad Street, North of Fairmount Avenue, is negotiating for additional ground for the purpose of enlarging the hall. If successful T. Roney Williamson, architect, will prepare plans for the new structure, which are to be of a very ornamental character.

Sub-contracts for work on the "head-house" or main building, of the Reading Terminal Station, at Twelfth and Market Streets, have been awarded to David A. Woelpper for woodwork, and to William Boyd, for plastering. Much ornamental work is to be done in the latter line. The contracts amount to about $25,000 and $65,000 respectively.

The Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company has awarded the contract, for the erection of a covered wharf at Pier 25 South Warves. The contract provides for the dredging out of the channel at the end of the wharf and for deepening the docks on each side of it so that vessels of large draft may be enabled to have their cargoes discharged there.

The Geo. M. Newhall Engineering Company of Philadelphia, have made elaborate plans for a molasses boiling house to be built at Havana, Cuba, the contract for work of construction has been given to John Fritzinger, 332 Gates Street, Manayunk. The structure will be fitted with the usual iron boilers and machinery for the work of making sugar.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1936 South College Avenue, is about to erect twelve fine three-story houses upon Bucknell, Poplar and Parrish Streets, on the site of the old House of Refuge property. These will be of press brick and stone ornamentation, interior to be fitted with the best of modern accommodations, including electric work, best sanitary plumbing, etc.

Charles C. Haines, contractor and builder, 5th and Chestnut Streets, has prepared plans for the erection of a new Summer Club Hotel to be erected at Gordon Inn, on the Delaware River, near the State line between Pennsylvania, and Delaware, it will be three stories high, frame store, and brick, fitted with every modern convenience including electric work, etc.

The new building of N. Snellenberg & Co., at 632 Market Street, will be erected, by Michaelson & Weeks, contractors. It will be a structure four stories high, of bluff brick, with store trimmings. The first-floor will have iron columns, with bulk window, interior will contain all modern conveniences including a freight-lift, etc. The plans were prepared by, F. C. Michaelson.

On the morning of the 31st of August the business house of John M. Melloy & Sons, Market and Tenth Street, was partially destroyed by fire. The upper floors being entirely gutted and the lower ones damaged by water and smoke to a great extent, it is understood that the work of repair will be started as soon as the insurance and other minor matters have been settled.

H. M. Skerrett, grocer, will at once begin the erection of a fine four-story store and dwelling at the northeast corner of Ridge Avenue and Green Street, after plans made by Thos. Bennett, architect, 923 Locust Street. The structure will be of red brick, with granite trimmings, triangular in shape, with a tin roof, a bay window tower will be placed on the corner, with tile cap, French and American plate glass will be used. The contract has been given to R. D. Murray & Sons, 338 Quince Street.

The Reading Terminal Land Association, which recently took title through the Real Estate Investment Company to about 90 acres of land of the Clayton French estate, at Ninth Street and Lindley Avenue, near Tabor Station, proposes to dispose of the ground in building lots. The Reading Terminal route passes through the property, part of which is sold to the Company. Dr. J. B. Mayer is President of the Association, and William B. Gill, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, is among those interested. The valuation at which the land was turned over to the Association was about $416,000.

Albert Giesecke, builder, has bought from Elizabeth Mountney a fine tract of land between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth streets, Baltimore Avenue and South street, upon which he intends to build at once. For this operation J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut Street, has prepared all the plans which contemplate a very handsome operation. All to be of brick with stone trimmings, two and three stories high, the interiors to be fitted with every modern convenience including electric work, best ranges and heaters, plate and stained glass, good sanitary plumbing and all modern conveniences.

At the first meeting of City Councils on the 1st inst. considerable important business was introduced among which was a communication from the Mayor enclosing a report from Director Windrim upon the needs of the Water Department, so as to prevent a water famine in the future, and suggesting an immediate appropriation of $250,000, for the building of an addition to the Spring Garden works, to be supplied with two twenty or thirty million gallon pumping engines. He also recommended that in connection with the supply of the reservoir at Queen Lane, a new pumping station be established at or near the Falls of Schuylkill. The estimated cost of the new station is $400,000. Director Windrim also called the attention of Councils to the importance of protecting Broad Street from vehicles which tend to destroy it, and suggesting legislation to prevent damage to the street by the omnibus line. He recommended the passage of an ordinance providing after January 1, 1893, "the tires of the wheels of omnibuses and vehicles drawn by three or more horses, using asphaltum-paved streets, shall not be less than five inches in width," and that omnibuses and other vehicles running upon asphalt-paved streets pay an annual license to the city sufficient to maintain the streets in thorough repair.

The amount of money being expended by railroad companies with headquarters in Pittsburgh is something surprising, and the stupendous aggregate is something that few persons realize. The Pennsylvania lines alone will spend about $7,000,000 this year and next on its lines west of Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh and Western between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie, has nearly completed its extensive improvements involving an outlay of hundreds of thousands of dollars, while on the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore and Ohio extensive repairs are being made. On the Pennsylvania's Pittsburgh division there has been considerable outlay, as also has been the case on the West Penn. Altogether, this year and next the various railroad company whose lines centre at Pittsburgh will have exchanged for improvements the enormous total of nearly, if not altogether, $12,000,000. The great bulk of this amount is being put where it will do the most good, that is, in roadbeds. The Pennsylvania lines' expenditure is largely in that direction, although a large sum will be utilized in purchasing new rolling stock. The Pittsburgh and Western's millions will be nearly altogether used to build a practically new line. President Du Barry, of Pennsylvania, said, in speaking of the company's improvements, that he could not say how much would be spent in and around Philadelphia, but he thought a grand aggregate of $12,000,000 would cover the work in this State. The Reading's improvement will amount into the millions also, but, like the Pennsylvania, no idea of the amount to be expended in this immediate vicinity can be formed at present.

Extensive alterations are now under way at the Ledger Building, which, when completed, will make it the best appointed and most commodious newspaper establishment in the city. The third, fourth and fifth floors will be entirely remodeled and extensive changes made on the first floor. The publication office will be made 17 feet wider to a depth of about 60 feet, and two new private offices for the use of Mr. Childs will be added. Seventeen new rooms for the editorial and reportorial forces will be provided on the third, fourth and fifth floors. On the third floor, in addition to a number of new rooms for editorial writers, there will be a large library for the use of the editors. The local force, including city editor, reporters, sporting, New Jersey and real estate departments, will occupy nine rooms, constituting the entire Sixth Street front of the building. The most extensive alterations are being made on the sixth floor, where the composing room is being extended over the entire Chestnut Street front of the building and will, when completed, be 65 feet 6 inches by 81 feet with a 22 feet high ceiling and a large skylight in the centre. Back of the composing room and on the same floor will be a large lunch room fitted up with every convenience. Along the wall of the Land Title building will be the proof room. An extensive wardrobe will form a sixth floor over the lunch room and the manuscript room will occupy a similar place over the proof room. A bridge of wrought iron beams and galvanized iron will connect the composing room with the stereotype foundry. The improvements are being made under the supervision of Superintendent of Machinery Rowan, of Mr. Childs' staff, and will be completed by November 1, at an estimated cost of over $50,000. Pneumatic tubes will be run over the entire building, connecting all the various departments.

A We could not act in good faith with our customers had we accepted the propositions made to us by the maker with a view to equalize the increased cost brought about by the advanced duty.
B Numerous complaints and letters received by us from our customers positively assert that the quality of this Brand is not now what it used to be.
C After careful investigations we find we can make a much better, and a heavier and more evenly-coated plate in our own works in Philadelphia, than we have ever imported. Hence, our heaviest coated, guaranteed Roofing Plate will now be the

We are advertising at present a $16.50 Suit, Cutaway one of the shapes, the other, an easy Sack.

The Material.—Clay Diagonal Worsted. It will prove its goodness in its staying power—in its long wear.

We have made 1000 Suits to begin with. You know what a difference in price between building 400 houses and 4. It's the same in making 1000 suits, else we wouldn't sell it for $16.50.

Architect Notes.

J. C. Worthington, architect, 1305 Arch Street, has made plans for two fine houses to be built for Miss Alice Lovett on Shedwick Street, Mt. Airy, to be of brick and stone, three stories high, and fitted with all modern conveniences. Cost, $5,000 each.

Plans for the Virginia State Library Building to be erected at Richmond, Va., have been placed with a number of our Philadelphia contractors for estimates by W. M. Poindexter, of Washington, D. C., architect, who made the drawing and will supervise the entire work.

A number of the architects of this city are engaged on competitive plans for a new building for the Young Men's Christian Association of Reading, Pa. The structure, when erected, will be 30 x 270 feet and four stories high. The chief material to be used in the walls will be Pompeian brick.

A few weeks since we noted the fact that Willis G. Hale had prepared plans for an apartment house to be erected at the Southeast corner of Sixteenth and Spruce Streets. The plans have all been completed in detail, and the matter of construction now only awaits the making of estimates. There seems to be a desire upon the part of the stockholders to increase the area of ground, but from present indications it will remain its present size. No change in the height or material has been made. It will be the same as described in this journal August 17th of the current year.

William H. Free, architect, 27 North Juniper Street, is engaged on plans for a handsome house for Mrs. W. H. Free, to be erected by her at Lansdowne Park, Pa. Structure will be colonial in style, of frame, brick and shingle treatment, a handsome porch will extend around two sides, and the interior will have hard wood work and all modern conveniences. Mr. Free has also on boards plans for a fine house for J. Frank English, of Strawbridge & Clothier's, at same place as above, which will be stone, brick and frame, slate roof, three stories high, and fitted throughout with the best of modern improvements.

J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut Street, has been retained to prepare plans for a large building operation for a Mr. Louge, to be erected in Germantown. These houses will be of handsome design, being three stories high, of fine stone and press brick material, with hardwood work tiling, best of sanitary plumbing, electric work, and all modern improvements on interior, and somewhat similar to the large operation about to be erected under his supervision in West Philadelphia, between Forty-seventh and Forty-eighth Streets, Baltimore Avenue and South Streets, and fully noted in our last issue.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, 925 Drexel Building, have made plans for the Rebecca Pavilion Home for Orphans of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania to be erected at Twentieth and Ontario Streets. The structure will be three stories high, of brick, pebble-dashed, windows to be of plate glass, with some ornamented glass work, all modern conveniences to be introduced, electric bells, best of cooking and heating apparatus, sanitary plumbing, etc; plans on boards for estimates.—Same architects have awarded J. E. and A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut Street, the contract to erect the addition to house for E. D. Smith, No. 1517 North Sixteenth Street, fully described in a former number of this journal.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, on the 8th inst submitted the plans for the new office building of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the Board of Building Inspectors, and after they were examined by Inspector Supplee, who will be in charge, very critically, they were approved. As before noted, it will be a ten-story structure, and the old depot proper will be enlarged so as to correspond in general with the new part. It is expected that the drawings for the superstructure will, at an early day, be placed on boards for estimate. George W. Roydhouse & Co., contractors, are now at work upon the base and foundation work, the contract having been given them some time ago. Work upon the western portion of the train shed is progressing, as well as the Adams Express office, at Seventeenth and Market Streets.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Joseph F. Myers, contractor, 516 Willow Street, has received a contract to build a four-story iron, stone and brick factory 1122 Spring Garden Street, work to begin at once.

A large apartment house is to be put up by Pietro Giannini at 712-14 South Eleventh Street, which will be seven stories high and contain 114 suites of two and three rooms each. Work will begin at once.

Considerable damage was done to Nos. 1415-17 Marshall Street by fire on the morning of the 7th inst. This will be repaired at once, the work being chiefly on interior in both cases, and will amount to about $800 each.

In regard to the alteration of 704 Chestnut Street, the Fidelity and Safe Deposit Company, on behalf of the owners, has sent Director Windrim word that it would at once take measures to comply with the law in setting back the front of that property.

William Steele & Sons, contractors, 506 Walnut Street, will at once begin the erection of a five-story factory at Vine and Franklin Streets for Hensel, Colladay & Co. from plans prepared by Frank R. Watson, 518 Walnut Street, and who will supervise the construction.

Director Jas. H. Windrim received on the 8th inst. five bids, as follows, for construction of the isolated ward at Blockley Almshouse: Geo. L. Harvey, $8906; C. R. Cole & Bro., $7961; C. B. Nesbit, $6700; S. M. Button, $10,967, and Allan B. Rorke, $9500; held under consideration.

Jacob Myres, contractor, 1315 Sansom Street, will erect, upon his own account, at once, a fine bachelors' apartment house at 247 South Fifteenth Street. The structure will be likely four stories high, the front being of light-tinted bricks and stone trimmings; the interior will be handsomely fitted in suites of rooms, with every convenience.

John C. Rodgers, contractor, of Camden, N. J., has begun the work of erecting the North Baptist Church on Linden between Third and Fourth Streets. Work upon excavation of cellar and foundation is progressing under the present favorable weather, a full description of the superstructure has been given in this journal previously.

The Pennsylvania R. R. will at once begin the erection of an immense electric plant at the Northwest corner of Sixteenth and Filbert Streets, in which will be placed the large dynamos and engines which will supply the new station and office building of the company. It is to be fitted with all the machinery and paraphernalia for the purpose.

The transfer was recorded on the 8th inst. of valuable river front property between Vine and Callowhill streets to the Pennsylvania Railroad for $205,000. The properties, which include the piers, are described as extending along Water Street from a point 50 feet south of Callowhill Street to 255 feet north of Vine street, with a depth of 155 feet to Delaware Avenue. The sale was made by H. M. Dubois, the lawyer. The ground is now covered by cheap two-story buildings occupied by produce dealers, and the value of the property lies almost entirely in the piers. The railroad company already owns a large block including the old building of the Delaware Avenue Market Company, and it is supposed that its purpose in making the purchase was to secure a good-sized tract for its freight business.

JOHN F. BRISBANE, City Editor.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 14, 1892.

The Brown's Keystone Cement Co. has issued a very complete and interesting pamphlet relating to the World's Fair. The illustrations include all of the principal buildings, and the fund of information contained in so small a space is invaluable to those interested in the success of the exposition.

William W. Rea, senior member of the building firm of W. W. Rea & Son, died on the 6th inst. at his residence, 818 Perkiomen Street. Mr. Rea was born in Chester County, near Downingtown, in 1835, and had been in business in this city about thirty-five years. He was well known in building circles and was a member of the Master Builders' Exchange. Among the operations conducted by him was the construction of these churches: The Good Shepherd, Third Street Methodist, St. Thomas's and Twentieth Street Methodist.

A coincidence lies in the fact that his funeral took place on Friday, and on that day the splendid edifice built by him for the Keneseth Israel Congregation, on North Broad Street, of which the Rev. Dr. Joseph Krauskopf is minister, was dedicated.

It is not unnatural that the people of New York and New Jersey should regard with dislike the Reading Railroad consolidation, or that they should welcome with exultation the injunction granted by Chancellor McGill, of New Jersey, upon the lease of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. New York City has long had the great advantage of active railroad competition, together with the larger advantage of free use of the Erie Canal. Philadelphia, meantime has been practically in bondage to a single railroad company which possessed a monopoly under which the commerce of the city could make no headway. Both New York and New Jersey for many years have been permitted to buy coal taken from the mines of Pennsylvania at less prices than were required of Philadelphians, who live nearer to the coal mines and who have a right to enjoy the benefit of their position. That New York City and the State of New Jersey should be averse to surrendering the advantages they have had in these particulars cannot be complained of, but it is equally unreasonable to complain that Philadelphians should try to obtain justice for themselves, and should rejoice when the instrument for obtaining it had been fashioned.

It is safe to say that no event that has happened for many years gave more solid satisfaction to the commercial interests of this city than the extension of the power and the area of control of the Reading Railroad Company. That great enterprise presented itself to Philadelphia, not as a combination for purposes of oppression and extortion, but as a project which would at once relieve the business of the city from the tyranny and hurt inflicted by the great corporation which hitherto had held Philadelphia at its mercy. This relief, in fact, came at once. It appeared in the substitution, by railway officials, of courteous solicitation of freights for insolent indifference; in the quick settlement of long delayed claims; in the offer of increased facilities for shipment, and in the immediate enlargement of certain kinds of commercial operations. No Philadelphia man not directly interested in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company would be willing to return to the former condition of things. The practically universal feeling is that the city has had a great deliverance, and that now, for the first time for many years, through the instrumentality of the Reading combination, the commercial forces of Philadelphia have a positive assurance that they may operate under conditions of fair play.

Thus Philadelphians do not welcome Chancellor McGill's decision, and they do regard with feelings of satisfaction the assurance that the power to break a lease does not involve the ability to forbid co-operative action, which will attain all the purposes for which the lease was arranged. They are not indifferent that the price of coal shall go up or go down; but they are much more deeply interested in having made permanent a system which will supply them with fuel at prices lower than those that must be paid by consumers at greater distances from the coal mines. The Philadelphia manufacturer cannot be expected to mourn because his competitor in Jersey City or New York must pay more for fuel than he pays. Nor can any citizen of this State find reason for regretting that provisions have been made for stopping the practice of mining Pennsylvania coal at a loss. There is no reason, in morals or in revealed religion why we should disembowel the State of its mineral treasures for the purpose of supplying to citizens of New York the best fuel in the world for less than its real value. These are some of the considerations which reconcile the people hereabouts to a consolidation of railroads that has appeared very grievous to some other persons.—The Philadelphia Manufacturer, Sept. 3.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A four-story brick building, 80 by 40 feet, and costing about $9000, is being added to the Bromley & Burns mill building, on Orchard Street, Frankford, for the East Lake Manufacturing Company, which was organized some time ago to manufacture Nottingham lace. It seems that the business has been very successful, and that the new building, together with part of the old, is required to accommodate three new machines, valued at $18,000, which have recently been ordered from England.

At a meeting of the Library Committee of the Board of Education, the subject of establishing branch free libraries in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association in outlying districts was discussed. It was finally decided to invite the officers of the Northeast and Southwest Branches to discuss the subject at length. It is understood that the Kensington Branch will soon erect a new building, and if a satisfactory arrangement can be made a large room will be placed at the disposal of the city for a free library.

A fire broke out on the morning of the 8th inst. which almost wholly destroyed the well-known Arrott Mills, located at Twelfth and Carpenter Streets, and run at present by John Williams; in addition to the mill a large number of dwelling houses in the rear upon Temple Street were badly damaged and will require considerable repair to place them in condition to be occupied. The mill was five stories high and extended from Twelfth to Thirteenth, Carpenter to Temple Streets, and will be rebuilt as soon as the insurance matters have been settled. They are owned by the Arrott estate.

The Building Committee of the Yearly Meeting of Friends has adopted a plan for the erection of the John M. George school, which will be erected upon ground purchased at or near Newtown, Bucks Co., Pa. Altogether there will be three buildings, capable of accommodating, when complete, 160 regular scholars including boarding and 50 day students. Mr. Geo. Watson is chairman of the building committee, and that body has been authorized to revise the plans if such a contingency should arise to warrant the action. The school will be erected by the endowment left by the late John M. George of this city.

C. C. O'Neil, contractor, 1216 South Broad Street, will erect a two-story school house at Greenway and Cemetery Avenues, to be of brick with stone steps and trimmings and modern conveniences.—Also, an additional three-story building to the school building on Herman Street, between Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets, which will be 30 x 24 feet, also of brick with stone facings and all modern conveniences.—The same contractor is building a store on Second Street, East side below Lombard Street, which will be 21½ x 90 feet in area, of brick and stone construction, open front and all improvements.

A Wayne special of Sept. 5 says: Mr. H. B. French, of Rosemont, has offered the vestry of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, at Rosemont, $25,000 to build a memorial church to his wife, Mrs. Augusta Graham French, who died a few months since. The gift has been accepted, and about 1¼ acres of ground on Lancaster Avenue, opposite the Rosemont pharmacy, has been secured as the church site. A new rectory will also be built for the rector, Rev. A. B. Conger. It is said work on the new building will not be started until about next March. Mrs. French was a sister of Dr. James Graham, of No. 1502 Spruce Street, Philadelphia.

William P. Hand, acting for W. T. B. Roberts, the builder, started for Chicago on the 12th inst., to superintend the erection of the Philadelphia mechanic's home in the Pennsylvania State grounds at the World's Fair. The exhibition of a model home, such as is within the reach of every Philadelphia mechanic, is one of the happy thoughts which have emanated from the Auxiliary Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair in this city. This particular happy thought is due to Mrs. T. F. Halvey, the Secretary of the Auxiliary Board. Much of the building material has been generously donated to the different members of the Board, but much remains to be done. The transportation of the material, too, has been donated by the State, through Mr. Farquhar, and the first shipment has been forwarded to the "Windy City." This includes 5000 bricks, the gift of Mr. Peter Bryne and Mrs. Halvey, as well as other essentials for the rough finish of the home. The furniture throughout is the gift of the Dempsey Brothers, of Twenty-first Street and Columbia Avenue, and will be used in the home to be exhibited at the World's Fair. The house is of two stories, containing six rooms and a bath room. It is built of brick, with brownstone trimmings, and is replete with all modern improvements consistent with the means of an average Philadelphia mechanic.

Winnalls Bros., contractors, are finishing a three-story brick warehouse for Greenwood & Bault, dyers, on Worth Street, above Oxford, Frankford. They are also erecting a one-story brick dye house, 18 by 70 feet, for the Berkshire company's mill, on Church Street, below Josephine; also a one-story machine shop for Samuel Evans on Paul and Meadow Streets. The same contractors have under way handsome Queen Anne residences for Ferdinand Horman and Horace Greenwood, on Leiper Street, near Arrott, each containing 11 rooms, costing about $12,000 each. At Green and Thomas Streets, two neat brick cottages are in course of erection on the site formerly occupied by a blacksmith shop, for Lawrence Flynn; the handsome brownstone stable on the property of William Bault, at Leiper, and Foulkrod Streets, has been moved back 29 feet from the line of the latter street in order that it may be widened prior to repaving. The contractors have also built a four-foot wall along the line of the street on the Bault and Robert Pilling property, directly opposite, for a distance of 340 feet. The wall are constructed of Frankford bluestone and add much to the beauty of the surroundings. The cost of the improvement to both properties will amount to about $15,000. Richard Greenwood is also to place a wall 450 feet along his residence just above. Joseph Yerkes, contractor, is completing 13 two-story brick dwellings, at Foulkrod and Stiles streets, for John Meyer & Co.; also, three brick cottages, at Kensington Avenue and Adams Street, for John Douglass & Co., and a stable, wagon house and shedding, at Adams and Pine Streets, for Cotter & Keefe, dyers.

Finding some doubt lingering in the minds of a class of citizens and a few councilmen of our city, as to the real intentions of the capitalists who have pledged themselves to construct the Quaker City Elevated Railroad, they have reassured all by the following letter, which explains itself. "New York, Sept. 8, 1892.—To the Railroad Committee of the Councils of the City of Philadelphia.—Gentlemen: Our attention having been called to the proposal to repeal the ordinance authorizing the construction of the elevated railroad of the Quaker City Elevated Railroad Co., upon the alleged ground that the work thereon was not begun in good faith within the time limited by the ordinance, and that the franchise of the company has been sold without the consent of the city of Philadelphia, we deem it proper to submit to you the following statement: After a careful examination of the terms of the ordinance and the proposed lines of railway, we became satisfied that the same could be constructed and operated successfully; and we, therefore, purchased the shares from the original subscribers to the capital stock, and have subscribed for the larger portion of the authorized capital stock of the company. No transfer of the franchise has been made and none is proposed. In accordance with the terms of the ordinance the company has entered into a contract with the city of Philadelphia and given its bond in the sum of $100,000 conditioned for the faithful performance of such contract. The company also stipulated by said contract to construct its road from Front and Market streets to Ninth and Market, and from Ninth and Market to Lancaster Avenue, and out Lancaster Avenue to Forty-fourth Street, and out Forty-fourth Street to Fairmount Park, and to complete the same within two years from date, unless prevented by legal proceedings or other matters over which the company had no control; and to insure the faithful performance of this latter agreement we have given our personal bond to the city of Philadelphia in the sum of $100,000. Work was begun within the period required by the ordinance in good faith and with the full purpose and intent to carry it on to completion within the time limited by the ordinance. We have proceeded with all possible diligence in perfecting our organization, and it is now our design to press the work to a rapid conclusion and to furnish the city of Philadelphia with the most satisfactory means of rapid transit now in use. We venture to make this statement because we are advised that it has been apprehended that the company was not in the hands of men of responsibility, able and willing to comply with the provisions of the law and ordinance of the city, and we have no hesitation in assuring you that the funds necessary for the work of construction will be furnished from time to time as required. Should you desire further information from us, we shall be pleased to appear before your honorable body when requested so to do. Very respectfully, your obedient servants, Vermilye & Co., August Belmont & Co., acting for themselves and for Messrs. Edward Sweet & Co."

Miscellaneous.

At Jamaica, Queens Co., N. Y., Fifty thousand dollars will be appropriated by the Board of Education, for the erection of a three-story brick and stone school house, for which architects will be asked to submit plans.

Davis, Tucker Co., W. Va.—The Piedmont Pulp and Paper Co., of Piedmont, will build at once a wood-pulp mill at Davis, W. Va. The officers are: President, W. Luke; Treasurer, D. L. Luke; General Manager, J. Luke.

At Augusta, Richmond Co., Ga., the Thankful Church Congregation, colored, will erect a brick and stone church, to cost about $25,000, from plans prepared by Architect Todd.—There is a movement on foot, in which Hugh Middleton is interested, to organize a stock company for the erection of a hotel at Clark's Hill.

At Albany, N. Y., Water Commissioners Rooney and Sweet visited Kinderhook creek, in the vicinity of East Nassau, the proposed source of a new water supply for Albany. If the city decides to take the supply from the creek, which comes through the Berkshire hills, it will be necessary to provide a pond in the vicinity of Nassau to give power to the mills along the creek. The proposed source is 800 feet above tide water, and the force would be so great that it would be necessary to conduct the water to the upper reservoir and distribute it from that point. It is estimated that the new source will give a supply of 20,000,000 gallons a day.

C. P. Wainwright, of Boston, Mass., is interested in a syndicate which has purchased the Isles of Shoals, nine islands off the New Hampshire coast. The price paid is said to have been $550,000. It is intended to so enlarge and improve the facilities for the comfort of summer visitors as to make these islands the choicest resort on the Eastern coast. The present hotel will be enlarged by 150 rooms. A new hotel is to be built, having at least 350 sleeping rooms, with all the other appointments of a first-class caravansary. A number of cottages will be added to those already on the islands, and various other ideas are embraced in the scheme of improvement. Clarence S. Luce has been called in for consultation in connection with this work, and will furnish designs and sketches for its execution. The expenditure will amount to about $225,000, and it is expected that all can be put in readiness for the coming season.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., the new building to be erected by the Eagle Warehouse Co., it is reported will be of stone and iron and cost about $75,000.—William R. Bell & Co. will give out contracts for the erection of twelve three-story and basement stone dwellings, 19.6 x 50 feet, on the South side of McDonough Street, directly East of Stuyvesant Avenue. They will be trimmed in hardwood, and cost about $15,000 each.—A four-story brick and stone flat, 20 x 80 feet, will be built on the Northwest corner of Greene and Clason Avenues. The cost is not estimated. Martin Byrne, the owner, will also build two four-story brick and stone flats on the South side of Greene Avenue, 200 feet west of Clason Avenue.—Weber & Drosser have drawn plans for a two-story brick and stone stable, 50 x 68, with stalls for thirty horses, to be built for Piel Bros., on the East side of Georgia Avenue, near Liberty Avenue, East New York, at a cost of $8000.—Sinclair, Doan C. Horsfall have plans completed for seven two-story frame tenements, 17 x 46, to be built in Pacific Street, near Utica Avenue, for T. C. McKenney. The estimated cost for the seven is $16,000.

Architect Notes.

J. Bennet Colesberry, formerly associated with Wilson Eyre, Jr., has been appointed by an English firm of architects to assist in designing the Virginia State building for the Columbian Exposition, at Chicago. Mr. Colesberry will visit a number of the historic mansions in the South to make sketches of pure colonial architecture to be used in the building.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, S. E. corner of Fourth and Walnut Streets, has made plans for a large six-story warehouse to be erected at 115-17 South Front Street. It will be of brick, iron and stone construction, 14 by 33½ feet, and have all the most recent improvements. Contract has been awarded to Chas. Nesbit, 425 Locust Street.

Addison Hutton, architect, 400 Chestnut Street, has prepared plans for the construction of the John McGeorge Friends' School, to be erected at Newtown, Bucks Co., Pa. The structure will be three stories high, built of stone, and slate roof. It will be constructed with a view to enlargement at some future time, and all comforts and modern conveniences will be introduced to make it one of the finest institutions of the kind in this country. Estimates will be invited in a short time.

The plans by W. B. Poindexter, architect, Washington, D. C., spoken of in our last issue, for the State Library of Virginia, to be erected at the city of Richmond, are now upon the boards of J. E. & A. L. Pennock, contractors, 305 Walnut Street, for estimate. They are quite elaborate, and present a fine elevation. The structure will be of stone, brick and iron, with considerable cement work and artificial pavement. A slate roof, with ornamental towers and iron work, will embellish the top of the building. Sub-estimates are being made.

Robert A. Pitts, architect, 224 South Third Street, has made plans for alteration of and addition to house of Andrew McHugh, 424 Morris Street. The base of front will be in Indiana limestone and light colored brick, and an additional back building, two stories high, will be built with all modern conveniences. Same architect drew plans for the house of Harry Blitz, 2218 North Front Street, which is well under way at this time.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, has made plans for quite an extensive operation of houses at Fifty-ninth and Walnut Streets, the Smith estate. These are to be of press brick fronts, brownstone trimmings and ornamental fronts. The interiors will be in hard wood, tile work, electric bells and all modern conveniences.

Estimates are invited on the work. Plans are now ready at the office of the architect. Mr. Miller also desires estimates for erecting and placing a fine set of bar-room fixtures, plans for which may be seen also at 1221 Arch Street.

C. A. Hanna, architect, of Pittsburgh, Pa., has prepared plans for an immense distillery to be erected at Eddington or between that location and the P. R. R. for the Philadelphia Pure Rye Whisky Distilling Company. The plant will have a capacity of between 30,000 and 40,000 barrels per annum, and will be erected of stone, brick and iron principally. The structure will be fitted with all of the most approved machinery, large stills and malt houses as well as steam power. I. H. Hathaway & Co., contractors, 514 Girard Building, will erect the plant, having received the contract. The officers of the syndicate are as follows: Angelo Myers, Chairman, Henry Van Beil, Secretary, and James Maguire, Treasurer. These gentlemen, with Samuel Humphery and Louis Gilliams, constitute the Board of Directors.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

It is understood that the Carpenters Company are considering some improvements to their property, 332 Chestnut Street.

The City has taken title to two lots of ground at Front and Westmoreland Streets, which are to be utilized in the future a building of public character. The cost of the ground jointly was $3,500.

C. B. Prettyman, builder, will at once erect seventeen fine two-story dwellings and two stores and dwellings on north side of Moore Street, west of Twenty-first Street, all to be of press brick and best modern conveniences.

City Council's Railroad Committee yesterday agreed to report favorably an ordinance authorizing the Ridge Avenue Connecting Passenger Railway Company to lay tracks on Arch Street, from Second to Delaware Avenue.

Medlar & Co., cracker bakers, located on Fairmount Avenue, west of Broad Street, propose to make considerable addition to the present plant. Their plans have been presented to the Building Inspectors and have been approved.

I. L. Twaddell, 1212 Market Street, will erect a dwelling at Devon, to cost $5,000. Handsome interior finish, stained glass windows, electric lights, hot air heating. F. L. & W. L. Price 731 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, are the architects.

John Stafford, builder, 1606 Susquehanna Ave, will erect twenty-six two and three story houses at Sixteenth and Huntingdon Streets all to be of press brick front with stone trimmings and best interior work, all modern conveniences.

Robert Beatty & Bro., will at once begin the erection of a large dye house on Amber Street South of Westmoreland Avenue. It will be two stories high and fitted with steam and other appliances from the business indicated above.

The tenants of the Fifth Street Market have been given to November 1st to occupy the stalls which they now rent from the Bourse Co., so that operations on the Bourse Building will not be undertaken until after that time. All the details of the architectural design have not been definitely settled yet.

A parish meeting of the Church of Our Lady of Mercy, Broad and Susquehanna Avenue, was held on the 18th inst., to devise a way to obtain funds to complete the building under construction to be used for a parochial school, and to start the school in operation. It was finally decided to hold a fair.

Work has been started upon the annex to the Fidelity Trust and Safe Deposit Company on Fourth Street above Chestnut. A full description of this new structure has been given in a previous issue from plans prepared by the architects, G. W. and W. D. Hewitt, Bullitt Building, who will also supervise the work of construction.

The Philadelphia Ammonia Company will erect a factory 160 by 165 feet, one story high, on Southeast corner of Oscar Street and Schuylkill Avenue; also an addition at Grays Ferry Road and Twenty-ninth Street, all to be of brick, stone and iron work; both will be fitted with steam power and machinery.

Jacob R. Jordon, builder, Lancaster Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street, will at once start work on twenty-six large, double, brick houses, at Forty-seventh Street and Baltimore Avenue. These buildings are to be of buff brick and built after plans prepared by J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut Street, and have been fully noted in a previous issue of this journal.

Charles W. Potts, owner of the property 1223 Market street and owner of a half interest in 1225, where he conducts the wholesale iron and tinplate business, is the plaintiff in a bill in equity filed in Common Pleas Court No 3 on the 16th inst., asking for an injunction to restrain the Quaker City Company from constructing any elevated railroad on Market Street and in front of his premises. A bill of the same character has been filed by the Traction Railway Company which avers certain infringement upon and of its rights given under ordinance of Councils. The matter is now being considered by the courts.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 21, 1892.

VERY LITTLE, if any more, sympathy should be wasted by sensible people on the passengers of the various steamships obliged to submit to quarantine. True, their position was not the most pleasant in the world, and, coming after months of pleasure and sight-seeing, had all the shock of novelty; but they had their good time on the other side, probably, and should have been willing to forego a little present ease for the public good. To read some of the accounts published in the daily papers, one might suppose that a most heinous crime had been committed in detaining a few hundred people fourteen days in order to insure the safety of nearly sixty-five million persons who were unable to spend the summer abroad. It was unfortunate that even these few hundred had to submit to some privations for a few days, but common sense should teach them that it was necessary, or, at least, thought to be necessary, and that the wisest course was that which erred on the side of safety. The fact is they ought to congratulate themselves that they were not turned back—a step now being seriously considered—in which case the hardships they endured here would shrink to the little measure of a mere bagatelle.

In our own city a series of resolutions were unanimously adopted by the saloon passengers of a quarantined vessel condemning the Board of Health because less than one hundred persons were detained a week and subjected to no privations as far as known—save that of personal liberty for a limited period. The Board of Health had reason, probably, for the detention, and the least that can be done by the public is to give the Board the moral support of favorable public opinion and hearty co-operation when necessary. Let us have no more resolutions condemning the Board of Health. The loss of a week's time by each of fifty-five persons, and a monetary loss of $20,000 by the steamship company count for naught so long as more than a million people are protected from a dreadful disease, and their confidence in the Board of Health increased by just such vigilance as called forth the dissatisfaction of those unfortunate enough to be quarantined. Had the authorities at Hamburg shown the wisdom and activity of the Philadelphia Board the situation of that city would not be such as it is to-day. Instead of isolating the cases and adopting rigorous sanitary measures, their avarice and greed for commercial prestige got the better of their common sense, and every means was adopted to conceal the extent of the plague in order to save the commercial interests of the city; and behold the result. Thousands upon thousands dead and dying, and a commerce like old Morley, "Dead as a door nail."

Philadelphia does not yearn to be placed in a similar position. It is at present, according to the vital statistic published each week, in an unusually healthy condition; owing doubtless to the increased activity of those having authority in cleaning up the waste and dirty places, by which the death rate has been decreased from last week and also from that of the corresponding week of last year. By vigilance and wise precautions it is possible to maintain a clean bill of health, though by so doing the private interests of a few may suffer. It needs no ghost come from the dead to say which is the better plan, that of Hamburg or the one pursued by Philadelphia.

At the meeting of Councils held on Thursday, September 15th, the Director of Public Works in a communication received from the Mayor, recommended, as a sanitary measure, the repaving of a number of small streets with asphaltum. The streets designated by the Mayor are in the district bounded by Front, Tenth and Pine Streets and Washington Avenue. This move is a step in the right direction and one that has been advocated by this journal time and time again, and only so lately as August 3d, of the present year. It is a well-known fact, that the principal streets are not the greatest breeders of disease, though their condition leaves much to be desired, but rather the small unfrequented, ill paved thoroughfares, of which Philadelphia has so many and which, in many instances, are more or less neglected and consequently reeking with refuse and filth. The district mentioned by the Mayor no doubt requires looking after, but is only one of many districts in the city that need the attention of the Board of Health. The whole trouble of street cleaning and consequent better sanitary condition would be reduced to a minimum if all the small streets, courts and alleys of the city were well paved with asphalt or some other equally reliable material. The sum of $50,000 asked for to do this work is not much, and will not go far, but if judiciously expended, will be the means of putting one district in a condition to be kept clean, and then let the good work go on, until Philadelphians no longer blush to hear the subject of street paving mentioned.

We inadvertently omitted in our last issue in our report of the proposed erection of a Philadelphia Mechanics' Home at the World's Fair, to state that the brick for the front of the building has been contributed by the Jarden Brick Company, of this city, and is now on the way to Chicago.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

William Harney & Co., manufacturers of umbrellas and sticks, are about to erect a large factory with an additional two story structure for boiler and engine room. The main building will be three stories high 40 x 150 feet and the latter 44x40 feet, all of brick and stone with considerable iron and cement work. The cost will approximate $30,000 and the contractor is Winnals Bros., of Frankford.

Palmér & Rice Manufacturing Co., Limited, have purchased the block of ground bounded by Broad Street, Germantown Avenue, Erie Avenue and Fifteenth and Butler Streets and will remove its plant to that location where suitable buildings have been constructed. It is the intention to have the entire site improved, so that what may not be occupied by the factory will be utilized for dwellings.

A special meeting of the Caledonian Society was held on the 15th inst, at 36 North Ninth Street, the temporary home of the club. The committee to arrange the ceremonies for the corner-stone laying of the new club house, Spring Garden and Twelfth Streets, reported that they had fixed October 21 for the observance. The stone will be laid with full Masonic honors, the Grand Master having consented to act.

The ceremonies will be preceded by a parade. All the secret societies have been asked to participate. In the evening a banquet will be held at the Colonnade Hotel, at which many distinguished guests will be present.

Col. J. P. Low, chief assistant to W. J. Edbrooke, supervising architect of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., has been designated by the latter to come to Philadelphia for the purpose of locating a site for the new U. S. Mint, which is to be built under the bill passed by the last Congress. It is expected Col. Low will arrive during the current week and begin his investigation at once.

It is more than probable that the $175,000 now available to the University Scientific School will be used for the purpose of enlarging that department already in operation under the will of the late John Henry Fowne. The widow of Mr. Fowne having just died leaves the above bequest available to the institution, but on investigation we find that no definite plans or action have been taken as to how the money will be employed.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Edison Electric Light Company held on the 17th inst., at 909 Walnut Street, the original contract with the General Company was modified by a reduction of the royalty about seventy per cent., and the capital was increased by the addition of $1,000,000. The increase has become necessary on account of the demand, and it will enable the company to extend its business and to increase the plant.

Plans for F. A. Poth's brewery additions are now completed and offered for inspection by the Building Inspectors, after which permits will be taken out and the structure started. A full description of the building was given in this journal July 6th of this year, together with the capacity for production. Otto C. Wolf, 1345 Arch Street, prepared all the plans and will supervise the erection of the work to be done at Thirty-first and Jefferson Streets.

Horace W. Castor, architect, 4627 Penn Street, Frankford, is making plans for the Zion Methodist Church parsonage, adjoining the church on Oxford Street below Paul. The lot is 30 x 120 feet and the structure will be of brick 18 x 57 feet and surmounted by a tower at one end and interior fitted in hard wood with all modern conveniences. The same architect is at work on plans for a building for Carson and Swope to be used for offices and lodge rooms. Thomas Castor's Carriage and Wagon Shops are to be considerably enlarged at a cost of about $6,000.

At the meeting of Common Council held Thursday September 15, an ordinance to authorize a temporary loan of $300,000 for highway, sewer, gas and water bureau work was introduced. The Director of Public Works, in a communication received from the Mayor, recommended as a sanitary measure the repaving with asphaltum of a number of small streets in the district bounded by Front, Tenth and Pine Streets, and Washington Avenue. This would require an appropriation of $50,000. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee. Select Council concurred in the ordinance authorizing the creation of loans of $1,000,000 for the Schuetsen Park Reservoir, and $250,000 for the Passyunk Avenue main sewer.

Preparations are being made by Lemuel Coffin, Esq., to start the work of construction upon the Church of All Saints, at Devon, Pa. This structure will be a memorial to his late wife, and will be very handsome, plans having been prepared by T. Mellon Rodgers, architect, and which were fully noted by us in a previous issue some time ago. Some slight changes have been made, as follows: It will be 67 by 104 feet, with seating capacity of 300. The chancel will be 25 by 31 feet, choir and vestry rooms 10 by 16 feet each, organ loft 9 by 9 feet. The structure will have a tower running 20 feet above the gable, and will be capped by a steeple of 12 feet; the walls are to be of stone, slate roof, interior to be lined with brick finish, and finest upholstery for pews, etc. It is hoped to complete the building by June, 1893.

The corner-stone of the new Evangelical Lutheran Church, west side of Twenty-second Street, above Columbia Avenue, was laid on Sunday, the 18th inst., with impressive ceremonies. The church is on the site of the old edifice, and is 58 by 120 feet. It is in the Gothic style of architecture, the front being of King of Prussia blue marble, and the sides of brick. On the first floor is the Sunday school and lecture-room, infant department, committee-room, library and pastor's study. On the second floor is the main audience room, 55 by 100 feet, with a seating capacity for 750 persons. The interior approaches and vestibules are of hard oak. It is the intention for the present to complete only the basement of the interior, the total cost of which will be $34,000. The architects are Hazlehurst & Huckel, and the builder is Burd P. Evans. At the Southeast end will be a tower, 93 feet in height, and on the Northeast one 68 feet.

The first step toward erecting the new Mint at Philadelphia has been taken. Secretary Foster, of the Treasury Department has directed that a special agent be sent by the supervising architect to Philadelphia, to select a site for the big building. The agent may be expected in the city at any time now, although the particular man to be sent has not been definitely determined upon. It is the opinion of the Philadelphians who have been interested in having the new Mint built, that the sooner the site is selected the better it will be for the Government, especially in view of the rapid advances in real estate during the past few years. There is no intimation of course, as to what site will be selected, but there is not much doubt but that the agent will be governed by the examinations that have already been made by commissions appointed to inquire into the matter of building a new Mint, and the best and at the same time most economical site that could be secured for that purpose. After a site has been found, there is good reason to believe that plans and specifications will be forthcoming at once. Director of the Mint Leech is very much interested in getting the work started, and in having the building completed as soon as possible. No one appreciates the need of it more than he.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Bureau of Building Inspectors, on the 12th inst., an opinion by the City Solicitor in reference to the vexed question of bay windows was raised. The question was raised upon the application of Mrs. Joseph P. Mumford, 1401 N. Seventeenth Street, for permission to add a bay window to her residence. In his opinion the city solicitor said that under the law a bay window could not extend beyond the building line and could not be considered the same as a bulk window, as it was for ornament, merely, and not for business uses. He also rendered an opinion upholding the decision of the Inspectors in reference to their refusal to permit the erection of a stable at Forty-third and Aspen Streets for the reason that the building would not face on a street more than thirty feet wide running from street to street. The Inspectors also decided to notify Director Windrim that a church at the corner of Sixteenth and Oxford Streets and a new building in course of erection on Arch Street below Fifth were both beyond the building line. A permit was taken out on the 12th inst., for the erection of a five-story raw sugar wash house, by the Spreckels Sugar Refining Company. The building is to be of brick and iron, 76 by 54.6 feet, and will be located opposite Pier 60 South Wharves. Work will be begun immediately.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has acquired all the property on Delaware Avenue from Vine to Callowhill Streets. This property extends back as far as Water Street, the railroad company having secured all but a small section on the Southeast corner of Delaware Avenue and Callowhill. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has also secured all the wharves facing this property between Callowhill and Vine Streets from Nos. 12 to 18, inclusive. It is the intention of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to tear down all the property which they have just secured, and which includes the old Delaware Market House, and in their place erect a large, one story, brick freight station. There will be two tracks running into it, and it will have two driveways. This station, when completed, will be of great advantage to shippers in this section of the city. It has been a long felt want by the merchants in this section, as they have to go to a considerable distance after their goods at the present time. The new station will be used as a general merchandise, as well as a produce receiving and delivery station, as it will be very handy to the truckmen, farmers and others, who come over the Vine Street Ferry. It will also be very convenient for the produce men and others along the river front. The securing of these eight wharves along the river front is also an important move for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The wharves which are here now are not all of the best, as a great many of them are narrow and small, and when the new Port Wardens's line is fixed, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will extend the service out to the line, and where they are too narrow they will be made larger, which will be a great improvement in this portion of the city. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will begin work on the erection of the freight station at once, as all the plans have been prepared, and there is nothing to be done now but the letting of the contract. It is more than probable that most of the work will be done by the company. The cost of the property purchased was over $600,000.

HIGH-CLASS PLUMBING GOODS.

No. 1136 Ridge Avenue, Philadelphia

At Atlantic Highlands, Monmouth Co., on Monday, September 28th, an election will be held to decide the question of issuing bonds to raise money for a number of improvements, including water works and a system of sewerage. It is thought the majority of the citizens are in favor of the improvements.

At Morristown, Morris Co., Father Stecher, pastor of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, is negotiating for a site upon which to erect a building for St. Peter's Orphan Asylum. The present structure is inadequate for its purpose and will be fitted up for a school. The new site is in Union Township, a short distance from the Krueger Pioneer Home.

At Montclair, Essex Co., Alfred S. Badgley will erect a handsome residence at Midland Avenue and Walnut Street from plans prepared by Cecil Hughes, of Montclair. The same architect has prepared plans for a dwelling for Frank W. Crane, to be erected on Fullerton Avenue. Also plans for a double frame dwelling to be erected for Henry Fear on Grove Street.

At Camden, the State Military Board has approved the site selected upon which to erect an armory for the Sixth Regiment. The site is opposite the Camden City Hall, and the Board of Freeholders will purchase the same, while the State will furnish the money with which to erect the building. General Sewell has directed Lieutenant Colonel Stansbury to take steps at once to secure the ground, after which the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

At Bloomfield, Essex Co., Harris Bros., of the Bee Hive Store, are having plans prepared for a new store building to be erected at the centre. It will be of brick, 40 x 200 feet, and three stories high. The first floor will be finished for stores, the second for a public hall, with a seating capacity of 600, and the third floor will be devoted to lodge purposes. A stage and other conveniences will be introduced.—The Board of Freeholders has decided to recommend the construction of a bridge across the Morris Canal.

At Edgemont, a suburb of Summit, Union Co., a number of improvements will be made. It is owned mostly by W. F. Badeau, who has sold a number of lots for improvements. Ground has been broken for a handsome residence for Mr. Badeau. It will be of stone, with interior finish of hard wood, plate and stained glass windows, tiled bath-room and all modern improvements and conveniences. Adjoining Mr. Badeau's dwelling is one in course of construction for M. C. P. Wintringham, of Jersey City. Ground has also been broken for a dwelling for Miss M. D. Kitchel. Plans have been prepared for two other dwellings. Seaman L. Wright and George E. Baker are contractors for Mr. Badeau's dwelling.

At Red Bank, Monmouth Co., work was begun on the new town hall last week. The construction has been awarded to O. E. Davis for $16,400. The structure will be of brick, with trimmings of brown sandstone, two stories high and basement. The basement will be fitted up with furnace and also used for a storage room and kitchen. The first floor will contain the court room, a number of law offices and four cells for prisoners. The second floor will contain a large assembly room with dome ceiling, and will be fitted up with stage, ticket office and large gallery. The seating capacity will be six hundred. The interior will be handsomely finished, and will contain all modern conveniences and improvements.—C. F. Gillett and Joseph F. Bray have organized the Gillett Manufacturing Co., with a capital of $250,000, for the manufacture of electrical appliances. The factory will be located at Red Bank or Elizabethport.

Through Maryland.

At Hagerstown, Washington Co., a new church will be erected by St. Mark's Lutheran congregation.

At Chewsville, Washington Co., a new church will be erected by the Radical United Brethren congregation.

At Annapolis, Anne Arundel Co., W. B. Gardiner has received the contract to rebuild the county court house. Price, $22,940.

At Frederick, Frederick Co., E. M. West has received a contract to erect a church building for the Christian Church congregation.

At Baltimore the most important building permits issued to date are as follows: To C. Gissel to erect a three-story brick building at No. 951 Gay Street; to John Roth to erect two two-story dwellings at Nos. 19 and 21 Collington Avenue; to A. Yager to erect a two-story frame dwelling.—The North Baltimore Land and Improvement Company has been granted a permit to erect two two-story frame cottages one at the Northeast corner of Northwest and Tenth Streets, and one at the Southwest corner of Northwest and Ninth Streets. The dwellings will contain all modern improvements.—Architects Wyatt & Nolting have made plans for a new building to be erected for St. Timothy's School near Catonsville.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington the plans for the parsonage for the Epworth Methodist Church have been prepared by Architect E. Rowley, and show a structure 20 x 50 feet, three stories high, with a large veranda.—Lewis Springer, architect, has prepared plans for an ice house and addition for E. E. Hanna, of Jefferson Street. The structure will be of brick, and two stories high.—

William Kirby will erect a dwelling from plans prepared by E. Rowley. The estimated cost is $2000.—Stephen Downey will erect a handsome dwelling on Tenth Street, near Van Buren Street, from plans prepared by Lewis R. Springer. It will be of brick, with brownstone trimmings, with interior finish of hard wood. Steam heat will be introduced. The yard and sidewalk will be cemented.—The same architect has prepared plans for a four-story brick store and dwelling to be erected at the Northwest corner of Delaware Avenue and Tatnall Streets for Joseph L. Carpenter, Jr. It will be handsomely finished on the interior, and will contain modern conveniences and improvements.—At a recent meeting of the Public Building Committee of City Council, the plans for a new public building, drawn by Architect E. L. Rice, of Wilmington, were approved. The location of the proposed building is on Sixth near King Streets.—Some time ago the Board of Public Education made a move toward new quarters for itself, the present quarters being entirely too small. It appointed a committee composed of S. Redmond Smith, Samuel H. Baynard and Dr. E. G. Shortlidge to secure plans for alterations to the present quarters of the board. After a consultation with the members of the Public Building Committee of City Council it was decided to erect an entire new building, the cost of which should be borne by the two city bodies jointly. Three architects submitted plans for the proposed new building. The Public Building Committee met last week and consulted with the members of the Board of Education Committee. After the consultation it was decided to adopt the plans submitted by Mr. Rice. The plans adopted are for a three-story brick building. The basement which shows above the pavement will be of stone and so will the window sills. The cornices and trimmings over windows will be galvanized iron. The detailed plans will show a very pretty front. In the basement of the building will be twenty well-lighted and well-ventilated cells to be used in confining prisoners and thus relieve the pressure on the City Hall cells. On the first floor will be the offices of the two city tax collectors, the city solicitor, the city treasurer and the two city detectives. On the second floor will be the meeting room of the Board of Public Education, its secretary and treasurer and of the city auditor. On the third floor will be the rooms of the police station matron and drill and other rooms for the officers. In the rear of the building there will be an annex in which will be kept the patrol wagon and patrol horses. This will be so arranged that the wagon will be taken inside the building and the doors closed before the prisoner is removed. This will do away with the crowds that congregate about the entrance to the police station whenever the patrol wagon brings in a prisoner. The annex will take up a portion of the grass plot now in the rear of the City Hall, as it will occupy the space where the cannon now stand. It is not known how much the building will cost or when work will be commenced. The latter part of the matter will be decided by Council and the Board of Public Education. The new building will save the city money in the long run, as Wilmington now rents a patrol station, police room, matron's room and city solicitor's room. The same architect has been engaged to draw plans for twenty-eight new buildings to be erected at Delmar in place of those recently destroyed by fire. The cost ranges from $1,000 to $7,000 each.

Washington, D. C.

Victor Mendeleff has prepared plans for two handsome dwellings, to be erected on Florida Avenue, at a cost of $8000. The material will be of buff mottled and Pompeian brick, with galvanized iron cornices and overhanging oriels. Interior finish of hard wood and modern improvements. The same architect has prepared plans for two three-story dwellings, to be erected on Thirteenth Street, near Iowa Circle, at a cost of $13,000. The material will be of Indiana limestone and buff brick, with copper work. The interior will be finely finished.—Nicholas T. Haller has prepared plans for a dwelling, which he will erect for himself at New Hampshire Avenue and S Street. It will be of Hummelstown brownstone, with copper trimmings and tile roof. The interior will be finished in hard wood, and steam heat will be introduced. The estimated cost is $8000.—A dwelling will be erected at Glen Echo Heights for S. H. Pine, from plans prepared by Victor Mendeleff. Clark, 605 F Street, N. W. They will be of brick and Indiana limestone, and modern conveniences and improvements will be introduced.—The Board of

J. A. Bromwell, President of Water Work Board at Venice, Ill., proposals until October 7 for the purchase of its works and a twenty years' franchise.

Collinsville, Ill.—Proposals are wanted until September 30, for building a complete system of water-works. Address City Clerk James N. Peers, as above.

The Secretary of Navy will soon want bids for furnishing the steel to be used in the construction of the armored cruisers provided for by the recent Congress. The officers of the various bureaus under whose direction the new navy is progressing, are now engaged in preparing the specifications for bidders. These are being made in such a way as to invite the bids of the smaller establishments of the country instead of allowing a few of the larger works to enjoy a monopoly of the government patronage. It is estimated that 7000 tons of steel will be necessary to carry on the work on the ships now in course of construction and also the new cruiser to be built.

Proposals for Dredging.—United States Engineer Office, Mobile, Ala., August 27, 1892.—Sealed proposals for dredging in Mobile Harbor, Ala., Biloxi Bay, Miss., and Pascagoula River, Miss., will be received at this office until 12 M., Wednesday the 28th day of September, 1892, and opened immediately thereafter in presence of bidders. Specifications, general instructions to bidders and blank forms of proposals will be furnished on application to this office. The attention of the bidders is invited to the Acts of Congress approved February 26, 1885 and February 23, 1887, Volume 23, page 332, and Volume 24, page 414, Statutes-at-Large. A. N. Damrell, Major of Engineers, U. S. A.

Sacket's Harbor, N. Y., August 30, 1892.—Sealed proposals, in triplicate, will be received here until 12 o'clock M., September 30, 1892, and then opened, for construction and entire completion of the following public buildings at Madison Barracks, N. Y.—namely: One (1) double barrack and two (2) double officers' quarters, and for gas pipings in the new mess building. Plans and specifications can be seen at this office, and in cities where advertisement is published, where information relating to the work can be obtained. The United States reserves the right to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing proposals should be marked, "Proposals for Construction of Buildings," and addressed to Captain Chas B. Thompson, Assistant Quartermaster, U. S. Army.

Sealed proposals will be received by the president of the board of Water commissioners of the village of Chester, N. Y., until one o'clock P. M., October 7, 1892, at the corporation room in said village, for the material and labor, together and separately, required to construct a system of water-works. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or cash to the amount of $500 as a guarantee of good faith. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board of water commissioners or at the office of Joseph B. Rider, engineer, 149 Broadway, N. Y. Wm. A. Lawrence, President Board of Water Commissioners, dated Chester, N. Y., Sept. 14, 1892.

To Architects.—Plans and sketches will be received by the County Clerk of St Clair County, Ill., at his office in the city of Belleville, up to Saturday, October 1, 1892, at 12 o'clock noon, for an addition to the south side of the Court House at Belleville, Ill. The cost of said addition, when finished, not to exceed the sum of thirty thousand dollars (30,000). Upon the adoption of a submitted plan and sketch, the designer of such plan or sketch shall make complete plans and specifications for which the county of St. Clair, Ill., will pay the sum of $200. For further information apply to Philip Rhein, County Clerk of said county. By order of the Board of Supervisors, Philip Rhein County Clerk. The next meeting of the Board of Supervisors of said county will be held at Belleville on Tuesday, September 13, 1892.

Department of Public Safety, Bureau of City Property, Office, City Hall, Philadelphia, September 13th, 1892. Sealed proposals, endorsed "Bids for the erection of a Police Station in the Thirty-third Ward," and addressed to the undersigned, at his office above mentioned, will be received until 12 o'clock, noon, on Friday, September 23d, 1892, for the erection of a Police Station at Front and Westmoreland Streets, Thirty-third Ward. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the Chief of the Bureau of City Property, Room 130, City Hall. No bid will be considered unless accompanied by a certificate from the City Solicitor that the provisions of an ordinance requiring proposal bonds when the bids exceed in amount five hundred dollars, approved May 25, 1860 (p. 81, West), have been complied with. The Director reserves to himself the right to reject any or all bids, as he may deem best for the interests of the city.

The Water Mills of the World

Are grinding away, and the water is passing under the very noses of thousands whose grists wait and wait everlastingly because their owners don't catch on. It would take this whole paper to recount the opportunities lost by those who peg away without profitable results because of the want of mental discernment.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1892.

Architect Notes.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, is now receiving estimates on the plans for the North Church of Camden, of which we have given a full description in previous issues of this journal.

The Philadelphia Optical Company will have plans prepared for alterations of building, 916 Chestnut Street, to be 34 feet front, four stories high, and fitted with steam heat, electric work and best conveniences.

Chas. Brown, architect, 717 Walnut Street, Phila., has made plans for a residence to be 42x60 feet, three stories high, to be of brick, stone trimmings, electric outfit, bells and light, plate glass, American and German tiling and best modern conveniences.

Geo. W. Plowman, architect and builder, 1406½ Chestnut Street, has now completed all plans for the alteration of the Cyclorama Building, at Broad and Cherry Streets, which will now be rebuilt and adapted to circus purposes, as indicated by this journal early in the Spring of the present year. A full description of the new structure appeared at that time. All the work will be done in sub-contracts under Mr. Plowman's supervision.

Jno. T. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has been engaged to prepare plans for the construction of training quarters for James J. Corbett at Asbury Park, N. J. The structure will possess all the features of a hotel for accommodation of men only, and will be fitted with all modern conveniences, including electric work, sanitary plumbing, lavatories, bath rooms, etc.

Jacob Herold, architect, 231 Drexel Building, has made complete plans for the new "Gesang-verin Leiderheim" Singing Society hall, to be erected at Second and McKean Streets. The new structure will be of red press brick, sandstone trimmings and best interior arrangements. The first floor will be a club room, the second and third fitted for society purposes. On the corner of the two streets will be erected a three-story store, and north of the hall will be built two fine dwellings with all modern improvements. The corner-stone was laid on the 19th instant with ceremonies by the society. The hall will be in area 45 x 50 feet, and cost about $5000.

M. Feilding, architect, 110 South Fourth Street, has made plans for an alteration and addition to the Southeast corner of Tenth and Filbert Streets for J. C. Baker & Co. These consist of an entirely new back building and additional stories to the main structure. The floors and other parts on interior will be in hard wood. Elevators and steam heat will be introduced. Also, electric work, speaking tubes, best of sanitary work and all modern improvements and conveniences. The fronts will be quite ornamental, with a handsome bulk and bay window of galvanized iron. French and American glass will be used. Mr. Feilding is also engaged on plans for the alteration of the store on Ninth Street, above Chestnut, lately occupied by the Hall Safe Co., new back building and additions to the front. Also drawings are being prepared for six fine dwelling houses, which will be of stone, three stories high, shingle roofs and all modern improvements, for F. B. Mechling, Esq., at Wingohocking Heights. Same architect is preparing plans for a handsome country house for Mrs. Davis, at Ashbourne Station and York Road, to be of stone, three stories high and fitted with all conveniences, including good sanitary plumbing, electric bells, range, heaters, etc.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Chas. P. Nesbit, contractor, 425 Locust Street, has commenced work upon the isolated ward to be built on the grounds of the Blockley Almshouse. The structure will be 26 x 87 feet, one story high.

A movement is now on foot in the Roman Catholic Church to establish a Normal School for Girls as an offset to the one erected at Broad and Vine Streets for boys. It is proposed to raise a fund of $200,000 for the work.

James Mole, builder, 1718 Cayuga Street, has started excavations for eight dwellings on south side of Dennie Street, west from Germantown Avenue, to be of best material, brick, stone trimmings and modern conveniences.

The American Glass Company is about to begin the erection of a shop, one story high, and 50 x 300 feet, at Milnor and Longshore Streets, Tacony, to be furnished with furnaces and steam power, together with the machinery.

James H. Hamilton, contractor, 1402 Bainbridge Street, intends to erect at once fourteen two-story houses on south side of Tasker, east of Twenty-third Street. All to be of press brick, stone trimmings and good modern conveniences.

Nathaniel Kennedy has been given the contract to erect the five-story stock house for E. A. Poth at his brewery plant, Thirty-first and Jefferson Streets. The structure will be 42x50 feet and cost about $50,000 when completed. Otto C. Wolf, engineer and architect, 1345 Arch Street, made the plans and will supervise the work of construction.

Work has been started upon the front of 704 Chestnut Street under private contract. It will be remembered this structure is the only one upon which any question arose in regard to receding from the old line to that established under ordinance of City Councils.

Walter F. Carson, electrical contractor, N. W. cor. Howard and York Streets, has been awarded contract for all electrical work in new dwelling of Mr. William Maeir, on Columbia Avenue. Also, several contracts for incandescent electric lighting throughout suburbs.

The contract for the erection of the large factory for E. Heid & Co., at 13th and Hamilton, has been given to J. E. and A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut Street. These plans were prepared by John F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street, who will supervise the work of construction.

Wm. R. Brown, contractor, 2145 Dickinson Street, intends to build at once seven two-story dwellings on Volkmar Street, west of Palmer. These will be of the usual kind erected in that vicinity, having all conveniences on interior. Walls to be of brick, with stone steps and trimmings.

The Presbyterian Church, at Broad and Oxford Streets, has presented the stained glass windows in the present structure to the Presbyterian Church, at Langhorne, Pa. They are valued at $2200. The church, at Broad and Oxford Streets, will be fitted with new stained glass windows.

John M. Sharp, builder, 1936 South College Avenue, is about to start work upon twenty-four three-story dwellings on the east side of Twenty-fourth Street, north of Parrish. These will be in keeping with the other houses built by the same gentleman in that vicinity, and are located upon the site of the old House of Refuge property.

It is said that a large asylum for inebriates will be erected in Philadelphia within a year, and to be known as the Abbott Narcotic Sanitarium. Charles H. Cressy, of Chicago, who is interested in the matter has been in Philadelphia, and is said to have secured the option on a desirable site upon which to erect suitable buildings for the intended purpose.

Geo. L. Harney, contractor, 1608 Spruce Street, has received the contract to erect the new building for the African M. E. book concern at 631 Pine Street. We noted this work some time ago from plans prepared by L. C. Hickman, architect, Brown Bros.' Building, Fourth and Chestnut Streets, and who will supervise the construction.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, SEPT. 28, 1892.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

At a meeting of Councils' Committee on Highways, held September 26th, a resolution was adopted directing the chairman to offer an ordinance authorizing the creation of a loan of $1,000,000 for repaving such streets not occupied by railroad companies. The recommendation of the Mayor, that $50,000 be expended in the First District, was referred to the Sub-Committee on Improved Pavements.

The old Third Street M. E. Church, of Camden, N. J., will be turned over to the Railroad Employes Young Men's Christian Association for their use by the Pennsylvania Railroad, who have recently purchased the structure owing to the fact that the trains have been a source of annoyance to the service. It is likely that the building will be remodeled to some extent to make it available for the purposes indicated above.

The Woven-Wire Glass Co., recently incorporated, will erect at Tacony, Pa., the largest plant in the country for the manufacture of glass. The main structure will be 100 x 300 feet. The product of this company is a new one in the articles that go into building materials, and is used for ornamentation and light as well, being wire woven and covered with glass, which gives wonderful flexibility.

Bids for the new Thirty-third Ward Police Station were opened last week by Director Beitler, but no award was made as all of them were in excess of the appropriation. Following are the bids: Philip H. Somerset, $25,873; John R. Wiggins, $26,000; Jacob Wenzleberger, $29,100; Frederick J. Amweg, $26,453.38; R. C.

Ballinger & Co., $24,444; William R. Dougherty, $26,823; S. M. Button, $29,400; John B. Reilly, $29,869.27; James Bradley, $26,975.

The Germantown Brewing Company located at Queen Lane and Pulaski Avenue gave its "First Annual Festival" on the 22d inst. The business of the new company has grown to such an extent that it is now compelled to enlarge the plant which will be done at an early day by the addition of an ice plant of 50 tons capacity, also new kettles of 150 lbs. product. Other improvements will be introduced of a minor character at this time, but in the near future the manager intimates that the entire property will be covered with buildings extending on ground indicated as above.

At the next general meeting of the Builders' Exchange a motion will be made in favor of a number of sub-contractors who desire that a committee be appointed to confer with architects and request them to take duplicate receipts from general contractors for all payments made to them by the architects acting for the owners. This action is requested on account of a number of general contractors receiving money for a certain building and then, instead of paying the sub-contractors the amount of their bills, the money is used on other operations, compelling the sub-contractors to wait for their money.

The local builders' exchanges throughout the United States have been notified by the National Secretary that the midyear meeting of the officers directors and members of the committees will be held in Indianapolis on October 17 and 18. The midyear meeting was organized several years ago, in order that routine work and other business might be transacted so as to relieve the regular annual convention of the National Association. All of the cities send delegates consisting of the presidents of the local exchanges and others. The meeting will adjourn in time to allow the delegates to attend the World's Fair on October 21.

Beck and Conley, carpenters, 116 North Seventh Street, have received a contract from F. J. Hofner to erect the new theatre at 237-39-41-43 and 45 North Eighth Street, and fully noted in this journal about one year ago. The structure will be about 120x120 feet and will be constructed with many new features for the comfort, care and conveniences of its patrons, special fire-proof work will be introduced, electric work, steam plant and best of sanitary plumbing, lavatories and closets as well as the best of heating and ventilation. Work to begin at an early day. It is likely "The Star," as it will be called will be opened in the early spring of 1893.

The plant of Rosengarten & Sons, now occupying nearly the entire block bounded by Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Fitzwater and Catharine Streets will be moved to the tract owned by Samuel G. Rosengarten between Thirty-fourth Street, Schuylkill Avenue, Mifflin Street and Gray's Ferry Road. The first steps in this direction were taken the 23d inst., when a sub-committee of the Survey Committee examined the premises with a view to striking Thirty-sixth Street from the city plan between Dickinson Street and Snyder avenue. The sub-committee agreed to report the ordinance favorably, and if Councils concur, other improvements will follow rapidly. Schuylkill Avenue is now 70 feet wide. The Schuylkill East Side Railroad occupies 40 feet of this highway, leaving but 15 feet on either side, which is practically useless. It is proposed to widen this street to 120 feet, making a splendid roadway. Thirty-fourth Street, now 50 feet in width, will be widened to 70 feet, and at both ends of it bridges will be built over the Schuylkill, leading almost directly to Woodlands Cemetery at one end and Point Breeze at the other. The grade of the land west of Thirty-fourth Street fronting on the Schuylkill is four feet lower than the bed of the railroad, thus depriving the whole district of municipal improvements. This evil will also be remedied by raising the level of the land to the grade of the railroad. It will be quite a time before the grading will be completed and nothing in the shape of improvements can be expected until this is done. It is not proposed to disturb the present plant of the Rosengartens until the new site is in shape for improvement. Samuel G. Rosengarten owns twenty-two acres of the land affected.

Colonel James P. Low, Chief Engineer of the Architect's Office, Treasury Department, came to Philadelphia from Washington Saturday the 24th inst., with instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury to examine and report in detail on every site which may appear suitable for the erection of the new Mint Building. He has located himself in the long-disused office of the Bank Examiner, Room 30, second floor, Post Office, and decided that his office hours shall be from 10 A. M. to 1 P. M. during the rest of the week. Colonel Low's errand, quietly as it has been entered upon, is of great importance to Philadelphia, and his report will be the official summary of the information bearing on the Mint site to which the Secretary will refer. The Chief Engineer explained his mission in an interview as follows: "The object of my visit is to examine all the sites heretofore offered or suggested for a new Mint building, and to receive offers of other sites and to hear suggestions from any citizens who may wish to give me the benefit of their views on the subject. My letter of instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury gives me wide latitude of observation and report, although my office is simply to place at his disposal the information necessary to enable him to make a final selection of the property suitable for the purpose. My errand is in a sense supplementary to the report of the Commission of Citizens appointed by the Secretary July 10, 1891, which on September 8, 1891, recommended the acquisition of the property on Walnut street between Sixth and Seventh. I am particularly desirous of obtaining definite prices from owners of the several parcels of property in that site, as well as definite offers of other sites that may be eligible. I will make this my office for a few hours every day during the present week. After that I will devote my time to a personal examination of the several localities. The preliminary steps—the proffer of proposals and suggestions—will determine how long I will remain; because the time I must consume in visiting possible sites is contingent upon the number of properties offered for sale.

Total number of operations . . . . .	820
--------------------------------------	-----

Estimates are being invited by James H. Windrim, architect, 1107 Walnut Street, upon construction work on the upper floors of the Times Annex Building, Sanson above Eighth Street. The work is principally interior wood work.

Lawrence V. Boyd, architect, 1708 Chestnut Street, will make extensive alterations and additions to the grounds and buildings of the St. David's Cricket Club, at St. David's Station, Delaware Co., Pa. Work on the plans is progressing.

R. G. Kennedy, architect, 915 Drexel Building, has made plans for a glass factory and car house to be erected at Millville, N. J., for Whitehall, Tatem & Co., to be one story, brick and frame, 150x150 feet, to be fitted with furnaces, blowers and general machinery, etc.

Fred. G. Thorne, architect, 235 North Thirty-sixth Street, has made plans for a four-story mill addition at Fifty-fourth and Wyalusing Avenue for Geo. Brooks. The structure will be supplied with steam power and machinery; to be built of stone and brick with considerable iron work.

Thomas Price, architect, Lansdowne, Pa., has prepared plans for a new church for the Port Richmond M. E. congregation to be erected at the Northwest corner of Thompson and Neff Sts., Phil'a., to be of stone and brick, one story high, and interior will contain good upholstering, and Walter H. Geissinger, architect and engineer, S. W. cor. Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has put on boards for estimate the plans for steam heating, steam and water connection in the factory building of Hoyle, Harrison & Kaye, Indiana Avenue and Fillmore Street. These are quite extensive and cover the entire plant, a full description of which has been given in this journal.

It is understood that the tenants in the rear of the Hale Building at Juniper and Sansom Streets have been notified to vacate the premises preparatory to the construction of the new addition to the above building. The plans have been prepared for some time by Willis G. Hall, 1524-26 Chestnut Street, who designed the original structure and who will supervise the work upon the new part.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, have placed for estimate designs for the water tower for the Philadelphia and Reading Terminal Railroad on Eleventh Street near Race. This work will consist chiefly of stone, brick, iron and cement work, each of which will be of considerable dimensions. The house will be three stories high, while the stack and tanks will be of various sizes.

Furness, Evans & Co., 209 South Third Street, have made plans for the erection of a large parish house for St. Paul's P. R. Church, at Forty-seventh Street and Kingessing Avenue, to be of stone and brick, three stories high, and fitted on interior in hard wood with all modern accommodations. Contract has been let to Thomas Little and Son, 217 Pear Street, who will at once begin work. When the work on the above is completed it is proposed to erect a handsome church adjoining the parochial house.

Boyden & Taylor, architects, 413 Walnut Street, are engaged on plans for alteration to the Abington Presbyterian Church at Abington, Montgomery County, Pa.; also plans for a house and stable at Bradford Hills on P. R. R., for Dr. H. F. Hensill, structure to be native blue local stone, to be finished in hard wood and modern conveniences, including electric bells and best sanitary plumbing, etc.; also two fine stone and frame houses at Lansdowne, Pa., for H. P. Huston, with all modern conveniences; also a frame stable at Bradford Hills, P. R. R., for Richard Rowley Baker, to have all modern conveniences.

G. W. and W. D. Hewitt, architects, Bullitt Building, have completed plans for building a parochial residence for Holy Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, at Nineteenth and Walnut Streets, adjoining the church. The structure will be three stories high, front of red sandstone, with a mansard roof, to be covered with slate. The interior will be in hard woods, tile work, finest of sanitary plumbing, heat and ventilation, electric work and every modern convenience. Thomas Little and Son, 217 Pear Street, have been given the contract for the work. The cost of the house, when complete, will be about $35,000.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 5, 1892.

The stained glass business of C. H. Postel & Co., 1314 and 1316 Ridge Avenue, Philadelphia, has been reorganized and Mr. D. Musser McKee has been admitted with a capital of $50,000.

CONSTANT improvements are being made in many of the home comforts that enter so largely into the relations of the family, both of a domestic and general character. Among the most recent inventions of the day and placed upon the market is the "Splendid Kitchener" range, manufactured by the Abram Cox Stove Company, combining many essential points of genuine merit, in addition to its very handsome appearance and compartments. Being a five and six-plate top of clear space, with a vertical or horizontal concealed boiler, and made with or without hot air fittings, and no back work, and a large, well ventilated oven, combined with a handy grate and frame, gives it many points of advantage, which, heretofore, have not been so thoroughly covered. They are also made to work either right or left hand, and come within the general term of a "beau ideal" in a nicely appointed home. For many years this house has stood as one of the leaders in its particular line of products, and has from time to time added improvements whenever an opening offered until now it claims perfection for the Novelty Hot-Air Furnace as well as the line of stove ranges. All these only need investigation for the purchaser to be convinced.

Architect Notes.

Angus S. Wade, architect, Hale Building, has been engaged to prepare plans for alteration and additions to the home of Hon. Frank McGowan, ex-Mayor of Trenton, N. J. These will consist of interior and exterior work. The structure will be in colonial style, and be finished on interior in hard, fancy woods. The painting will be very fine. Electric bells and lights and best of sanitary work in plumbing will be introduced. Mr. Wade will also design specially the furniture and upholstery; also furnish the entire house with the choicest carpets and trimmings; in fact, the entire outfit will be placed under the supervision of the architect.

John T. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third Street, has made all the plans for the new station house to be erected at Westmoreland and Front Streets. It will be a three-story structure of stone and brick, and possess many new features in lodging rooms, cells and quarters for the police and matron. The roof will be of slate, steam heat, electric work, best of sanitary plumbing and modern improvements will be introduced. This work has been estimated upon, but no award has been made for the reason that the lowest bidder's estimate was beyond the appropriation made by Councils, and it is altogether likely to result in being again submitted for bids.

Elmer E. Miller, architect, Penn Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., has prepared plans for a dwelling to be erected at Osborne, Pa., for James B. Haines, Jr. It will be of stone and brick, handsome interior finish, and all modern improvements. The cost will be about $7,500; also plans for a dwelling for J. C. Chaplin, to be erected at Sewickley, Pa. It will be of frame and will cost $3,300; also plans for two frame dwellings to be erected at Sewickley for G. A. Hays, Esq., at a cost of about $2,300 each; also plans for a dwelling to be erected for Dr. J. M. McClaren at Pittsburgh, Pa. It will be of frame, handsomely finished, contain modern improvements, and will cost $4,500; also plans for a dwelling for William Miller to be erected at Sewickley, Pa., at a cost of $4,500.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The city of Philadelphia has bought a lot of ground at the Southwest corner of Warnock and Berks Streets for public uses, the area is 20x100 feet, and price paid, $13,500.

Berger Bros., located at 237 Arch Street, are about to erect a four-story addition to their present building for office and storage purposes. It will be of brick with all conveniences.

Hugh McNeil, builder, will erect fourteen two-story houses on Ninth Street South of Wolf, in addition to two other stores and dwellings in same place, all to be of good press brick, stone trimmings and best of modern conveniences.

John P. Kidd, contractors, 1039 South Fourth Street, will start work at once upon a large three-story addition to stable for John McCartney at 509-511-513 Fitzwater Street. It will be 50x60 feet and accommodate 50 head of horses.

It is the intention of Hilt & Wood, morocco manufacturers, Northeast corner of Jefferson and Mascher Streets, to rebuild the portion of the factory recently destroyed by fire. The extent of the damage is estimated to be about $2,500.

Estimates have been asked on the work of constructing the Hayes Hotel at the West Chester, Pa., for which plans were prepared by architects Baker & Dallett, Fifth and Walnut Streets, Phila., and which has been fully noted in these columns.

R. C. Winnals & Bro., contractors, 4628 Trenton Avenue, are about to begin the erection of a factory 40x150 feet, with a wing 35x40 feet four-stories high, on the South side of Venango Street east of Kensington Avenue, to be of stone and brick, fitted with steam power and modern conveniences.

Colonel James P. Low, who has been in Philadelphia on business connected with the selection of a site for the proposed new Mint has returned to Washington in order to permit Supervising Architect Edbrooke to take a vacation. It is generally understood that the site approved by the commission will be selected.

Beck & Comly, contractors, 117 North Seventh Street, have the contract to make considerable alterations and additions to the Custom House on Chestnut Street above Fourth Street. These will be chiefly on interior and made after plans and specifications by W. J. Edbrooke, Supervising Architect Treasury Department.

Geo. C. Dietrich, contractor, 2003 Berks Street, has been awarded the contract for a three-story store and dwelling, 20x68½ feet, for Wm. J. Gilmore, to be erected at the Northeast corner of Eighteenth and Columbia Avenue. All modern improvements and hard wood finish. Robert K. Marple, architect, 708 Walnut Street, Phila.

C. B. Truitt, 202 Walnut Street, this Fall, will erect thirty two and three-story dwellings on Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Streets, Seneca and Westminster Avenues, and over a hundred in the Spring. All these houses will be of press brick ornate fronts with stone facings, inside will be in hard wood with tile work and best modern conveniences.

Romulo Vasquez, architect, of Holmesburg, Phila., has prepared plans for the construction of quite a number of frame dwellings for Mr. De Victor, owner of the new factory now being built near Leddenfield Station, between Tacony and Holmesburg Junction. These houses are two-story and for the workmen who will be employed in the establishment at that place.

The Operative Builders' Association is backing an ordinance that will shortly be presented to Councils relative to the collection of garbage and ashes. President Roberts says that the ordinance, as prepared by their organization, required that all garbage must be collected between the hours of 9 P. M. and 6 A. M., and that no ashes be set out for collection until after 9 P. M.

Geo. F. Payne & Co., contractors, 401 South Juniper street, have laid the plans for the new additions to the Academy of Natural Science before the Building Inspectors for examination, and as soon as passed upon will begin the work of construction. The location of the new structure will be at Nineteenth and Cherry streets, the foundations of which has already been laid. Wilson Bros. are the architects.

The awards have been made by the Building Committee in charge of the erection of the John M. George school buildings on the Sharon farm near Newtown, Bucks County, Pa. Franklin M. Harris will do the brick work, Mr. C. Reeves the plaster work. Other contracts have been given and the whole will be done under supervision of George Watson, 907 Marshall Street, Phila., Chairman of the Building Committee.

The association is also working hard to secure the erection of a bridge and a new station at Twenty-second and Dauphin Streets. Since the opening of Dauphin Street from Twenty-second to Twenty-fifth the necessity of reducing the danger at this point is becoming every day more obvious, as the only street North of Diamond open for travel is York, which is not capable of accommodating the growing population in this quarter.

Among the new enterprises of the Real Estate Investment Company, of this city, now being considered, is one to erect a fine first-class apartment house in a choice neighborhood, if such a location many offer at fair figures. The property at southwest corner of Locust and Dean streets has been under consideration and if favorably thought of it is likely a fine ten story structure will be reared. The matter is, however, yet in embryo.

Plans are now being made by Hugo Malmedia, for a large apartment house that will be erected by a syndicate of capitalists, with A. Segal of this city at the head. The building as contemplated is twelve stories high with twenty-eight apartments on each floor, numbering in all one thousand rooms. The building will be erected so as to form a quadrangle, which will be kept as a garden. The roof of the building is also to be used for horticultural purposes.

Invitations have been sent out by the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. to a number of contractors to estimate on the construction work of the new building at Forty-first Street and Westminster Avenue, for the Young Mens Christian Association which is to be erected at that place by the company after plans by Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Fourth and Walnut Streets, Phila. The structure has been described fully in this journal in previous numbers. Specifications and plans are to be seen at the office of the architect.

A new organization is being formed by a number of well known operators for the purchase and improvement of real estate. Those interested refuse as yet to make any statement concerning the enterprise. Within a few days a charter will be applied for under the name of the Central Real Estate Company, with Charles A. Lagen, J. V. McGeoghegan, Benjamin C. Satterthwaite, Henry D. Dagit and Edward McGeoghegan as the incorporators. It is understood that as soon as the company is in working order steps will be taken for the erection of a handsome office building in the central part of the city. Options, it is also learned, have been secured on a number of properties which will be torn down and new residences erected in their places. In this manner streets that are now filled with unsightly properties will be transferred into handsome thoroughfares.

The Union Church, of Avalon, N. Y., will erect a frame one-story church at that place after plans by Boyden & Taylor, 413 Walnut Street, also a District School will be erected at the same place after plans by the same architects, and will be built by the district trustees; structure will be frame, pebble dashed, and will accommodate about seventy-five pupils. There will be a large assembly room on the second floor, furnished with good conveniences, school furniture, etc. — A fine cottage will be erected by James Nieuirkirk at the same place, which will be of frame, two stories high, and fitted on interior with all modern conveniences. This contract has been given to W. E. Carter, of Pitman Grove, N. J. The prospects in this locality are exceedingly bright for sale of lots and erection of quite a number of cottages.

A neat 48-page compilation of the laws, ordinances, rules and regulations governing building work has just been issued by the Bureau of Building Inspectors at the expense of the members. The brochure opens with the section of the Bullitt bill containing the operations of the inspectors, and, after giving about all the laws and regulations that a practical builder ought to be acquainted with, winds up with the decision of Judge Wilson, preserving the yard space of 12 feet square to all dwelling houses. The personnel of the Bureau of Building Inspectors is given on one of the pages as follows: President, William J. Gillingham; Secretary, George Wharton; Inspectors, First District, James Zimmerman; Second, Charles D. Supplee; Third, Harman M. Boorse; Fourth, Andrew Magill; Fifth, Samuel H. Collom; Sixth, John A. Decker; Solicitor, Norris S. Barratt; Clerk, Wm. H. Butler; Messenger, Charles E. Whiteside.

Director of Public Works Windrim will shortly propose to City Councils, through the Mayor, a plan to get rid of the highly objectionable open sewer in the Northeastern section of the city known as Gunner's Run. Gunner's Run is not only a sewer, but a miasmatic stream of water foul in the extreme, and very prejudicial to the health of the people living in the vicinity. The best method of doing away with it is now under consideration by the Board of Health in conjunction with the Survey Bureau, and the result of their labors Director Windrim will shortly submit to Mayor Stuart. It is the Director's idea to completely fill up the run and grade it and make it a good, substantial, well-paved highway. He does not propose to allow the new roadway to be used for street cars or public vehicles of any kind. Under the proposed new street it is the Director's intention to construct a sewer of the most approved pattern. There is no money set aside for this work at present, but the Director will request an appropriation when the plans are submitted to Councils.

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia, in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

Whether large or small, your house will require a heating apparatus of some kind. It will pay you to put in a really good hot air furnace. The

has no superior. Perfectly self-cleaning, with fewest joints, free from dust and gas, largest radiating surface, heavy steel plate, drum casings easy on fuel, and of superior durability, it will always give satisfaction. A descriptive circular will be mailed upon application.

The Water Mills of the World

Are grinding away, and the water is passing under the very noses of thousands whose grists wait and wait everlastingly because their owners don't catch on. It would take this whole paper to recount the opportunities lost by those who peg away without profitable results because of the want of mental discernment.

PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1892.

PRICE 15 CENTS

Architect Notes.

Henry D. Dagit, architect, has removed his office to 706 Walnut Street, where he has fitted up a handsome suite of rooms for his profession, and where he will be pleased to receive clients and friends. Mr. Dagit has been compelled to secure more commodious quarters on account of increase of business.

Walter H. Geissinger, architect and engineer, S. E. corner Twelfth and Chestnut Streets, has made plans for an additional building to the factory of John H. Dearnley, Eighth and Somerset Streets, to be two stories high, brick, stone trimmings and good modern conveniences, etc. Estimates are being offered on work.

Horace Trumbaur, architect, 310 Chestnut Street, has on boards plans for a handsome conservatory for W. W. Harrison, size 68 x 100 feet, to have in the centre a large glass dome, tile walks, heated by steam and all the latest improvements introduced. It will be erected at Glenside, Pa., the country house of Mr. Harrison.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, Manhattan Life Building, Fourth and Walnut Streets, has made plans for a hotel to be built for G. F. Rothacker, at Thirty-fifth and Ludlow Streets, to be five stories high, of brick and stone construction, electric work, best plumbing, heating and ventilation and all modern improvements. Estimates are being made on the work.

Frank R. Watson, architect, 518 Walnut Street, is engaged on plans for a Methodist church and Sunday school to be erected at Seventeenth and York Streets. The Sunday school will be erected first and the church at some time subsequent. The structure will be brick and stone, slate roof, and in the Romanesque style of architecture. Interior will be furnished with school furniture of the most approved make.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, is making plans for a feed warehouse, dwelling and stable at Logan Station, on the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, to be three stories high and brick with a slate roof and all modern conveniences on interior of each structure. The same architect is desirous of having estimates on heating with hot air the West Hope Presbyterian Church, Fortieth and Aspen Streets, West Philadelphia.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 46-47 Hale Building, Chestnut and Juniper Streets, is preparing plans for a fine country house at Jenkintown for Mr. M. L. Kohler. The structure will be stone and frame work with large porches and a handsome porte cochere. The interior will be in hard wood, tile work, plate and stained glass, best of sanitary plumbing, heating and ventilation. The culinary department will contain all modern conveniences.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel Building, will in a few days ask bids upon the work of constructing the Philadelphia and Reading station at Ninth and Spring Garden Streets, which will be an elevated one, patterned after the Manhattan Elevated, at Eighteenth and Twenty-eighth Streets, Sixth Avenue line, New York City. It will be chiefly built of iron, bricks and stone, and be what may be termed a double station, being divided by the two tracks of the main line. The minor details of the structure have been fully noted in this journal in a previous number.

Carrere and Hastings, architects, 44-46 Broadway, New York City, have placed on the boards of City Contractors J. E. and A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut Street, plans for a handsome house for Mr. John Pitcairn, at Bethayres, Pa. The structure will be three stories high with a slate roof. Corner towers and minarets will ornament the upper parts of walls. The interior will be a model of comfort, finished in hard wood, electric work, speaking tubes, dumb waiters, best of sanitary plumbing and kitchen arrangements. Considerable tile and mosaic work will be laid, artificial pavements and floors and all modern conveniences. Sub-estimates are being made on the work.

Furness, Evans & Co., architects, 209 South Third Street, are engaged on plans for rebuilding Nos. 1222-24 Locust Street, owned by the Real Estate and Investment Company, of this city. The new houses will be of a very handsome design, both in exterior appearance and workmanship. They are to be practically five stories high, fronts of stone. The interior will be in hard woods, electric work throughout, best sanitary plumbing, tiling, open grates, furnace heat, finest culinary arrangements; in fact, no adjuncts to comfort and convenience will be omitted in making these dwellings among the most desirable in the central part of the city. Work is now in progress on 1215-17 from plans by F. Miles Day, architect, and owned by the same corporation. These are buff brick fronts, with stone ornamentation, and the same class of interior work as described for 1222-24, and have been fully noted in this journal.

Henry D. Dagit, architect and engineer, 706 Walnut Street, has made plans for a retail liquor store for James McCloskey, on South-west corner of Front and Spruce Streets, to be three stories high, press brick front, with Jonesboro granite trimmings, sheet metal cornice, tile floor, furnace heat, and all modern conveniences. The first floor will be in oak finish. Also, plans for a hospital for Dr. Horace Hoskins at the Philadelphia Veterinary Sanitarium to be erected on Ludlow Street, West of Thirty-fourth. First floor will have an office, pharmacy, carriage room and infirmary department. Also, a surgical operating room infirmary, well fitted with box stalls on one side and single stalls upon the other, all of improved and scientific construction. This room will be lighted by two longitudinal Hayes' patent skylights. The surgical department will contain an improved operating table, and all the latest adjuncts for the business. The second floor will be devoted to smaller animals, and well lighted and ventilated. The third will be arranged for the storage of feed and implements. The whole structure will be heated by hot water. The work will be erected upon the plan of sub-contracting and supervised by the architect. Estimates are being made. Also, plans for an annex building to the Baldwin Hotel, at Beach Haven, N. J., to be 40 x 150 feet, four stories high, to be frame. It will contain 48 sleeping rooms, and a billiard-room, card rooms and other rooms on first floor. To be fitted with electric work, etc. Also, plans for the store of Henry McHugh, 1434 Market Street. Also, addition to house 844 North Fifteenth Street, for Mrs. A. Gobright.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

McKay & Kahler, Broad Street and Germantown Junction, dealers in ornamental bricks, are supplying the buff bricks for the Wistar Museum of Anatomy, now in course of erection on the grounds of the University of Pennsylvania, Thirty-sixth and Spruce Streets.

John H. Hudson, builder, 1424 Columbia Avenue, will at once begin excavation of cellars for forty two-story houses, 14x25 feet, on Wyalusing Avenue, south side, west of Thirty-seventh, all to be of press brick, stone facings and steps with best modern conveniences on interior.

Doyle & Doak, builders and contractors, 1511-13 Moravian Street, have received a contract from Joseph L. Caven to erect a fine $40,000 house on Spruce Street, west of Thirty-ninth. The walls will be erected entirely of stretcher brick, interior will be in hard wood, tile work, electric bells and light, finest of sanitary plumbing and every modern convenience in the various departments of the building. Work will begin at once.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 12, 1892.

THE Congress of the National Real Estate Association met at Buffalo on the 4th, 5th and 6th inst., and was of unusual interest to all concerned. Addresses were made by men prominent in business and commercial life from all parts of the country. The papers read on the occasion were full of valuable points, and the discussions could not fail to be of great benefit to those interested in the subjects brought before the association.

THE evidences of the prosperity of nearly every class of manufacturing business have been apparent upon every hand during the current year, and in none are they more marked than in the wares upon which we depend for much of our home comforts, namely stoves, heaters and ranges. Standing to-day among the leading houses of this country in the above-named product may be noticed the firm of Isaac A. Shepard & Co., of Philadelphia, Pa., and of Baltimore, Md., whose output for the year 1892 will largely exceed that of any previous year, their shipments and manufacture being of a large and equally varied style, consisting of all grades and sizes, from the largest portable heater to the more diminutive cooking and heating apparatus, and for which they have gained a national reputation. Among the chiefly meritorious may be classed their Paragon Steel Plate Furnace, which is unexcelled in its radiating power and economy in fuel, and the care of which in management is reduced to a minimum. Their Fidelity Hot Air Range, with vertical and horizontal hot water boiler attached, is in itself a wonder in utility of space and adaptability to family and hotel uses, and has only to be seen and its merits explained to be appreciated. It is in itself the outcome of years of profound study. To make useful and please has been the one object. This they have attained in a marked degree. Besides the above enumerated, this firm, it must be remembered, turns out an equally large number of stoves of great variety and portable ranges, both useful and very ornamental in design. Thus they keep abreast of the times and apace with general trade. Among one of the leading features in their large and replete catalogue may be noticed an open grate Parlor Stove, which has had great praise showered upon it. A visit to these vast hives of industry will well repay the searcher after those chief adjuncts which add so much to home and general comfort.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Beck & Conley, 117 North Seventh Street, have secured the contract for the erection of a five-story warehouse at 32 South Front Street.

The Bergner & Engel Brewing Company has taken out a permit for the erection of a one-story wash house, 20x32 feet, on Thirty-first Street, south of Jefferson.

Four dwellings will be erected on Torresdale Avenue, above Comley Street. William Harrison is the contractor for two of them and John Rhoads for the others.

An operation of fifteen two-story houses is to be started by John Leonard at Front and Mercy Streets, and to be of press brick, stone trimmings and good interior accommodation.

W. A. Arthur & Bro., contractors, 219 North Thirty-sixth Street, will erect a one-story frame chapel, 18x34 feet, on Market Street, east of Fifty-seventh. The structure will have pews, furnace heat and modern conveniences.

Michael O'Brien, builder, is about to erect eighteen two-story houses on the east and west sides of Harmony Street west of Thirty-fifth Street. All to be of press brick fronts and stone trimmings, with best modern conveniences on interior.

J. Crawford, builder, 2024 South Sixth Street, will at once begin the erection of twenty-four two-story houses on Winton and Cantrell Streets, west of Eleventh. All to be of press brick, stone facings and steps with good modern conveniences.

An additional back building will at once be erected in the rear of the Children's Homœopathic Hospital, 935 Carlisle Street. It will be three stories high, 24 x 24 feet, with a one story addition at the side. All to be of brick and best modern arrangements on interior.

George W. Shearman, owner, 3050 Clifford Street, will at once begin an operation of nine two-story and one store and dwelling on Lancaster Avenue, west side, east of Fifty-sixth Street.

These will be of the usual style of dwellings in that vicinity in material and general construction.

Dr. John V. Allen, 11 Sellers Street, Frankford, has purchased what is known as the "Stull" estate, 3537-39 Main Street in the above suburb. It is 42x200 feet and runs to Paul Street in the rear. Dr. Allen will tear down the houses at present standing and erect in their stead a handsome residence.

A four-story brew house will at once be erected by the Bergner & Engel Company on the west side of Thirty-second Street, north of Thompson; to be of brick, stone and iron construction, with considerable cement work in the way of floor paving, etc. The cost is estimated at about $22,000.

Jacob Marsch, builder, Rising Sun Lane and Fifth Street, will begin a number of two and three-story dwellings on Leamy Street, north of Indiana Avenue, and north of Somerset Street as well. Also on Cambria Street, west of Leamy Street. All to be of good design and best material for that class of houses.

The committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania that has in charge the erection of the new Diocesan House on Broad Street, near Locust, has accumulated almost the entire sum of $50,000, which is needed for the purchase of the lot. Work will soon be begun on the building, which will cost about $50,000.

Daniel M. Collamer, owner and builder, Broad and Germantown Avenue, is about to erect nine two story houses, 15 $\frac{3}{4}$ x27 feet, on west side Fifth Street, north of Allegheny Avenue; also a store and dwelling at Fifth and Wellington Streets, three stories high, all to be of fine press brick, stone trimmings and best modern conveniences.

John Wanamaker is understood to be in negotiation for the site Broad above Arch Street, recently excavated for the structure to be reared by the Iron Hall Association. The bankrupt condition of that organization now places the location among the assets and must be sold for the benefit of the creditors. At present it cannot be learned just what use Mr. Wanamaker will make of the site if secured by him.

Mrs. Barbara Tresch, proprietress of the Indian Rock Hotel, at the foot of Monastery Avenue, near the Wissahickon drive, has had plans prepared for a two-story annex, to be erected on the upper side of the hotel. The addition will include 12 rooms and a large banquet hall. A. A. Harmer, Freedland Avenue, Wissahickon, has the contract, and expects to have the work completed before winter sets in.

The Church of the Sacred Heart, R. C., Third Street below Reed, will at once erect a parochial residence for Sisters of Charity connected with the work of the parish. It is to be a three-story structure with a front of stone and other walls of brick. The structure will cover 31x71 feet and will contain all modern comforts on interior. Edmund Molloy, 2835 Kensington Avenue, is the contractor for the work.

A large force of workmen are engaged with a steam shovel in cutting down the high embankment of earth on the triangular lot at the Northwest corner of Thirty-second and Master Streets. The lot, which is the property of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, extends from Master to Jefferson Streets and from Thirty-second to Thirty-third, and after it has been leveled to the grade of the street it is the intention of the company to erect a large freight station upon it.

John C. Sims, John C. Young, John Armitage, Sevil Schofield, Thomas Bradley and William Bradley have purchased seventy acres of land overlooking the Schuylkill at Manayunk, from S. Schofield, Esther Howell and the Roberts estate, for cemetery purposes. The tract is beautifully situated and is bounded by Clegg's Lane on the south, Belmont Road, on the north, the Reading Railroad on the east and a country road on the west. It will be called the Westminster Cemetery and a handsome chapel, modeled after Westminster Abbey will be erected upon it.

Director Beidler, of the Department of Public Safety, will likely at an early day make a proposition, through the Mayor, for the construction of a central fire station, to be located near the central part of the city, and which will be a model in its way. It will be recommended in a special message to locate the house between Tenth and Twentieth, Vine and South Streets and large enough to hold two fully equipped companies. These two companies will be regarded as auxiliary to the general command of the city. By the aid of this adjunct many useful reforms may be brought about.

The program for the mid-year meeting of the National Association of Builders has been announced. The exercise will be held in the New Denison Hotel, Indianapolis, on Monday and Tuesday, October 17 and 18. Various reports will be read from directors of the filial bodies touching on the conditions existing in their exchanges and suggestions for the consideration and work of the coming convention. An important feature will be the consideration of the new eight-hour law as passed at the last session of Congress and the advisability of securing the official opinion as to legal status from the United States District Attorney. Other important subjects will have reference to securing a congress of builders in connection with the World's Fair, preparing a standard form of organization for local bodies, the revision of the constitution and such other matters as may be presented. Stacy Reeves and John S. Stevens will represent the Philadelphia Exchange.

A large cloth hat factory is to be built for E. Heig on the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Wood Streets. It is necessitated by the gradual increase in the business which Mr. Heig began in 1861. The new factory will be spacious and handsome for such a structure. It will have a frontage of 71 feet on Thirteenth Street and a depth of 36 feet on Wood Street, extending through to Carlton. The building will be five stories and a basement in height, built of fine stretcher bricks, laid in red mortar, with granite and portage red sandstone trimmings. The stonework around the doorway will be handsomely carved. In the basement will be placed the boilers, engines and dynamos for electric lights, machinery for elevators, &c. The first floor will be divided with antique quartered oak partitions, handsomely carved, a reception room, general office, private office, cashier's office, show room for exhibiting manufactured goods and shipping room. The other stories will be used for manufacturing purposes. The building work will be done by J. E. & A. L. Pennock, under the general supervision of J. Franklin Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut Street.

The question of the site for the new Mint in Philadelphia has been practically settled, on the 6th inst., in favor of the location corner of Sixth and Walnut, originally recommended by the Commission appointed to select one. As known, the only, or at least the principal question involved in the approval of the Commission's recommendations, was whether the property could be purchased for the amount appropriated for that purpose. In view of the determination reached, it is assumed that the inquiries upon that point made by Colonel Low, the special agent of the Department, while in Philadelphia, were satisfactorily answered. The Colonel having returned to Washington, had an interview with Secretary Foster, Mint Director Leech and Supervising Architect W. J. Edbrooke. An outline of his investigations and the deductions therefrom were given to the officials named, and after they separated it was understood Colonel Low would recommend, in his report to the Secretary, the purchase of the Sixth and Walnut site. When that report is received Secretary Foster will approve it, and thereupon ask the Department of Justice to take the necessary steps to obtain possession for the United States for the purpose in view. The Supervising Architect will, it is understood, proceed at once to the preparation of plans and specifications for the new building, and will include in his estimates for the next fiscal year the sum of $500,000, with which the actual work of construction may be begun. Unless this appropriation is secured at the approaching session of Congress it will be impossible to begin work on the new building until after June 30th, 1894. But it is not apprehended that there will be any difficulty in securing the desired appropriation in time for use next year.

The report of Colonel J. P. Low, Special Agent of the Supervising Architect's Bureau, Treasury Department, upon the site of the Philadelphia Mint, is a complete endorsement of the work of the Citizen's Commission in every detail. It is not a lengthy document (there was but scant time for its preparation to submit to Secretary Foster before he left the city), but it comprehends all the essential points involved in the question. The important paragraph reads substantially as follows: "After a full and thorough examination of the questions involved and a full consideration of the points urged in opposition thereto, I concur in the recommendation of the Citizens' Commission, and advise that the Department select the site bounded by Walnut, Sansom, Sixth and Seventh Streets." In support of his recommendation Colonel Low advances the following reasons: "1. The site affords ample room for the construction of the necessary buildings. 2. It is good building ground; the foundations will almost certainly be found to be solid and satisfactory. 3. The location is a convenient one to the business interests of the city, and to the visitor and sightseer as well. It lies in the midst of a territory sure to soon be occupied by other handsome structures. 4. Facing, as it does, two open squares or parks, the site is one peculiarly fitted to show to the best advantage whatever improvements may be made thereon.

5. Ample police protection is assured not only by the regular force of the city, but the large number of private watchmen employed in the vicinity. 6. The probable cost of the site is not unreasonable, and will leave of the sum estimated for the entire outlay sufficient to erect the contemplated structure. 7. A great majority of the residents of the city will be satisfied by the selection of the site named."

A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

Whether large or small, your house will require a heating apparatus of some kind. It will pay you to put in a really good hot air furnace. The

has no superior. Perfectly self-cleaning, with fewest joints, free from dust and gas, largest radiating surface, heavy steel plate, drum casings, easy on fuel, and of superior durability, it will always give satisfaction. A descriptive circular will be mailed upon application.

FIDELITY HOT AIR RANGE WITH HORIZONTAL BOILER.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."

The Water Mills of the World

Are grinding away, and the water is passing under the very noses of thousands whose grists wait and wait everlastingly because their owners don't catch on. It would take this whole paper to recount the opportunities lost by those who peg away without profitable results because of the want of mental discernment.

$5 per year expended for a subscription to this Journal represents the very acme of business wisdom, for it saves $500 per year in wear and tear to both mind and body.

We are advertising at present a $16.50 Suit, Cutaway one of the shapes, the other, an easy Sack.

The Material.—Clay Diagonal Worsted. It will prove its goodness in its staying power—in its long wear.

We have made 1000 Suits to begin with. You know what a difference in price between building 400 houses and 4. It's the same in making 1000 suits, else we wouldn't sell it for $16.50.

Architect Notes.

T. Frank Miller, architect, 1221 Arch Street, has let to Benjamin C. Walker, of Germantown, the contract to erect the large house at Logan Station, previously fully described in this journal. It will be a combined store and dwelling for Benj. C. Patterson, and will be a model structure in its way.

The plans for erection of the factory of E. Heid, on Northeast corner of Thirteenth and Callowhill Streets, is still on boards for estimate. These drawings were prepared by J. F. Stuckert, architect, 524 Walnut St., Phila., and, who will supervise its construction. The structure will be five stories high, of brick, stone and iron construction; interior will have freight lifts, electric work, general machinery, steam power, speaking tubes and all modern conveniences.

At the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, held on the 12th inst., much interest was shown in the proposed work of the Chapter for the coming year, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year; T. P. Chandler, Jr., President; Walter Cope and Wilson Eyre, Vice Presidents; Adrian W. Smith, Secretary, and William C. Prichett, Jr., Treasurer; these with Frank Miles Day and J. C. Worthington forming the Executive Committee.

Otto C. Wolf, architect and engineer, N. E. cor. Broad and Arch Streets, Phila., has made plans for an enlargement of the brewery of C. Schmidt & Sons, at Second and Edward Streets. The structure will be four stories high, to be of red brick with granite trimmings and fitted for the storing of beer. The roof will be of terra cotta tile work with slag covering. A fine cupola will ornament the top of the structure with a galvanized cornice. The contract has been awarded to L. R. Elliott, of 1700 North Eighth Street.

The plans of Architect Frank R. Watson for the new church building and chapel of the West York Street Methodist Episcopal Congregation, Rev. Henry Fraukland, pastor, show spacious buildings, in the Romanesque style, with a total capacity to accommodate about 1200 people. The church proper is to be on the Southwest corner of Seventeenth and York Streets, but work upon it is not to be commenced until the chapel is finished. The church will have a tower, about 90 feet high, and two entrances. The interior will be in the amphitheatre form, with the pulpit on the west side and seats for about 600 people. The chapel or Sunday school, on which work has been commenced, will accommodate about the same number of people, and will have, in addition, a gallery.

The chapel has received special attention from the architect, being arranged with a nave and aisles, the latter so set off that they can be made to serve for class rooms or be thrown into the main body of the building, making one large room. It is also intended to have this part of the structure so finished that, when the church is built, both church and chapel can be thrown together if occasion requires. The gallery in the chapel is to be stepped up, so that the pulpit can be seen from any point. The chapel is to be about 62 by 65.10 feet, and chapel and church, when finished, 65.10 by 132 feet. Port Deposit stone, with Indiana limestone trimmings, are to be used in the building. We noted this work some time since.

Edw. K. Mull, architect, 304 Schuylkill Avenue, Reading, Pa., has prepared plans for the following buildings, to be erected in that city during the Fall and Winter: Plans for a block of nine three-story brick residences, with brownstone trimmings, to occupy a site on the east side of Schuylkill Avenue, south of Buttonwood. The buildings will have an aggregate frontage of 144 feet and a depth of 60 feet. All the latest improved conveniences will be introduced. Walton A. Griesemer is the owner. Also, for the same owner, plans for a four-story brick store and flat building, 20x85 feet, to stand at the southeast corner of Schuylkill Avenue and Buttonwood Street. The building will be finished throughout in hard woods and all modern conveniences, including electric work, steam heat, etc., introduced. Plans for a first-class double mansion, to be erected on Fairview Street, east of Ninth, for Philip D. Lauman. The building will be of pressed brick and frame work, 35x60 feet, two stories in height, with slate cottage roof. It will be surrounded by ornamental verandas, and fitted up in a sumptuous manner with electric work, dumb waiters, stained and plate glass, hot water heating and special sanitary arrangements. Cost about $9,000. Also plans for a handsome two-story brick residence, with ornamental slate roof, to be erected on the west side of Tenth Street, north of Douglass, for John Roehrig, of the firm of Stocker & Roehrig, brewers. The interior throughout will be finished in hard wood, and the whole fitted with all modern conveniences, such as steam heat, electric work, tile work, dumb waiter, cabinet mantels, etc. Also plans for a block of ten two-story pressed brick residences, with mansard roofs, to be erected on the west side of Sixteenth Street, north of Perkiomen Avenue, for Augustus B. Potts. Each building will have a frontage of 18 feet and a depth of 65 feet. All the latest conveniences will be introduced. Also plans for a three-story brick and stone stable and carriage house, 28x40 feet, to stand on the east side of Ash Street, north of Buttonwood. All the latest improved stable fixtures and carriage elevator will be introduced. Robert E. Bruce is the owner. Plans for a three-story brick and terra-cotta residence, on the east side of Church Street, south of Walnut, for Jacob Kline. Slate roof, galvanized iron cornice, steam heat, etc. Also drawings for two three-story brick dwellings, with brownstone trimmings, on the east side of Fourth Street, north of Elm, for Anthony C. Seiders. Each building will be 18x70 feet, with handsome verandas in front and rear. Also plans for a first-class Philadelphia pressed brick residence, to occupy a site on the west side of Fifth Street, south of Woodward, for Mrs. Ida Bruce. The edifice will be 20x95 feet, three stories in height, with tile roof and copper cornice. The front will be elaborately trimmed with brownstone and ornamental terra cotta. The interior throughout will be finished in quartered oak, and fitted with hot water heating, plate and art glass, marble work, tile work, cabinet mantels, electric appliances, laundry fixtures, dumb waiter, etc., to make the whole complete in every particular. Also drawings for a handsome two-story brick and brownstone residence, with slate cottage roof, to be erected at the Southwest Corner of Tenth and Windsor Streets, for Thomas Pfaffman. The building will be 20x98 feet, with oriel tower at corner. Hot water heating and all other modern conveniences will be introduced. Also plans for a three-story store and flat building, 24x90 feet, at the Northwest corner of Tenth and Spring Streets, for John H. Schaeffer. The two street fronts will be of pressed and ornamental brick, with Berks County brownstone trimmings. Mr. Mull has also just finished plans and specifications for the following out of town buildings. Plans for a first-class two-story brick and brownstone mansion, 35x60 feet, to be erected in the borough of Orwigsburg, Schuylkill County, Pa., for George C. Diefenderfer, of the firm of H. S. Albright & Co., shoe manufacturers. The roof will be of ornamental slate; cornices of galvanized iron. Also drawings for a two-story double brick residence, with brownstone trimmings, to be built in the borough of Womelsdorf, Berks County, Pa., for H. F. Fidler, of the firm of H. F. Fidler & Co., cigar manufacturers. The building will be 32x58 feet, with ornamental slate roof. Also plans for a two-story brick mansion, 32x62 feet, to be erected at Sinking Spring, Berks County, Pa., for Lewis W. Gring. Slate or tile cottage roof. Also plans for a three-story brick and terra cotta residence, with tin roof. To be built at Hamburg, Pa., for John Rupp, Jr. All the above will be finished in hard wood and provided with all the latest improved modern conveniences.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y, OCT. 19, 1892.

THERE should be no delay in acting upon the suggestion of Director of Public Safety Beitler that steps be taken at once for the purchase or lease of Tinicum Island for a quarantine station. The Director's argument is backed up by Mayor Stuart, and every thinking citizen of Philadelphia probably agrees with these public officials. Now is the time to act in this matter, and not when some contagious or infectious disease has appeared in our midst, demanding instant attention and isolation.

WE are in receipt of Hendricks' Architects' and Builders' Guide and Contractors' Directory of America, a work replete with information and invaluable as a work of reference. It is a complete directory of all the construction industries of the country and contains over 150,000 names, addresses and business classifications, comprising builders and contractors of material in building and kindred industries. It also contains a full list of the manufacturers of and dealers in everything employed in the manufacture of material and apparatus used in these industries, and is, in fact, an epitome of knowledge pertaining to industrial and construction work.

Architect Notes.

James Windrim, architect, has prepared prospective plans for a new office building fourteen stories high, and which is now being considered by General Louis Wagner and officials of the Third National Bank at the southwest corner of Broad and Market Streets. It is understood the management is now trying to purchase additional ground for this proposed structure, and if successful no doubt it will be put into execution at once. The plans show walls of buff brick with terra cotta and limestone trimmings. Furnished with all recent improvements, elevators, electric work, steam heat, best of sanitary work and improved ventilation, etc. Nothing definite has been done in the matter in the way of contracts.

Contractors R. B. Malone & Co. have commenced work on the abutments for an iron bridge on Manayunk Avenue, over Shur's Lane, Manayunk. The abutments will be 45 feet high, and will be faced with blocks of dressed brown-stone. On the north abutment a flight of steps will lead to the avenue above. The bridge will be 50 feet wide. The stone work will cost $18,000, and the iron work $6000.

Mr. Feilding, architect, 110 South Fourth Street, Phila., has forwarded plans to contractors for estimating on rebuilding residence Southeast corner of Broad and Spruce Streets, Phila. The structure will be a five-story one, covering the site from Spruce to Budd Street, in rear. Material to be used will be Indiana limestone and faced Pompeian brick, the upper walls to be stucco work. The interior will be largely finished in hard woods, best sanitary work, electric wiring and best of modern conveniences. Also, plans are being estimated on for alteration and addition to building No. 17 South Ninth Street. These will consist of new back buildings extending to street in rear, also, general interior work of the best in the main structure.

B. F. Hurd, architect, 679 Broad St., Newark, N. J., reports the following: Plans for a dwelling for J. Alex. Brown, to be erected at Glen Ridge, Essex Co., N. J., at a cost of $5,500. It will be two-and-a-half stories high, frame, and handsomely finished; also plans for alterations to three brick dwellings for Albert L. Babcock, of Newark, N. J. These improvements will cost about $4000; also plans for an addition of a library to the dwelling of Dr. J. Allen Osmun of Glen Ridge, Essex Co., N. J., to cost $1500; also plans for a handsome flat to be erected for Mrs. Caroline Keller, High Street, Newark, N. J., at a cost of $11,000. This structure will be three stories high, of buff brick and stone and handsomely finished on interior, modern improvements and conveniences; also plans for a store to be erected at the corner of James and Boyden Streets for Mrs. L. M. Dunlow, at a cost of $3,200.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Einwechter & Sons have taken out a permit to build a one-story boiler house, 27 by 30 feet, on the north side of York Street, east of Thompson.

A number of lots at Stone Harbor, Avalon Beach, N. J., have recently been purchased by owners, who intend building cottages thereon during the Winter season. Thos. R. Fox, of Daniel M. Fox & Sons, Room 40, Bulfinch Building, Phila., is the selling agent.

The Whilldin Pottery Company is to build a three-story brick building, 32 by 58 feet, for its own use, on Wharton Street, north side, west of Seventh.

The Germantown Tool Works is to build a one-story brick blacksmith shop, 27½ by 50 feet, on the north side of Armat Street, east of Germantown Avenue.

The Reading Hardware Company of Reading, Pa., and 514 Commerce Street, Phila., will furnish the hardware to be used in the head house of the Reading Terminal at Twelfth and Market Streets. Wilson Bros. & Co., architects, made the selection.

Philip Haibach, contractor, Twenty-sixth and Thompson Streets, is to erect a brewery addition for Burg and Pfaender, on the east side of Thirty-third, south of Master Street. It will cost $25,000.

Kemp & Garrison, contractors, are to at once erect a fine large stable on the Protestant Episcopal Hospital grounds Front and Lehigh Avenue, to be of stone and brick and modern improvements on interior.

The ground for Strawbridge & Clothier's new factory, the site of the old Cresswell Iron Works, on Race Street, west of Eighth, has been transferred by David S. Cresswell to the firm for $50,800, subject to a ground rent of $72.

The Divinity school and parish house previously noted in our architectural columns have been started at Forty-seventh and Kingsessing Avenue. These structures are to cost about $25,000, and be built chiefly of stone, slate roofs, and interior will be finished in hard woods. Thomas Little & Son, 217 Pear Street, are the contractors.

It is now understood the Pennsylvania R. R. is purchasing the entire block of ground bounded by Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Filbert and Cuthbert Streets, for the purposes of an elevated storage yard for cars, and which will at that point widen considerably the shifting surface, while the ground floor will be utilized for storage and other purposes.

The Finance Committee of City Councils has recommended the acceptance of the contract of Filbert & Porter, for the work upon the Schuetzen Park Reservoir. The Commonwealth Trust Company becomes the security. This will likely end the matter barring the settlement of a legal technicality raised by other parties interested and which will be settled at an early day.

President Bucholz of the Quaker City Elevated Railway, on the 13th inst., laid before Mr. Windrim, Director of Public Works, the plans drawn for the construction of the great enterprise. As soon as the matter of examination has been gone through the work will be pushed to completion. The foundations for the columns are to be laid in concrete with huge cap stones upon which will rest the iron structural work. The road will be erected in the centre of Market Street its entire length, and is a perfect fac-simile of that upon Ninth Avenue in New York City.

Ludwig Lambrecht, builder, 3256 North Fifth Street, will at once begin the erection of fourteen two-story houses on Lambrecht Street, west of Fifth. All to be of good press brick and best interior work and fittings.

The P. R. R. and owners of property at Fortyninth Street and vicinity are about to construct a handsome bridge at that point, and have laid out a grand boulevard along the railroad. It is also proposed to erect handsome residences fronting on the thoroughfare, and ornament both sides of the street in a handsome manner with trees, flowers and artificial stone pavements.

McKellar, Smiths & Jordan, type founders, on Sansom Street, above Sixth, are now casting about for a site upon which they propose to erect the largest foundry in the world. This is done because their present site will in a short time be occupied by the United States Government for a new Mint, so that it becomes an actual necessity to secure a good location at once.

The first Fall meeting of the Lumbermen's Exchange was held on the 13th inst., in their rooms, 18 to 24 South Seventh Street. After an elaborate banquet was served the business meeting was opened by President Woelpper, who stated that the special business would be the discussion of the question how to prevent frauds in the lumber trade. Reports from the committees showed that the exchange was in a prosperous condition.

Lewis Havens, Girard Building, has plans on hand for the erection of the new dental college at Eleventh and Clinton Streets. The structure will be 100 by 115 feet, three stories high, and built of brick and stone work. The first floor will contain the offices of the dean and two lecture rooms, and the second will also have two lecture rooms, while the third will be used for dissecting and manufacturing purposes. Estimates for work in detail will be invited by Mr. Havens in a few days.

A handsome bank building will shortly be erected in Tacony for the accommodation of the citizens of that suburb. The structure will be 58 x 80 feet and three stories high, stone and brick, with considerable iron work. It will also be fitted with vaults and safes and best interior bank work. The second story will be occupied by the Disston Library, and the third probably for social purposes. Magistrate South, Hamilton Disston and other citizens are interested in its success.

An urgent appeal has been sent by Director of Public Safety Beitler, and warmly endorsed by Mayor Stuart, to City Councils recommending that a new or additional quarantine be established with suitable quarters, steam and other appliances, at Little Tinicum Island. This is done as a matter of precaution to prevent the spread of contagious disease from foreign or domestic trade. If suitable buildings and a hospital are erected here it will entirely isolate the institution from the main land.

A hundred stockholders of the Iron Hall Building Association of this city, have met, elected a new board of trustees, resolved to reorganize and erect the Iron Hall building upon their $85,000 lot on Broad Street above Arch. The trustees elected were J. D. Blackwood, A. R. Elsasser, W. Miller, P. N. K. Schwenk and Colonel H. G. Williams, of the former board, and J. W. Albizzati, J. Hines, F. S. Newman, M. F. Van Buskirk, O. H. Bair, J. Munkenbeck and A. F. Reger, new members. Receiver George S. Graham admits that this property cannot be claimed as an Iron Hall asset, since it was bought by a company separately chartered.

In regard to the matter of receding the buildings on Fourth and Fifth streets, from Market to Minor Streets, we find that the measure will entirely cut out on Fifth Street, D. L. Kettlers, Henry Langdorf, John Fox and Blaumberg's Cafe; while upon Fourth Street, the effect is about the same upon Quint's Rubber Stamp Works, S. G. Vottelot's Saloon and the tobacco store of Chas. H. Vendig, besides a number of other firms who sub-rent. At the present time there seems to be no defined movement on foot or architectural plans ordered by any of the owners, and no contracts have as yet been awarded for the necessary work. The area gained by the above will be 26 feet on Fifth Street and 17 feet on Fourth. Work must be done at once.

Builders in the Twenty-second Ward have been busy during the past few months clearing up old work and preparing for new. Work being finished includes a large dye house for Alfred Gommersall and Thomas Spencer, at Penn and Belfield Streets, and the erection of eight houses on Boyer Street between Mount Airy and Mount Pleasant Avenues by Ashton S. #### Through Delaware.

The Commission appointed by the Legislatures of Pennsylvania and Delaware to have in charge the selection of a site and the removal of the present Lazaretto has made careful inquiries and viewed a number of sites. It is the prevailing opinion that Bombay Hook Island, in the State of Delaware, offers unusual advantages for such a purpose. ## A Few Quiet Words with House Builders and Owners.

If the kitchen of your house is small, you need to economize room. You can do this by using a range with elevated boiler, such as the

"FIDELITY."

It will reduce the cost of plumbing also. We make them with seven inch or eight inch boiler holes, ovens on right or left of fire, with or without hot closets, and also to heat an upper room. Splendid bakers. Hot water in abundance. The latest and best of their class.

Excelsior Double Oven Range.

If the kitchen is roomy and large, cooking capacity is sought. You will want a brick-set range with a vertical circulating boiler, set in the usual way. The

are acknowledged all over Philadelphia in which city and vicinity some 75,000 have been sold as the standard brick-set range. They are furnished with ventilated ovens, oven-door pedals, rocking grates, and all modern improvements. Made in seven and eight inch sizes; single, double and hot-air ranges. Send for descriptive pamphlet, entitled "PERFECT COOKING."
